CRIMES AND ACCIDENTS.

Shocking Railway Accident---Wife Poisoner Caught in Wisconsin.

The Cronin Grand Jury and How Hoosiers Enjoyed Sunday.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., July 22.—A shocking accident occurred this morning on the Philadelphia and Reading railroad near Mahanoy City. Three boys, sons respectively of Charles D. Kaiser and Wadlinger, prominent business men of Mahanoy City, and of J. A. Reilly, ex-recorder of Schuylkill county, of Shenandoah, were driving in a buggy from Mahanoy City to Frackville. As they approached the railroad crossing a passenger train passed, closely followed by the little combination engine and car "transit." Wadlinger, who was driving, apparently not observing the "transit," attempted to cross. As soon as the passenger train had passed the transit struck the buggy, smashing it into splinters, killing the horse and terribly injuring the boys. Wadlinger was thrown forty feet and shockingly mangled and instantly killed.

THE HOOSIER SUNDAY.

A Disgraceful "Picnic" of the Roughs of Indianapolis.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 22.—A prize fighter's picnic, managed by four sports of Western celebrity, attracted a crowd of 500 of the waist element of Hoosiertown to a grove a few miles distant from Indianapolis yesterday. Everybody was drunk and many were disfigured before the brutal festivities were brought to a close. It was the most disgraceful affair that has occurred here in many years. Several robberies added to the excitement of the numerous fights. Two of the features of the occasion were so-called sparring matches closely approaching prize fights. There was no interference by the police.

What Will the Grand Jury Do?

CHICAGO, July 22.—[Special.]—The most intense interest exists as to the action that may be taken by the regular grand jury which convened in the criminal court building today. State's Attorney Longenechner avers that he has no additional evidence directly implicating any other parties in the Cronin murder case save those already indicted and behind the bars of Cook county jail. It is altogether immaterial to the members of the grand jury whether the state is in possession of additional evidence or not, and save when expressly requested to be present neither the state's attorney or any of his assistants have any means of informing themselves as to what action the grand jury may decide upon taking and must themselves await the instructions of the grand jury.

Proved She Was Not Dead.

NEW YORK, July 22.—On July 12 a mysterious young woman committed suicide at a Third avenue lodging house. She was at first supposed to be Mrs. Kitty Doane, of Toronto, but later it was discovered that that was not her name. All efforts to identify the suicide failed until yesterday, Wm. Reynolds, a young tinsmith, called at police headquarters and stated that the young girl was his cousin, Kate McCormack, of Cleveland, who ran away with a sewing machine agent named Kibler, some months ago. The police thought that the question of identity was settled. That they were mistaken was proved this morning by Mrs. Kibler, nee Kate McCormack, of Cleveland, walking to headquarters and denying that she had committed suicide, and telling the police that Reynolds was troubled with an awful imagination.

A Wife Poisoner Caught.

NEENAH, Wis., July 22.—The sheriff of Waupaca county arrested Ferdinand Knoack at Kakauna Saturday night on a warrant charging him with poisoning his wife. Knoack is a German about 40 years old and owns a farm at Springwater. He was married last May, about a week ago the wife was taken suddenly ill and died. Her stomach was examined and the doctors concluded that poison caused her death. Knoach disappeared from home as soon as his wife was buried. His first wife died suddenly last April and it is thought that he poisoned her also. Knoack instructed his two small sons to tell anyone who asked them how their stepmother died that they saw her swallow some pills about an hour before her death. The boys did not see her swallow anything and told what their father said to a neighbor, who immediately swore out a warrant.

Two Ocean Wrecks.

LONDON, July 22.—The British steamer Altnacraig from Ioilo for America with sugar, struck a rock near the Island of Palawan, and filled with water. She will probably be a total loss. The crew have arrived at Manila. The Altnacraig is an iron screw steamer of 1872 tons. The American ship Rosie Welt, Capt. Welt, from New Castle, N. S. W., for Singapore, has been wrecked in Bramble Bay straits.

Haytian Warfare.

NEW YORK, July 22.—The steamship Alene brings the news that on July 11 Hypotite attempted to take Port au Prince. On the 12th inst., he also made several assaults, but was repulsed each time with loss. Subsequently he returned to Croix des Boquets, a point about nine miles from Port au Prince, where he is now encamped.

Two Children Killed.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 22.—Tommy and Agnes Williams, aged 5 and 3, were burned to death by the explosion of an oil can last night. The mother had left the house a few minutes on an errand, during which, the boy secured the oil can, placed it in the middle of the floor and set the oil on fire.

A Third Trial Needed.

WASHINGTON July 22.—The board of officers detailed to conduct the official trial of the gunboat Petrel Saturday, the second official test, will recommend to Secretary Tracy that a third trial be had. The trial Saturday was a failure due wholly to the inexperience of some and failure of others of the firemen, the consequence being that the vessel was unable to keep up the forced draught desired. Some of the men had been engaged on the vessel during the trials of Tuesday and Thursday, and were soon utterly worn out, while the new hands were incompetent to do the extra amount of work thus forced upon the men.

Can Pass Duty Free.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—Secretary Windom has instructed the collector of customs to Cape Vincent, N. Y., to extend all courtesies consistent with the interests of the revenue to the members of the American Canoe association on the occasion of their annual camp and meeting from August 10 to 23 next, on Stave Island, just across the northern boundary line.

A Circus Sea Lion.

MENASHA, Wis., July 22.—During the past two years people have at various times claimed to have seen a sea serpent in Lake Winnebago. Others who saw the alleged monster said it was a whale. In one or two instances affidavits to the truth of the claim were made, it is now found that there was some ground for the stories last Saturday afternoon. While two boys were spearing frogs near the lake, they saw the monster in a shallow pool. Assistance was summoned and a sea lion, eleven feet long, was captured. It had escaped from a circus here four years ago and the fact had been forgotten.

The Cherokees Do Not Want to Sell.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., July 22.—From dispatches from Indian Territory it is learned that the proposed sale of the Cherokee strip to the United States is likely to fail. The United States commissioners Wilson and Hartraft will reach Talequah the 25th and Chief Mayes will doubtless call a special session of the Cherokee legislature to consider their proposition, and also the offer of the live stock company which now holds the strip under a lease. The Cherokee claim to hold a government patent for the strip and say they must have a big price if they sell.

The Single House Idea.

BISMARCK, N. D., July 22.—[Special]—The North Dakota constitutional convention reassembled this morning. It has before it for consideration and perhaps final determination the proposition to have the legislative power vested in one body, and the general conviction is that the recommendation is likely to prevail.

The members of the Cherokee Indian commission are holding a conference at St. Louis today. They are en route to the Indian Territory, and expect to reach Tahlequah, the capital of the Cherokee nation, before the end of this week.

When he fell, the regiment was falling back, and fearing that what was left of the colors would fall into the hands of the enemy, he tore them from the staff and concealed them inside his shirt. Another member, on seeing him fall, ran back and got the staff, so that the rebels did not get that. Bloomer was a prisoner for a short time, but was recaptured in a subsequent charge by our troops. The rebels did not discover the flag on Sam's person, so he brought it out of the fight all safe and preserves it, neatly framed at his home. A Marine Beauty.

Capt. Nelson Gonyaw's face wore a happy expression as his beautiful craft, the schooner Twin Sisters, of Bay City, was made fast to the Northwestern dock this morning. A trimmer, stauncher craft than his vessel never sailed the lakes. Twin Sisters is 200 feet keel, 215 over all, 35 feet beam, 14 feet 3 inches depth. She has six hatches, is diagonally steel strapped, has 7 inches bilge, and deck frames but 18 inches apart. Her captain is Nelson Gonyaw; mate, Lewis Gorham. She carries three masts and has steel wire standing rigging. Her sail spread is 1800 yards. Her owner is Capt. Ben. Boutelle, of Bay City, and the vessel is named after his wife Amelia, and her twin sister Cornelia. The boat has an *A-1 rating. She carries 1700 tons of coal on 13 feet 8 inches draft. Her cabin is elegantly finished. She has extra staterooms for invited guests. She will carry about 1600 tons of ore. She was built at East Saginaw by Cheslow Wheeler and was launched June 2.

THE "BIG FOUR" MEET.

They Will Openly Ship Dressed Beef Into Minnesota Next Month.

The "Big Four" have met, discussed and settled the dressed beef question, as far as they are concerned for all time. They will begin to buck the Minnesota dressed meat law at once, and their Duluth agents have been given possession of the facts. A few days ago at Chicago Messrs. Armour, Swift and Silberhorn held a conference. The meeting was strictly private, no one allowed inside Mr. Armour's office, in which the session was held, but those directly concerned. After the conference "confidential" circulars were sent out to all Minnesota agents, informing them of the result of the conference, and further stating that they could expect consignments of dressed beef, as eminent council had been engaged to defend their case and that the most eminent legal experts had submitted the opinion that the law could not be enforced.

The inspection law has received another set back, this time in Colorado. Judge Stone, in rendering a decision in the case of the state vs. Julius Schmidt, in which the defendant was accused of shipping beef into the state, contrary to law, says: "While I find it a necessity to decide this case in favor of the state and therefore must fine the defendent in this action, I do so because this is an important matter, one which only the supreme court can render a satisfactory and final decision." In this case a bill of exceptions was rendered, which Judge Stone allowed and the matter will come up for a final test in the Colorado supreme court, which sets at Denver in October. It is the opinion of nearly all Denver lawyers that the case will be decided adversely to the state.

FROM WEST DULUTH.

Council and School Board Made Things Warm and Lively.

The General News From Duluth's Manufacturing Section.

At the council meeting held on Saturday night last a communication was received from Contractor Libbe requesting an extension of time on his Central avenue contract. An estimate of $5000 for work already performed was allowed. The petition for the improvement of Grand avenue was referred back for an extension of the limits. The recorder was ordered to advertise at once for bids for sidewalks on Central and Second street south. The Central avenue walk is to be 18 feet and the Second street 12 feet. The resignation of President Boyd is held over and a special meeting will be called to consider it. The committee from the Chamber of Commerce to consult in regard to purchasing apparatus for the fire department will furnish an estimate of what is considered necessary The matter of furnishing lights by the West Duluth Electric Light and Power company was again postponed.

The school meeting held at the Oneota schoolhouse on Saturday night was one of the most exciting events that Oneota has ever experienced. Over 150 votes were polled. There seemed to be an idea prevalent that the polls would be open until 9 o'clock, and a large number of voters were disappointed. The result would not have been materially different, as it was evident that Foreman Keen had a very large majority of 169 votes polled. E. H. Hall, clerk of the school board, announced that the following requisitions for the coming year needed the sanction of the meeting: Teachers' salaries, $6000; janitors', $1500; fuel and light, $1000; interest account, $1000. The selection of school sites, all ratified, of the meeting were as follows: Eight lots in Hunters Grassy Point addition, donated by J. C. & R. M. Hunter on condition that a $6000 school building be erected there; one acre, donated by Graff & Frisbee, in section 15; two lots adjoining the present school house in West Duluth, First division, purchased. The sum of $250 is now in hand for forming school libraries. This amount was considered insufficient, and the matter was laid over for a year. Cashier Smith made a motion that the treasurer be instructed to advertise for bids for interest, which was lost.

AT SUPERIOR.

The Strike Still On—Increased Force—Imported Labor.

Yesterday seemed unusually quiet in the city and nothing occurred to remind the citizens that a strike was on. It was but the lull before the storm, and by 9 o'clock this morning a mob of 300 strikers started over the scenes of their former triumphs. Contractor Anderson has posted a notice stating that all men who returned to work today would be retained, all who did not were discharged. A dozen men were at work. They threw down their shovels upon an order from the strikers. They went toward Belknap, reaching that street the laborers employed on the opera house were forced to quit. Thatcher & Wilson, the avenue contractors had a small crew of men who fled when they saw the mob. Mayor McRae appeared and a small squad of troops halted near by. The mayor ordered the strikers to disperse, but they were not disposed to obey. It seemed as if the mayor had stood enough of low insults. He contented himself, however, by arresting four General Griffin who had been with the command at Conners Point, rode hurriedly up. There was no mistaking his disposition and trouble was averted only by the strikers moving on at a command of the mayor as suggested by the general. They dispersed at once. The St. Paul and Pacific Coal company is unloading the schooner Iron City with twenty-four men imported from Minneapolis, a squad of thirty soldiers guarding them. Contractor Anderson has telegraphed for men and Dear & Hayes will have new men tomorrow if the old ones do not go to work. Thirty special police, some of them mounted, were sworn in today.

The total number of men arrested is eighteen; nine of them are out on bail of $500. The trial will be the 26th. One of the men out on bail is Andrew Ringland, who was driver of the hook and ladder company. His star was taken off Saturday by the chief of police. A meeting of business men is called for the purpose of organizing a business mens brigade.

Thomas Wilson, B. L. Pennington and Harvey D. Goulder have been appointed delegates to the waterways convention from the Vessel Owners association.

E. J. McMahon and Miss Cecilia Lafitte will be married at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning at the St. Francis Catholic church. They will depart on a bridal tour through the East.

THE ORE MARKET.

Speaking of the current outlook for the iron ore trade The Cleveland Iron Trade Review says:

Despite oft repeated assertions there is still considerable activity in the way of sales, and there is not a dealer who cannot report frequent sales of from 5000 to 10,000 tons. One reason for this seeming discrepancy is found in the fact that a great many mines are producing more ore than the original estimate called for, while in other cases dealers who had intended to hold back until the fag-end of the season, have concluded to take no chances and to sell while there was a market. The first of August will see 3,000,000 tons delivered at Lake Erie ports, leaving another three millions to be brought down. The total amount of ores sold to date is variously estimated at from 4,500,000 to 5,000,000. Out of so large a production as this year will show, there is usually carried over, even in the best of seasons, about half a million tons, divided into so many lots as to make it impossible to sell it. If this is a fair estimate, there is still to be accounted for from 500,000 to 1,000,000 tons of marketable ores, but a diligent study of the various mines fails to show any such quantity of ore to be covered. The inevitable conclusion to be adduced from this statement is either that more ore has been sold than the dealers are willing to admit, or that the production will fall far short of the total amount estimated.

Money for the construction of the Duluth and Winnipeg has been secured without going out of this country, as was feared might be necessary, and the road is now a fact of the near future.

On another column will be found some interesting figures taken from the city assessor's books. A comparison of the items of personal property contained in the report, with the figures of 1888, shows a remarkable increase in the valuation, being in round numbers $680,519. The figures of 1889 are almost double those of 1887.

Congressman Comstock is doubtless thankful that he was allowed to leave Duluth without having completely surrendered to the office-seekers. He was pounced upon by the aspirants for the several federal offices which will in the course of time become vacant by the expiration of the terms of the incumbents, or their friends, and there was not probably an hour during his stay that there was not a seductive tale of the merits of some one of them being poured into his ear.

A New York financial writer has analyzed the present condition of the national debt, with the satisfactory conclusion that in seven years time it will be extinguished if the present rate of decrease is maintained. The interest bearing obligations of the United States now fall below $900,000,000. This does not include the Pacific railroad debt, which that road is expected to care for at maturity, nor some $25,000,000 of fractional currency in the treasury, which is not reckoned as available by the treasury statements.

Another great American industry has succumbed to the power of British gold. It is now stated on authority that the Otis Steel works of Cleveland has been bought by a syndicate from over the sea. The price paid is to aggregate $3,000,000 of which half is cash, and half is bonds. The new owners have applied for the issuance of $3,000,000 first and second debentures. The Otis works were started twenty-five years ago, on small scale for the manufacture of "Otis steel" plates. They now employ 1000 men, cover twenty-five acres of ground and turn out annually 100,000 tons of steel plate and axles.

The Herald has received from the office of the comptroller of the currency an abstract of reports made to the comptroller showing the condition of the national banks of Minnesota at the close of business May 13. There were then fifty-seven national banks in the state, with a capital of $14,005,000, a surplus of $2,604,802.39 and undivided profits amounting to $2,069,654.23. In these banks there are individual deposits of $25,275,811.56, government deposits of $657,227.27, and deposits of United States disbursing officers of $286,091.73. The loans and discounts were $36,975,775.30; due from reserve agents $2,654,151.14; due from national banks, $1,154,955.52; due from state banks, $392,029.70.

The shadow of death and the stain of blood darkens America this year of our Lord, 1889. At the Conemaugh floods there was loss of life that sent a thrill of horror around the globe. Should the present record of murder be kept up a little longer, more people will have been slain in nine months of the year than died near Johnstown in those terrible days of June. And yet the nation is not stirred. In the first half of 1887 there were 867 murders, to July of 1888 941, while in the past six month 1547 souls have gone out, through the wounds made by the assassin. In the first half of the current month over 170 people have been stricken down, an average of nearly 400 a month. This stream of blood, this carnival of crime, this grim dance of death, is too terrible for words, too fearful to calmly contemplate. But the nation does not appear to notice the flow of blood. It is so general, the passion for killing breaking out in so many localities, that people are apparently habituated to it, and their moral sense is calloused. There is a need for sharper and sterner execution of the law, for the wiping out of a soft-brained sentimentality, and for a return to the old custom of a life for a life. Punishment should not be delayed, but should follow closely on the heels of crime, while the nation should go deeper at the causes of the fearful trouble. Our own state, our own section of the state in particular, has been very free from the stain of murder in the year.

The Marquette Journal turns its attention to The Herald because of a recent article in this paper on misapplied harbor funds. It says:

Because the government proposes to spend some money in improving Ontonagon's harbor, The Duluth Herald fairly froths at the mouth.

And proceeds to read one of its favorite lectures on Duluth. The fact is, The Herald instanced Ontonagon as a mere example of funds falsely spent, and did not refer to the bagatelle of $30,600 needed to "complete the project" but to the $300,000 used to dredge out a creek up which even now a boat of ten feet draft can scarcely go. It was not Ontonagon, which, bless its sleepy old heart, should have all it can get, but the system that caused The Herald's remarks. A system that will spend millions on millions in the improvement of some creek or private water power and will let some needed improvement, such as that at the Sault, or Marquette or Duluth suffer with insufficient and grudgingly given funds. It's all wrong and The Herald would reiterate that it needs revision, whether the bayous of the Lower Mississippi, the loggers and water power millers of Minneapolis or Appleton, the people of Ontonagon, or the sewerage system of Chicago, may suffer. Let the boards of government engineers in charge of harbors have the right, under certain limitations, to apportion river and harbor funds.

Fred Douglass, the recently appointed minister to Hayti, is not only the most famous, but he is one of the wealthiest colored men in the United States. His wealth is estimated at $300,000.

Dr. Sophia Kowalewski, professor in the University of Stockholm, was induced to pursue her mathematical studies by her husband, a famous Russian naturalist, who perceived her remarkable aptitude for that branch of learning.

DESTINY.

[Dora Read Goodale, in August Lippincott.]

I saw the bald cliff bathed in silver rain
While the parched fields stretched up their throats in vain;
Woe to the land whose unplucked ears have plued,—
Whose harvests waste, and never yield their kind!

Know you not, wise one, with what thankless toil
You pour your love out on a desert soil?
Still wars the heart if this be truth or no—
What the priests say—that God has willed it so.

SEEN AND HEARD.

"No, the days of legitimate circus business are over," said a grey-haired old timer, as he stood leaning against a prop pole in Wallace's circus last Saturday evening. "How is that?" I asked him. "Well," and he refit his pipe, "I'll tell you how it is. I've been in the business since '55. Yes, sir; thirty-four years ago I joined Van Amburgh's road circus, a mere lad, then, of 18. In the early days of the menagerie and circus, we went overland by rough roads, and could make perhaps fifteen miles a day. But I can give you a pointer that we had a circus and every performer was a star. Not much like these fakirs," pointing to the performers in the ring. "The horses we had, too, were thoroughbreds, and when they got into the ring they'd run like streaks of lightning. Now there were the Robinsons, the best bare-back riders that lived. With horses going a 2:40 gait they'd turn summersaults on the animals' bare backs, stand on their heads and do all those tricks; but then, they used to get paid for it.

* * *

"I don't believe there's a man in this show that gets over $75 a week; twenty years ago I drew $150 cool cases every seven days, and some of the boys used to get double that. Then, the advertising was a secondary matter; now, it is the whole performance. I belong to this show, but there's only a few people with us that's anything extra. Twenty-five years ago we had to give a good show or bust; today if you'll only lie enough in your advertising you'll come out all right."

The value of a woman's taste and refinement in railroad work is perhaps more fully illustrated in the case of Mrs. F. Green, wife of Superintendent Green, of the Northern Pacific, than in any other person in American railroad circles. When she went to Brainerd the grounds about the old general office, now the depot, were an eyesore to all residents as well as the traveling public. Then they were a dumping ground and the smell rose with a rankness that indicated the spot with unfailing accuracy. Now the place is a beauty spot, with beautiful walks, young trees, a profusion of flowers, an elegant rockery and a large bed of foliage plants arranged so as to form in the rich light and dark shadings an attractive station sign, of standard arrangement and proportions and about sixty feet long. The name Brainerd appears in dark relief in the center, while on the ends are the words "St. Paul 138 Miles," and "Tacoma 1800 Miles," all in flowers. Everyone notices it and carries away a pleasant memory of the place.

TEMPORA MUTANTUR.

[Walter Learned, in August Lippincott.]

Before the photograph was known,
Some artist limned this miniature,—
Your grandmamma; and one must own
Its likeness to yourself, I'm sure.

Yet, as I look upon it, dear,—
The curious dress, the banded hair,—
At first I say, How very queer!
And then I add, How very fair!

And here's your picture by its side,
Your latest photograph. The hat,
The dress, the gloves,—you know with pride
They're quite the mode, and all of that.

Serenely conscious of our art.
Before the camera you stood.
A rival belle must, in her heart,
Own that the picture's very good.

But fashions change. In years to come,
They'll say, How queer the dress, the hair!
Some call it very quaint, and some Quite odd, but all must call it fair.

The Excursion Line.

Since its advent into the Northwestern field about three years ago, "The Burlington" has come to the front as the favorite line for large excursion parties. In June 1888, this line carried the Northwestern delegates to the National democratic convention at St. Louis by special train, to their entire satisfaction. In the same month "The Burlington" was the people's line to the National republican convention at Chicago, carrying in four days over 4000 delegates and visitors to that gathering. The Knights of Pythias also selected it as their line to the supreme lodge meeting at Cincinnati. This year the teachers of Minnesota and the Northwest selected "The Burlington" as the official route to their great meeting at Nashville. The reason is that this is the superior route for all large parties. For tickets and rates, address W. J. C. Kenyon, general passenger agent, Chicago, Burlington and Northern railroad, St. Paul, Minn., or call on your local agent.

President Harrison's Double.

President Harrison, it is said, has a double residing in New York. This presidential counterfeit, it is said, would be taken for the chief magistrate anywhere, and has already been the innocent cause of numerous blunders. It is not at all strange, however, because it is said that nature creates everything in pairs, and that every man has his double somewhere. The Saint Paul and Duluth railroad, however, has no double. It stands alone as the best, shortest and most thoroughly equipped route to and from St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth, West Superior and other points North and Northwest. Circulars furnished cheerfully by A. B. Plough, General Passenger Agent, St. Paul, Minn.

THE MARQUETTE REGION.

Notes of Iron Ore Trade From the Marquette Ore District.

Figures of Output and News of the Various Lake Mines.

ISHPEMING, Mich., July 22—[Special.]—Another week's shipments of ore will bring the grand total of lake shipments of ore for 1889 up to 3,000,000 tons as against some 1,800,000 tons at a corresponding date of 1888. Shipments are already more than 1,000,000 tons in excess of the output of last season up to July 22. There is a possibility that the production of the present season may exceed the 6,000,000 ton limit by several hundred thousand tons, but it is thought by the best judges that there will be a heavy shrinkage in the volume of weekly shipments by the middle of August, perhaps earlier.

Ore was struck in a cross-cut of the Aragon shaft at Norway, on the Menominee range, a few days ago. This shaft was projected over two years ago, on the townsite of Norway, and sinking was begun in 1887. A very large amount of money has been required to prosecute the work, but the vein of ore recently cut is of sufficient size and purity to make it probable that all the money invested will be returned ten fold. Another great work has been begun recently on the Menominee range. It is to iron mining what the Tamarack shaft was to copper mining four years ago. The Hamilton Ore company has begun work on a shaft which is to be sunk 2000 feet to the ore. The shaft will be of full working size, and its sinking will require the expenditure of an immense amount of money, but since the successful completion of the Tamarack shaft no feat appears too great for accomplishment by the mining engineers.

It is semi-officially given out that the Mitwaukee and Northern railroad, which is now shipping ore from Gladstone, hauling it for the last forty miles over the track of the Soo line, will next year build a branch line to Gladstone and erect ore docks there. In this case the Soo line will build branch tracks to some of the Menominee range mines, and also haul to Gladstone. Ore shipments to date from the Gladstone docks are slightly over 20,000 tons and may reach 75,000 tons before the close of the season. The present ore dock of the Soo road at Gladstone is the smallest on the upper lakes and Gladstone cannot cut much of a figure as an ore shipping port until its present facilities for handling ore are very materially increased. The Soo ore dock will probably be enlarged during the and coming winter, but owing to the great depth of water in the Gladstone harbor the dock can be extended only at great cost.

The competition of half a dozen lines of railroad for the ore carrying business is slowly but surely reducing rail freights, and the building of powerful vessels for the ore trade by the Cleveland, Lake Superior and Minnesota Iron company must as certainly reduce lake freights. There is not the profit in mining ore that there was ten or even five years ago, and when the miners are earning less the carriers must also be content to earn less on each ton of ore hauled by lake or rail.

Special Timber Agent N. B. Wharton, who was appointed at St. Cloud under the Cleveland administration, has received the intelligence that his services are no longer necessary.

An examination into one of the most mysterious cases of murder or suicide known in the annals of Blue Earth county is going on at Mankato. It is the case of William Lentz, charged with the murder of John G. Schwartz, in Pleasant Mount township, on the morning of July 10.

WITH THE GOOD PEOPLE.

The Bible Society Has Its Reunion---A Boiled Down Sermon.

Temperance Coventions---A Musical Treat---At a Funeral.

Last night was held the annual meeting of the St. Louis County Bible society. Ministers present were, Dr. Ringland, of the Presbyterian church, Rev. C. S. H. Dunn, of the Methodist church, Rev. E. M. Noyes, of the Congregational church, and Rev. Mr. Clark. Mr. Belknap, agent of the New York branch of the American society, was also present. M. J. Carpenter was elected moderator. The minutes of the last meeting, held at the Presbyterian church, a year ago, were read by Secretary M. W. Lewis. Treasurer W. S. Woodbridge then read the financial report, which showed a balance of over $100 in the treasury. The report of the colporteur was read and embraced St. Louis, Lake and Cook counties, showing that while a large number of Bibles had been given away and a greater number sold, the number of families who were without was deplorably large, and it was urged that the field of the colporteur be increased.

Rev. Mr. Clark gave a brief address, speaking of the necessity for more work, a greater extension of the colporteur system. He gave some interesting figures, showing the great scarcity of Bibles even among this enlightened portion of the Northwest. Mr. Belknap followed with some interesting data regarding the American Bible society, its works and methods. The society was first organized in connection with the British and Foreign Bible society in 1816, for the purpose of publishing an authorized version of the Bible. The books are sold at cost, and if any profit does accrue, the money is applied to the cheapening of the cost of production.

The nominating committee reported the following as officers for the ensuing year. M. J. Carpenter, president; Z. D. Scott, vice-president; M. W. Lewis secretary; W. S. Woodbridge, treasurer.

"COME AND SEE."

The Pith of a Forceful Sermon by a Pastor of Ability.

At the First Baptist church yesterday morning, Rev. Geo. H. McClelland, the pastor, preached an interesting and instructive sermon, of which the following is a brief extract:

John 1, 46-47: "And Nathaniel said: Can any good thing come out of Nazareth? Philip saith unto him, Come and see."

Theme—"The Philosophical Inquiry and the Evangelistic Answer." First, broad generalizations are easy from a narrow circle of facts. In this worldly philosophy excels. Nathaniel's simple and truthful character did not give assurance of a correct logic. There was not a mother in Israel who could not have led Nathaniel to the graves of slaughtered innocents, and taught the sage that Jesus of Nazareth was born in Bethlehem.

But to the philosopher's mind, without Divine enlightenment and guidance by faith, a city proverbial for wickedness could not produce anything good. A party in politics not in the trend of the thinking of the multitude, is incapable of a true revolutionary idea. A religious denomination not conforming to the thirty-nine articles, Calvin's creed or the traditions concerning the fathers, must be forbidden, "for they follow not us." This is the spirit which condemned Galileo, burned the martyrs and incarcerated Bunyan. Prejudice and bigotry sit enthroned, and liberty and light are restrained and eclipsed.

Second. This prejudgment by the cautious conservators of the true and the good not only results in the hostile and obstinate attitude, but pushes backward the world's deliverance. "Behold this dreamer cometh," was the prelude to the immediate trouble and misery of Jacob and his family. Their meaning and doing evil was not the only pathway to the fields of plenty and competency for the patriarch's old age. We may take deep comfort therefore in thought that the good that God intends, is kept steadily in view by Him, though it may be lost sight of by his children and the attainment be long delayed. In the light of this thought and of the many illustrations of past providences, the friends of the cause of temperance may take heart again, and "learn to labor and to wait."

Third. Christianity's only and her triumphant answer is, to all gainsaying distrust, come and see.

"Come, wander with me, she said,
Into regions yet untrod;
And read what is still unread
In the manuscripts of God."

And what nature sang to the naturalist, the voice of God in Jesus Christ cries to every inquiring soul. Come ye burdened souls; "Earth hath no sorrows that heaven cannot heal." Come, lay your ear close to the strings of God's great harp, and hear the strains. "That to men, like the doves of the deluge, their message of peace do bring." What with the study and increasing advance of knowledge in the various departments of thought and wisdom; what with the more serious inquiry of thoughtful people for the way of eternal life, shall we answer? In His name, and by His authority to all distrusting Nathaniels, truthful and guileless, Come and see. There may be more faith in doubt than half the creeds, but to come and see and to know Him is eternal life, which is far better.

At the First Presbyterian.

A portion of Haydn's Creation was given by the members of the choir of the Second Presbyterian church yesterday morning, under the leadership of the percentor, D. H. Morgan.

TWO CONVENTIONS.

District and State Sessions of the Womans Temperance Association.

There will be a district convention of the Womans Christian Temperance Union on Wednesday and Thursday of this week. The meetings will be held at the Congregational church on Wednesday and Thursday morning and afternoon, and at the Methodist church on Wednesday and Thursday evenings. The full program will be published later. It is expected that about twenty-five delegates will be present, including Mrs. Hobart, of Red Wing, the state president of the organization. The session Wednesday evening will be under charge of the Young Womens Temperance Union and a number of short speeches have been arranged for. Among others, Judge Morris, Rev. E. M. Noyes and Thos. J. Davis will make addresses. In this district are included five counties—St. Louis, Lake, Cook, Pine and Carlton, an area larger than five of the New England states combined.

On Sept. 10, 11 and 12 occurs the annual state convention of Womans Christian Temperance union, also to be held at Duluth. This is a session of no little importance, and 200 or 300 delegates will be present from all parts of this state. It is sure that very interesting sessions will be had at both conventions, and those locally interested are making earnest and thorough preparations for their success.

"Grow in Grace."

At the funeral services held over the body of Mr. David Douglas yesterday afternoon at St. Pauls church, Rev. Wm. M. Barker, rector of the church, made some very touching and earnest remarks. He characterized death as a step behind a closed curtain, which was drawn aside for one, while his friends stood back and saw him no more. The speaker believed that the curtain divided the living from some world nearer God, where the soul would continue to expand and grow in grace. He believed the words grow in grace should be indicative not only of the life here, but the life to come. There were many friends of the late Mr. Douglas, and of the family of his daughter, Mrs. Bostwick, present at the services.

THE DAY IN THE CITY.

Many Germans and their friends had a very pleasant picnic at Brautagan's garden yesterday afternoon.

The Plow Boy was crowded with excursionists who took the trip to Two Harbors yesterday.

On a hot day the atmosphere around Second avenue west is nauseating. There's plenty of work for the health board there.

Gus. Jackson, the pioneer cab driver of Duluth, captured a canary bird last evening at the Union depot. He was sitting inside his vehicle when the little stranger perched upon the cab sill, announcing his arrival with a little thrill of melody. Gus. chirruped a welcoming whistle and the bird hopped inside and made himself at home. Gus. took his captive home.

Among prominent Little Falls people who will attend the waterways convention at West Superior, August 6, are the following: Chamber of Commere delegates—Hon. J. C. Flynn, chairman; Sheriff Henry Rasicot, Attorney C. A. Lindberg. The city committee will be headed by Mayor Richardson. The party will spend several days in Duluth.

Nearly all the berths on the St. Paul bound trains tonight have been engaged by Duluth people who go to attend the Twin City Derby.

The Northern Pacific road, beginning August 8, will give a series of harvest excursions to Dakota points.

The Boston Idea of It.

Boston Saturday Evening Gazette: Duluth's new hotel, The Spalding, is a notable attraction to the city at the head of the great lakes, and is drawing pleasure seeking tourists from all quarters. For its equipment and conduct there is unstinted praise. It is furnished throughout with electric lights, calls and all the latest modern improvements. Its superb dining hall, painted by Austrian artists, overlooks Lake Superior and the bay of St. Louis from the lofty upper floor, and the arched windows frame ever charming pictures of water, wood and shore, with shifting views of the passing boats freighted with the harvests of the Northwest. The proprietor, Mr. E. P. Emerson, is known throughout the country as a former successful manager of the Ryan, of St. Paul, and other hotels of the first class. He is determined to leave nothing undone to make the opening season of The Spalding a grand success. The table is emphatically first class, and the fresh "planked" whitefish, which is the season's specialty, is a revelation of the surpassing merit of this fish and the genius of the cook.

THE GENTLEMEN CRICKETERS.

Quakers and Marylebone Players Trying Conclusions--General Sporting Notes.

LONDON, July 22.—[Special.]—This is a gala day at the Marylebone cricket club grounds. Nearly 4000 spectators are present watching the progress of the game between the Philadelphia gentlemen players and the Marylebone eleven, the most famous club in Great Britain. This will undoubtedly prove to be the most interesting match yet played by the Philadelphians during their present tour in this country. They were accorded a right royal recognition as they took their positions in the field, the Marylebone men joining as heartily in the demonstration as the on-lookers, and no more brilliant or fashionable assemblage has ever perhaps gathered within the enclosure. The splendid batting of Scott, Clark, Morgan and Newhall of the Philadelphia team in their match with the Surrey players last week has put the Marylebone men upon their metal and as a consequence they do not appear to take the field with their usual nerve. Scott piled up 142 runs off Jephson, the Surrey bowler, a phenomenal score, and then was only caught out, showing the marvelous impregnability of his wicket-guard. If the Philadelphia batsmen can maintain their record before the bowlers of the Marylebone club, it is conceded that they will carry off the honors of the game.

Sporting Notes.

Jack Flavley, of Boston, will fight an unknown for $500 a side.

Slavin, the Australian, is still trying to bring about a fight with Peter Jackson.

The Duke of Portland has won over $335,000 in prizes in horse-racing this season.

Jack Gallagher and O. H. Smith, the latter one of Patsey Cardiff's proteges, are to fight to a finish for $500 aside.

Skinner, the American pedestrian and sprinter, has cleared $30,000 this season out of the Australian handicaps.

The Duluth boat crew is getting down to hard training now, and will make a record for themselves at the Minnetonka races next week.

The Massachusetts riflemen, now entered in the English matches, was loudly cheered for its fine shooting in the exhibition skirmish drill at Wimbleton last Wednesday.

A world's athletic tournament is to take place in Australia this winter. The events will be a 135-yards walk for a cup and $2500; a 25-mile walk for the championship of the world, and two Sheffield handicaps for which $12,500 will be given in prizes.

The relative positions of the professional ball teams have changed greatly in the past week. Cleveland is in third place with Boston holding only a slight margin in the league race over New York; in the American association St. Louis still retains first place, although Brooklyn is only a little behind and has a good show for winning the pennant. If New York keeps on playing as she has for the past two weeks, Boston will slide back to second place before this week ends.

Ball games played yesterday by the Western league:

At St. Joseph—St. Joseph, 11; Denver, 8.
At Sioux City—Sioux City, 5; Omaha, 7.

By American association:

At Cincinnati—Cincinnati, 10; St. Louis, 1.
At Brooklyn—Brooklyn, 8; Athletic, 6.
At Louisville—Louisville, 3; Kansas City, 1.
At Columbus—Columbus, 1; Baltimore, 5.

Baseball.

Today and tomorrow will be the only times this season in which the business bound citizens of this city will have a chance to witness the national game. The Rice Lake team is here and this afternoon at 3 o'clock will play the Duluth's at West Duluth, and tomorrow the West Duluth's on the same grounds. In the game with Superior yesterday the Rice Lake's won $500.

The Zenith City Holds Her Own.

I will meet any competition in my line, no matter where from, New York, Chicago, Minneapolis or St. Paul.

ANDREW JACKSON, Jeweler.

FIGURES OF ASSESSMENT.

Various Interesting Items From the Assessor's Books.

Bank Stocks and Cattle, Pigs and Pianos in the Long List.

The tabulated statement of personal property for the city of Duluth, including Park Point, just prepared by City Assessor Cooley and his able assistant, Capt. Paxson, presents quite an array of figures, which will be found of interest and, compared with last year's footings, show the same remarkable increase as do all other items of a like nature returned from the assessor's office for preceding years.

The items presented herewith are given in the following order: Kind, number and valuation—horses—1-year-old, 1—$25; and over, 1133—$98,840. Cattle—1-year-old, 8—$85; 2-years-old, 4—$33; cows, 498—$11,320; sheep, 80—$160; hogs, 56—$190; wagons and carriages, 732—$21,825; sewing machines, 1070—$13,905; watches and clocks, 1351—$22,160; melodeons and organs, 223—$6340; piano fortes, 404—$42,965; household and office furniture, $443,350; agricultural tools, inplements and machinery, $2490; gold and silver plate and plated ware, $11,246; diamonds and jewelry, $7210; franchises, annuities and patent rights, $12,150, steamboats and sailing vessels, $190,815; goods and merchandise, $742,710; manufacturer's materials and manufactured, articles, $120,170; manufacturers' tools, implements, and machinery, $103,550; moneys of banks, bankers, brokers or stock jobbers, $139,920; credits of banks, bankers, etc., $8295; moneys other than banks, bankers, etc., $1480; credits same, $63,855; bonds and stocks other than bank stock, $388,790; shares of bank stock (including state and national) $1,000,950; shares of stock of companies not of this state, $1400; stock and furniture of sample rooms, saloons, eating houses, etc., $42,625; all other items of property not included in the preceding twenty-six items, $58,166; elevators, warehouses and improvements on land of any railroad company, $440,150; improvements of United States lands, $5950; dogs over six months old, 211, $1115.

The above items give a total of $4,027,465.

By a comparison with some of the figures for 1888, it will be seen there is a healthy increase. Last year only 150 dogs were returned; this year there were 211; watches and clocks in '88, 1049; this year 1551; diamonds and jewelery in '88, $6000; in '89, $7000. And there has been a corresponding increase all through the list, the total being increased about 25 per cent.

PUTTING UP A SHOP.

A Cooper Shop Nearly Built at the Big Mill—Machinery Going in.

Contractor Mueller, who has cantracted with the Imperial Flour Milling company to do all its coopering work, has been at work some little time and has already raised the frame of his cooper shop. He will have a capacity for 1200 barrels per day, about half the outfit of the mill, and will employ, it is stated, about thirty men. Fully half, and perhaps a larger proportion of the flour to be made will be packed in export sacks and not barrelled at all. Mr. Mueller comes to Duluth from LaCrosse where he did, until a short time ago, all the cooper work for a large mill there. He will be ready for business by the end of August. His shop is located very near the big mill of the company.

At the mill itself work is progressing rapidly in putting in machinery and it will be ready to grind in short order now. A large force from the Allis Reliance works is still busily engaged in putting in the grinding, cleaning, elevating and other machinery.

A Place For a Patrol Wagon.

Saturday night a police officer was seen towing toward the cooler a burly fellow, just full enough of "tarantula juice" to make him ugly. Two excited females brought up the rear, and with cries and entreaties of the Billingsgate order requested the officer to handle him gently. This made the fellow furious, and if Capt. McLaughlin had not appeared very opportunely the officer would probably have had more than his match. As it was, they both had their hands full, and the two women in the rear did all they possibly could to obstruct the proceedings. A patrol wagon would have come in mighty handy at this time. The fellow was finally caged, but not until after a severe tussle.

Robbery at Tower.

R. J. Boxell, representing Bertram Brothers of this city, has just returned from a trip to Tower and Ely. While at the former place he and three others were victims of hotel robbers at the Pioneer hotel. The thieves gained entrance through an upper doorway, after climbing over an adjoining kitchen. They used nippers on the door keys of the guests' rooms, took their garments out to the hall, rifled them of money only, leaving watches and private papers undisturbed. Mr. Boxell lost $24, and the others more or less. The thieves have not been caught, but are supposed to be the same gang who operated in Two Harbors recently.

Building Chester Brook Bridge.

All the iron work of the Chester brook iron viaduct bridge, with the exception of the fences, was put up Saturday night, exactly a week having been consumed in the job so far. This is one of the most rapid pieces of work ever done in this city. The work has been carried on under the charge of City Engineer Fuller and R. H. McLane superintended the construction. A few days and the bridge will be ready for public use.

Want More Wages.

Chief of Police Doran received a telephone message this morning informing him that the men at the Ohio company's coal dock had struck work. About twenty-five men turned out. Several police were sent to the place but their services were not required, the men not showing any disposition to make a disturbance. It is hoped some arrangement can be made whereby a general strike can be avoided.

School Board Meeting.

The monthly meeting of the school board was held Saturday evening last. In the election canvass it was ascertained that S. M. Lester had received 268 votes, W. C. White 267 votes. For the issue of $50,000 bonds there were 252 for and 4 against. The communication from the Johnson Electric company stated that it would wire two rooms in the High school building for $150. Bids were also received for furnishing blackboards. The matter of free text-books was discussed and it was made a special order of business at the next meeting. Bills to the amount of $1954 were allowed. Misses E. C. Selden, Nettie Thompson and Helen Hill were appointed teachers and Miss J. E. L. Moore received her credentials as instructress of music.

THE WEST END.

The brick work on the Keen & Stenson block is being removed preparatory to raising the building four-and-a-half feet to grade. It is the intention of Mr. Morgan to expend about $3000 additional in remodelling the building. Brownstone sills will be put in and various changes and improvements made which will make the block one of the finest on West Michigan street.

William Elbel, better known as "Scrap Iron Bill," gave a very interesting lecture at the Grace Methodist church last night to a large audience. His subject was "The Goring Ox."

Miss Amanda Ylvisa, the Swedish Evangelist, spoke last night at the Swedish Baptist church.

Michael J. Fanning spoke yesterday afternoon on prohibition to a large audience at the Swedish Mission church.

N. O. Nelson left this morning to buy goods for the fair. He will visit St. Paul, Milwaukee and Chicago.

Charles Dalls, who for some time has been in the employ of H. Kirchhan, left yesterday afternoon for Ashland.

A little daughter of Mr. Salle injured herself very badly by stepping on a piece of glass yesterday.

Merchants on West Superior street are wondering when that street sprinkler is to come.

A man was badly injured this morning in the Wolf & Trunx sewer by the sudden caving in of the sides of the sewer. He was badly crushed, but no bones were broken.

Wm. Hubbard's new residence on Twenty-fifth avenue is nearly completed.

Bad Bread vs. Bad Whisky.

In the race for the championship in crime producing, bad bread is a good second, if it does not hold its own with bad whisky. Fully half the family quarrels, half the divorces, half the murders are indirectly the result of bad cooking, bad digestion, bad stomachs, bad bread. Unrivaled Baking Powder makes good bread. Demand it of your grocer. Full weight, 25c per pound.

First a Pigmy---Anon a Giant.

We are too apt to regard a small ailment much as we would some pigmy, unpleasant of aspect and prankish indeed, but incapable of serious mischief. We ignore the fact that it grows prodigiously, strengthens in proportion and begets evil progeny. A fit of indigestion, a slight bilious attack, sensations of unrest and languor when the system should have been braced by recent sleep, unaccountable nervousness, inactivity of the kidneys or bladder—what are these but the precursors of obstinate and serious bodily disturbance? In either of the above emergencies, common sense and experience unite in indicating Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as the best preventive. Particularly should its use be prompt when the languor, yawning, chilliness down the back, and feverishness that precede a malarial attack, manifest themselves. Incipient rheumatism grows apace. Don't neglect it. So with constipation and debility.

E.

Those buffet parlor cars on the Eastern Minnesota railway are models of comfort and elegance and are becoming very popular. These elegant cars are run on both trains, leaving Duluth at 8:30 a. m., and on "The Business Men's Special" leaving at 3:40 p. m., making the quickest time between Duluth and the Twin cities. For cheap rates call at city office, 402 West Superior street.

A Wise Man

GOOD WHEAT NEWS.

Railroad Men Declare That the Crop Will Surprise Many People.

Northern Minnesota and North Dakota Will Market a Good Crop.

MINNEAPOLIS, July 22.—Special reports received during the last few days by Superintendent Hoyt, of the Omaha road, show the wheat crop to be generally in excellent condition.

At Brewster an average crop is expected. At Shakopee more than an average yield is being harvested. At Butterfield wheat averages seventeen bushels per acre, and at East Henderson thirty bushels is the average. At Bingham Lake more than an average crop will be cut. At Vernon Centre hot weather is ripening grain too fast. At Magnolia most barley has been cut. At Lake Crystal favorble weather has insured an average crop of small grains. At Amboy wheat is out of danger of blight. Enough rain has fallen at Le Sueur, and at Jordan rye and winter wheat are being cut. At Anoca and Pipestone wheat is ripening fast. At Luverne wheat will be a fair yield.

Assistant General Manager D. L. Mohler of the Manitoba road has returned from an extensive trip along his line, and as he is something of a wheat expert himself, the following report from him can be take as a fair estimate of the crop conditions today:

He says if the weather continues favorable from now on the amount of wheat which will be shipped from northern Minnesota and North Dakota will be a great surprise to some who have been predicting a failure without examining the territory. He has personally examined all the territory on the Northern and Dakota division within the past week, conversed with many farmers and elevator agents, and from the present outlook thinks the Manitoba lines will furnish for shipment at least 32,000,000 bushels of wheat. This estimate is also confirmed by Chicago experts who have recently been covering the same territory independently and have just returned.

The Markets.

Wheat was waiting today and the market most abnormally dull. The close was as follows: Cash No. 1 hard, 99½. No. 1 northern, 95. No. 2 northern, 88. No. 3 wheat, 73. July, 99½. August, 91. September, 82. October, 84. December, 84. August corn, firm, 35¼.

Curb Notes.

The visible supply shows a decrease or the week of 516,000 bushels against a decrease of 738,000 bushels for the week last year, and an increase of 604,000 bushels for the week in 1887.

Corn has decreased 953,000 bushels against a decrease of 938,000 bushels for the week last year.

Oats show a decrease of 401,000 bushels against a decrease of 441,000 bushels for the week last year.

The total visible supply of wheat is 12,195,139 bu against 21,680,315 bu last year and 32,122,208 bu in 1887.

There are 836,241 bu wheat in Duluth today, of which 700,327 bu are 1 hard, 102,410 bu are special bin. Decrease during the week 15,579 bu. A year ago there were 3,794,218 bu here. There is 652,515 bu corn now in store and 20,037 bu oats. Minneapolis and St. Paul hold 3,862,715 bu wheat, a decrease of 151,622 bu.

Money and Stocks.

NEW YORK, July 22.—Money easy at 2@3 per cent. The stock market was quiet, but the movement was upward and most of the list were brought up to a shade beyond first prices. The only marked movement were advances of ⅞ and ¾ in Missouri Pacific and national lead. There was no feature to the dealings and at noon the market was dull and steady to firm at about the prices of the morning.

CONCERTS EXTRAORDINARY.

Mr. Leo Wheat Delights Two Small but Appreciative Sunday Audiences.

The people of Duluth have been given unstinted opportunity to listen to the performance of Mr. Leo. Wheat, on piano and organ, and it is safe to predict that the memory of the delightful treat thus afforded them will linger with them a long time. The concert on last Friday evening was a thorough artistic success, both as to Mr. Wheat's instrumentation and Mrs. Nicholls's vocalization. Since then Mr. Wheat has been constantly at a piano or organ, whenever he could get an appreciative listener, which has been whenever he would play.

Sunday afternoon the parlors of The Spalding filled with a thoroughly appreciative and sympathetic audience as soon as he began to play. He was in his best mood, and gave an impromptu program fully equal to his concert program Friday evening, and in many essential respects superior to that. Among the selections given were Beethoven's "Septuor," Leo Delèbes "Coppelia," Chopin's "Impromptu Nocturne," and a medley of popular airs. The selections from the Delèbes opera were taken from the last act—the allegorical music—and was something of a revelation even to the lovers and professors of music, and the magnificent creation—which Mr. Wheat says could have been written nowhere outside Paris—suffered nothing at his hands. A charming incident of the afternoon recital was Mrs. Nicholls's rendition of the beautiful lullaby which she gave at the concert as an encore, given in beautiful voice and with the exquisite finish she has perfected herself in.

In the evening Mr. Wheat was at the Episcopal church and Rector Barker expressed his pleasure at being able to introduce to his people a gentleman who could show the capabilities of a church organ, and after the service Mr. Wheat took his place at the organ and gave a short program, which kept every person in his place until the echo of the last note had died away. He played "Christ Our Lord is Risen Today," as arranged by himself from the bridal chorus in "Euryanthe," "Abide With Me," as arranged by Millard from "La Favarita," Schubert's "Serenade," Gottschalk's "Last Hope," and Mendelssohn's "Wedding March."

Another Concert.

So strong has been the pressure upon Mr. Leo P. Wheat to give another concert that he has consented to do so, and has fixed for Friday evening as the time. This concert will be in the form of a complimentary benefit, and he will have the assistance of Mrs. Florence Nicholls. The details of program will be announced later.

A Permanent Organization.

It was decided at a chance meeting this morning of the gentlemen connected with the yacht race on the Fourth to make a permanent yacht club. The matter will be agitated for a few days, then a final meeting will decide the matter. Should it be decided to organize a building will probably be erected and a large yacht, of ten or fifteen tons, ordered.

A Besieged Judge.

Judge Ayer's office was invaded this morning. Mrs. McGraw, whose name appears quite frequently on the inebrinte list of the police records, being the invader. Mr. McGraw is no better than his wife in this respect; worse in fact. Mrs. McGraw's errand to the probate court was to regain possession of her child. The child was sent down to the state institution at Owatonna for the children of neglectful parents, a few weeks ago, on account of being neglected and illused by its father and mother. Now Mrs. McGraw has just been released from prison and says she is able to take care of her child, and demands that it be restored to her forthwith. This Judge Ayer says he has no power of doing, but Mrs. McGraw says she won't leave the office till he gets back her child. At last accounts Mrs. McGraw and the judge were still holding the fort.

THE COURT.

Six drunks and nine vagrants were up before his honor this morning. Two or three paid fines, but the bulk of them were condemned to sweep the streets for a week or so. Eleven alleged vagrants gave bonds for their appearance this morning, but not turning up at the appointed time their bonds were declared forfeited. The indecent assault case, Collins vs. Clayton, was tried privately before Judge Morris.

The defendant waived examination and was bound over in the sum of $1000, to answer to the grand jury at the next term of district court. The general impression is that Clayton is a victim of blackmail.

A number of parties, ten or eleven in all, arrested yesterday on the charge of gambling and carrying on gaming devices of various kinds, had a hearing this morning and were bailed out in various sums to appear Wednesday. James Simpson, George Blake, Hidalga Deroche, were each held to bail in the sum of $150, and committed in default. John Lynch, for running a shooting gallery without a license was held to bail in the sum of $25 for his appearance Wednesday morning.

A Compromise Effected.

Some of the coal heavers employed at the Pioneer coal dock struck for an advance to fifty cents an hour. A compromise was effected, the company paying forty-five cents and work was resumed this afternoon. At the Ohio Coal company's dock no settlement of the difficulty has been arrived at as yet and the men are still out.

A Fine Showing.

By far the most plutocratic showing ever made by a Duluth bank, is that published by the First National in tonight's Herald. Deposits amount to $1,535,697 while loans and discounts amount to $1,915,000. It has also about $2,000,000 cash in vaults.

Schools at Lakeside.

Saturday night at the annual school meeting of district No. 3, in the village of Lakeside, G. Hawkesworth was elected trustee for three years; W. C. Sargent, treasurer and trustee for two years; Frank Blackmarr, clerk and trustee for one year. H. M. Myer and F. A. Clarkson were appointed auditing committee.

A GOVERNMENT BUILDING

Is a Government Fiasco--Plans of the Structure in Duluth.

'Twould Be Inconvenient for Any North Dakota Village.

The plans for the government building at Duluth have been received by Postmaster Flynn, and examined by several interested government officials and leading business men of this city, all of whom are outspoken in their disapprobation of the building, of its conveniences and plan, and it has been already suggested that steps be taken to induce the supervising architect and the treasury department to hold the plans for a time, at least until some adequate provision could be made for accommodating the business interests to be housed in a government building.

It had been the idea that the government, which, as a matter of fact, has more varied and more numerous interests here than at any other city in the entire country—a half dozen only excepted—would at least equal in its building most of the private structures of the city. But as a matter of fact the building, if erected in its present form, would be wholly inadequate for the demand, besides being most incommodious and inconvenient.

In the first place there is no elevator nor space reserved for one; the court rooms are smaller and more cramped than the St. Louis county building and the jury room is a little space up in the attic. If the structure is allowed to go up as the design plans, the government business now done at Duluth will be sufficient, twice over, to fill it and the government will be obliged to go outside for room. In comparison the present postoffice has much better and larger quarters than it would have in the government building. Protests will be filed with Secretary of Treasury Windom and Senators Sabin and Washburn to stop action on the matter until a delegation from Duluth can come before the Congressional committee and show it just what Duluth's needs are.

When asked concerning the government building, John Flynn, to whom had been submitted the plans, said: "The plans arrived here some time ago, accompanied by a note from the supervising architect, in which he stated that he desired United States officials now here to look them over and send them back with any criticisms they thought best. This has been done. The building has a front of 100 feet, with about 90 feet depth. The basement was designed as a storehouse for custom's use. In the first floor was the postoffice department, which, while it might do for the present, would never be large enough for us some years hence. On the second floor would be situated land, customs offices, etc., while the third floor would be taken up with the court and jury rooms. In the attic the signal service quarters would be located. There were no provisions made for an elevator, but I understand from Sergeant Fallon that his department had written him that an elevator would be provided. As I understood the tracings, the government has planned the building with the intention of adding to its size when necessity required. I do not think a building of that size would be large enough for Duluth a few years from now, yet unless another appropriation is made this building must go up."

THE DERBY TODAY.

Spokane Too Ill to Run--The Entries For the Great Event.

MINNEAPOLIS, July 23.—This is the opening day of the Twin City Jockey club's inaugural meeting. The weather is very favorable. The list of entries in today's events show that the club has succeeded grandly in getting the horses to its meeting. Today is also Derby day. For months it has been the chief topic of conversation in Minneapolis and St. Paul, and for weeks interest in the event has been extremely high; but the horse who has served to turn the attention of the Northwest toward the race, is not to start. The great son of Hyder Ali, Spokane, is ill, and if reports are true, will be unable to start again this season. It was Armstrong's intention to send his colt from Chicago on Saturday, but the horse showed signs of ill health and he decided to wait until Sunday. On Sunday he had shown no improvement and it was finally decided not to take the journey.

The special train load of 300 from Montana, who arrived in St. Paul last night, were somewhat disappointed over Spokane's not starting, but found comfort in knowing that another Montana horse is to be in the race.

In all there are four starters for the Derby: Sallie Hogan, X, Logic and Le Premier. The other four races on the day's card have been well filled. The first will have eighteen, the second ten, the third ten and the fifth fifteen starters.

THEY JUMPED,

And Some will Die, While Others Were Badly Injured.

MEADVILLE, Pa., July 23.—The St. Cloud hotel was destroyed by fire at midnight last night. The guests escaped without injury, but several servants were badly injured by jumping from the windows.

Mrs. Maggie Ebrie, of Youngstown, Ohio, jumped from the third floor, striking on her back. She will probably die. Susan Derby had both legs broken. Barbara Hillman had her back badly burned before jumping on an awning, which probably saved her life. Archie Carman, a fireman, fell from the second story and sustained injuries to the spine. He is in a critical condition.

A Lieutenant-Governor Nearly Drowned.

OMAHA, Neb., July 23.—While Lieutenant-Governor Miekeljohn was bathing in the river with a friend named Palton, near Fullerton, Neb., Sunday, the latter got beyond his depth and was drowned. The lieutenant-governor came near sharing his friend's fate. He is delirious, but it is thought he will recover.

Not Tascott This Time.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., July 23.—Herman Weiler, a prominent citizen here, yesterday received a telegram from his brother Henry stating that he had been arrested at Pleasantville Junction, Utah, on suspicion that he was Tascott, the Chicago murderer. The picture of Tascott bears a remarkable resemblance to Weiler. The brother will go to Utah today with proof that the prisoner is not the man wanted.

WEST DULUTH.

Work on the Incline Railway—Capt. Sharp's Houses and the Iron Bay Works.

Work on the Incline railway is being forwarded under the personal supervision of Mr. Myers. The track-laying will begin today and the rails will climb the hill very rapidly. The switch connecting the cable road with the railroad, which has heretofore been called the Terminal road, is completed. The poles for the telegraph line are all planted and ready for the wires to be strung. In a few days the road will be completed with the exception of the hoisting apparatus.

Grading is being done on Fifth avenue west north of Grand. This street runs directly through the center of Capt. Sharp's division.

C. T. Shepherd, Baldwin, Wis., has rented T. C. Landsverk's building on Seventh avenue and will open a general store.

James S. Rankin has purchased, through Rand & Brophy, lots 4 and 5 in block 164, and will build a two-story residence at once.

The Maroons were badly beaten by the Rice Lake club, the score at the end of seven innings standing 22 to 3.

John Anderson is building a 2-story, 20x28 residence on Sixth avenue, north of Grant, which he will soon occupy.

Wm. Jennings, who came a short time ago from New Brunswick, has begun the erection of a very neat house, 24x28, two stories, on Madison avenue.

On Capt. Sharp's contract the foundation of the nineteenth house is laid, the frame is up of the thirteenth, eight are enclosed, and one or two are nearing completion. There are over 150 men employed in connection with this work.

C. Gilbertson, a West Superiorite, is building a tasteful cottage on Jefferson avenue, which he intends to occupy.

The frame of a 2-story building on Fifth avenue, for Hoyt & McMinn, is nearly enclosed.

Quite a number of people from Rice Lake were in town yesterday to witness the ball game between their own club and the Maroons.

Rand & Brophy sold yesterday to Eva Brophy, a niece of R. C. Brophy, lots 1 and 2, block 128, on which she will erect a building.

Peter Marks is building on Monroe street a residence for himself 18x20 in size and two stories in height.

Ole Hugmark intends to have a warm house. He is back plastering a building 20x40, two stories high, located on Washington avenue.

Thomas Carmichael, of Negaunee, and wife and children, are visiting the family of J. A. Rix on First avenue west. Mrs. Carmichael is a daughter of J. A. Rix. Mr. Carmichael holds a responsible position in the office of the Iron Cliff Mining company. They expect to stay about two weeks.

The carpenters at the Iron Bay works are laid off for want of material, which should have arrived over a week ago.

Store on Central avenue for rent, $25 per month. Inquire at bank, West Duluth.

First-class groceries at Downs & Manson's cash grocers, new store, Central avenue.

Edison's Opinion.

NEW YORK, July 23.—In the hearing before the referee of the Kemmler electrical committee today Mr. Edison was put on the stand as a witness, and if his testimony were to decide his fate, the murderer would surely meet his death in the electrical chair. The witness had no doubt whatever of the power of an alternating current to kill a man instantaneously and painlessly and was sure it could be done without burning.

The case of Mr. Smith was spoken of, who was said to have received a shock of 1500 volts without serious injury. Mr. Edison said he would pay $100 to one who would withstand a shock of 100 volts. The obtaining of the resistance of the human body by the Wheatstone bridge was not a matter of late experiment. He considered the bridge an accurate means of measurement. A man could be completely carbonized by an electric current but it would take 1500-horse power to do it. If you took a Westinghouse current of 1050 volts and kept it applied to a body five or six minutes it would not be carbonized but mummified.

The "Sooners" to be Ousted.

GUTHRIE, Oklahoma, July 23.—The decision of the land office ousting the "Sooners," as those who entered Oklahoma before noon of April 22 are called, is causing excitement throughout Oklahoma. Two hundred men were in line yesterday morning waiting for the land office to open, a large majority waiting to file on claims already entered by men supposed to have been in the territory before noon of April 22, and which the decision declares are not entitled to hold claims. The effect of the decision will be felt everywhere throughout the territory, and endless trouble seems in store.

England Will Participate.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Mr. W. B. Wharton, acting secretary of state, said to an Associated Press reporter today, speaking of the statement made in the house of commons yesterday by Sir James Furgeson, parliamentary secretary for the foreign office, that no agreement had been made with the American government for the program of the maritime conference, to be held in Washington, October 16th next, that it referred only to the routine of the conference. England has accepted the invitation of the United States to participate in the conference. Mr. Wharton said, with the proviso that the program of subjects to be discussed was satisfactory.

His Best.

NEW YORK, July 23.—District Attorney Fellows and his assistant returned from Saratoga yesterday. Mr. Fellows said that he was certain that he had done his best, and that the responsibility for McOmadi's acquittal rested with the jury. "Will any further trials of bribery cases take place?" was asked. "Not unless additional evidence is obtained, and I do not know how any can be had. "Will not the fugitives then return from Canada?" was the next question. "No, I do not believe that they will be in any hurry to return."

Can Do the Work.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—The last act of congress appropriating funds for the compilation and publication of the records of the rebellion, provided that they should be completed in five years. Secretary Proctor says that if congress will give him money enough he will have the work off his hands when this admistration closes.

The two fine double dwellings of Dr. C. H. Graff on Second avenue west and Third street will be finished and occupied in less than a month. Two of them will be occupied by F. A. Richardson and W. E. Richardson and their families, the third by Dr. Graff himself and the Fourth by Dr. Codding and bride.

Most Duluthians of more than four years' residence will recollect smiling Major C. M. Wilson, whose north shore mining schemes, political experiences and silver mining in the southwest were a favorite theme here for years. He is now in the Soo road land department. He has lately been married. The St. Ignace News says: The editor was agreeably surprised this week to receive a visit from Major Charles M. Wilson. He looked unusually happy. The major was so all-fired happy that we thought he had fallen heir to an immense fortune. The major was married; the ceremony was performed at Grand Rapids. The bride is Mrs. Mary F. MARINE MATTERS.

Passenger Ships and Their Work—General Marine News.

It looks as if the talk of establishing a steel shipbuilding plant at South Chicago, indulged in jointly by the Minnesota Iron company and the Illinois Steel company, was intended to frighten lower-lake builders of steel vessels into accepting lower figures for their work, and succeeded admirably. The four vessels to be built for the Iron company at Cleveland will be duplicates of the Northern Steamship line vessels.

The steamer Northerner, which was reported disabled, reached Milwaukee while the tug W. H. Simpson was still engaged in searching for her. She came along under her own steam. It seems that the strap of the go-ahead eccentric gave out and rendered her helpless.

About a Third Past.

With the arrival of the Campana this morning just half the scheduled trips for the steamers of Beatty's Sarnia line for the present season are completed. The Lake Michigan and Lake Superior company's steamers have a total of thirty-two scheduled trips for the year, of which they have performed eleven, leaving a balance of twenty-one, or about two-thirds to be done. The Lake Superior Transit company's vessels are scheduled for sixty round trips, and they have performed thirty-four, or a little more than half. Passenger boats from the lower lakes and the scheduled trips remaining for each, also the probable number of extra trips each will make are given below. The first two columns give only the figures for the "time-card" trips; the others as they are designated:

AT SUPERIOR.

No Change in the Strike---To Form a Company---A Wedding.

There is no particular change in the strike at West Superior today. At the dock of the Northwestern Fuel company an attempt was made to load some cars, about twenty-five men being at work, but they were driven off by strikers. A train load of men was expected from Minneapolis, but it did not arrive. The Griffin guards are on duty at the docks and at the city hall, but no trouble is anticipated. Thirty business men have been sworn in as special deputies. Twenty-two strikers have been arrested, nine of whom are out on $500 bail. The Tower avenue contractors put thirty-nine men at work this morning, and the Third street contractor paid and discharged eighty-nine men last night.

FROM ACROSS THE WATER

Mr. Parnell Giving Testimony About Land League Books and Funds.

Boulangists to be Deprived of All Their Civil Rights.

LONDON, July 23.—Mr. Parnell today again appeared before the special commission appointed to examine The Times's charges against Parnellite members of the house of commons.

He denied that any letters which had passed between himself and Mr. Harris had been withheld from the court. The letters had all been sent to Mr. Soames, solicitor for The Times.

Attorney-General Webster intimated that it was his intention to call every witness necessary to trace the missing books of the Land league. Continuing his testimony, Mr. Parnell said he had instructed Mr. Lewis, of counsel for the Parnellites, to subpœna Mrs. Maloney, treasurer of the Ladies' league to produce the books of the Land league in her possession. He could not say what amount of league money Mr. Egan and the other trustees had invested in his name in France. It might have been £100,000; £50,000 or £15,000.

Attorney-General Webster: But you, a man of business, surely know.

Mr. Parnell: I am not a man of business. I never was. In October, 1882, Mr. Egan sent me an account of the relief fund, showing expenditures of £50,000 and a balance of £31,900.

Mr. Parnell stated that he had not taken any steps to discover documents relating to the Ladies Land league, nor would he. Mr. Egan sent from America, through Mr. Labouchere, valuable clues in connection with the Piggot forgeries.

Presiding Justice Hannen then asked witness: "Would you instruct Munroe & Co., the Paris bankers, to produce an account of the trust fund."

Mr. Parnell responded: "I decline to give any information concerning the fund to friend or foe?"

To be Deprived of Civil Rights.

PARIS, July 23.—The Republique Francaise says that the committee of the senate court is about to issue an order depriving General Boulanger, Count Dillon and Henri Rochefort of all civil and political rights. This action of the committee is taken on the ground that they have refused to comply with the summons issued by the senate court to appear for trial on the charges made against them. This decision will render them ineligible to election to any office in France, and will, also, make any property they may own in France liable to seizure.

To Attack the Dervishes.

LONDON, July 23.—General Greenfell, the British commander in Egypt, reports to the war office that he intends to make a general advance against the dervishes at the end of the present month, at which time the British reinforcements will have arrived, and all arrangements will be completed for the movement.

Reports from Manitoba.

TORONTO, Ont., July 23.—Reports as to the condition of crops in Manitoba as a whole are satisfactory. In Manitoba wheat will be an average crop, barley a two-thirds crop and oats a poor crop. The situation is not all that could be desired, but there seems to be no good ground for the despairing reports that have been circulated.

The Treaty Not to be Renewed.

BERLIN, July 23.—Germany has notified Switzerland that the treaty between the two governments regulating the settlement of foreigners in Switzerland will not be renewed. The treaty will expire at the end of 1890.

David Heron, late of Jonesboro, this state, is under sentence of death in Corea for teaching the doctrines of Christianity. Rev. David Heron is well known as a Presbyterian minister. He went to Corea about three years ago, the wife joining her husband a few weeks later. Mrs. Heron preached the gospel as well as her husband, and was the means of converting a nobleman in Corea, who began preaching Christianity. The emperor had Mrs. Heron arrested and thrown into prison. Her case was investigated, and finally the sentence of death was passed. Mrs. Heron was known as the most beautiful lady in Upper East Tennessee.

WHEN CIVIL SERVICE REFORMS.

Duluth has just had a very striking illustration of one of the most objectionable features of the spoils-of-office system, which the reform of the civil service has not yet obliterated. Last week the member of congress for this district paid this city a visit, remaining several days. There are three federal offices which are still held by the democratic appointees—good men, fitted for their duties, and performing them in a manner entirely acceptable to the government, so far as known, and to the acceptance of the people here who transact business with them. It is assumed that when their terms of office expire, if not sooner, their places will be filled by republicans. This is not unnatural, nor wrong. It is also assumed that the parties who can organize the strongest storming party with which to march against the citadel of appointive power will get the offices. So our congressman was beseiged by these worthy gentlemen, whose zeal to serve their country is only equalled by their zeal to secure the opportunity for such service, and during all the time he was here he was forced to listen to the dulcet and persuasive voices of patriots who sought to convince him that the welfare of the administration depended upon the appointment of Mr. A. for postmaster, Mr. B. for collector and Mr. C. for receiver of the land office.

None of these offices are especially "fat" ones. They all involve hard work, and require a better talent and closer attention than can be had for the salary by private concerns. The applicants are all bright and capable men—men who are sure to get along, whether they get the offices they crave or not. They can all make more money outside the offices than they can in them, probably. Yet they are touched with the office-seeking fever and they are willing to spend months in a feverish chase after the petty prize, to pull all the wires they can possibly get hold of, make friends with everybody who is supposed to have the least influence with the congressman or anybody in power, watch their opponents, make journeys to Washington, to St. Paul, or anywhere, smile upon everybody, truckle to every small politician, and part with about all self-respect and manhood they have, simply to get an office.

All this is very small business. It will be a happy day for the country when it shall be done away with, by the advance of the civil-service. Then it may not be necessary for congressmen to devote the greater part of their time to listening to the recital of the qualifications for office of a would-be postmaster or collector or receiver, but public business might get some attention. Then communities will not have to be for months convulsed over the claims of citizens for certain offices; and then there would be balm in Gilead for the newspapers.

New York and Chicago are quarrelling for the great world's fair, as though the privilege of selling all the pink lemonade were at stake.

The Chicago Tribune admits with charming simplicity and directness of statement that that windy city has "no need for more gas companies."

Gov. Merriam's refusal to interfere in behalf of the Younger brothers will, we are sure, be everywhere approved. Their crime was deliberately planned and fiendishly executed. They deserve nothing but what they are getting—oblivion in state prison.

Now it is reported that the Southern republicans are going to have something to say about the election of the speaker of the next house of representatives. They should have their say and their vote, as they doubtless will, but there seems to be no good cause for trouble between the Southern and Northern republicans on account of appointments. There is no North nor no South in that matter—only Indiana.

Ever since the bull report was sent out by Minneapolis millers early in the season to the effect that the wheat crop was bound to be a dismal failure, the fact has been gradually dawning upon the public consciousness that the wheat crop would really be fair if not good. The most reliable reports now confirm this view. The crop from northern Minnesota and North Dakota will doubtless be an average one, or slightly above. If it is, it will be something like 20 per cent better than conservative authorities have been willing to estimate it.

The survivors of the old First regiment evidently enjoyed their visit to Duluth. We are mighty glad they did. We enjoyed having them here. This is how the matter was impressed upon the Minneapolis Tribune:

The twenty-second annual reunion of the First Minnesota volunteer infantry, held at Duluth the 18th and 19th, was one of the grandest and most pleasant ever held, and they all enjoyed themselves as only old soldiers can. None but those having been through the baptismal fire of a vigorous campaign know how comrades feel when they meet. The boys one and all expressed themselves that the people of Duluth are the best of entertainers, and will ever remember the generous, hearty welcome with which they were received and the royal manner they were entertained.

This is the way we like to have our visitors talk about Duluth. It is the way everybody who visits us ought to be made to talk, and they'll all do it if they are all treated as well as the old soldiers were last week.

The Street Railway company has at length, and after great and prolonged pressure had been brought to bear, agreed to build one mile of new track eastward on Bench street. For this slight and tardy extension, Duluth is grateful. It does not, however, fully meet the necessities of the case. With this extension, there will still remain a city of 50,000 people with but four miles and a half of street railway. There is urgent need of much more. A company fully alive to its opportunities, and imbued with the prevailing spirit of enterprise, would be actively engaged on plans to reach Lakeside and West Duluth, as well as to provide means of transportation for the people living at the East End above Third street and other sections. Perhaps the Street Railway company will some day realize that to partake of the benefits of the growth of Duluth, it must be willing to grow with our growth.

SEEN AND HEARD.

"Did you ever take a moonlight excursion on the lake?" said an enthusiastic young friend of mine a few days ago. "No? Well, the next time the excursions begin, you should go. I went on the Barker not long since. It wasn't moonlight at all, by the way, but I was rather glad of it. I never realized before in its fullest sense that 'distance lends enchantment to the view,' but the sight of Duluth, with its myriads of lights, was an enchanting scene. The electric lights running, as they do, up the avenues and across the streets, make a most remarkable and beautiful sight, seeming to form a pyramid of light. You can't imagine how beautiful the effect is till you go out on the lake and see it for yourself."

* * *

"Yes, sir, if you had told me three years ago there was going to be a large town where West Duluth now is I should have thought you were a dum fool, no matter what I might have said." These remarks were addressed to me as I stood by Sutphin's crossing last night waiting for the short line train, by a seedy looking fellow, with shaggy hair and eyebrows, carrying an axe, and bearing other evidences of being a son of toil. "Why, when I first struck into these woods, Fred Lemargie had a little clearing where the stock yards are now. I remember I drove up from Rices Point on an ox wagon. It was the toughest trip I ever took in my life. One of the Ely boys drove the team, and where the stumps were thickest we got out and walked, for we couldn't hang on nohow. After you left Rices Point the timber stood so thick a man never would have dreamed Lake Superior was within a thousand miles for all you could see of it. The road had just been cut through between Rices Point and Oneota, and it was nothing more than a wagon track, and a tough one at that. I have lived here ever since, and never had sense enough to buy a foot of land; no sir, I'm actually poorer than when I first came to the place in '57. Have you any chewing tobacco, stranger? Thanks, just enough for one more chaw, I'll keep it. So long."

* * *

"Did you ever realize," said an old railroader, as we stood watching the South Shore and Atlantic train pull out of the Union depot on its way to the East, "that Duluth is the direct central point between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans? To this city rather than Chicago belongs the title, 'Inter-Oceanic City.' Between 8 and 9 o'clock every evening, westward to the great Pacific, steams the Northern Pacific train that does not stop until its precious freight reaches the boundary of the United States. Then to the east from this same point—Duluth—the whistle sounds, the ding-dong of the bell is heard and over the Zenith City Short line the engine pulls a string of coaches to the East, and no halt is made until it comes to the New England metropolis—Boston. Yes, Duluth is the inter-oceanic city, and in a few years more trains to the North and trains to the South will run over tracks connecting this city with the limit of settlement in British America and with the Gulf of Mexico."

* * *

"Do we sell much soda water? Yes, considerable, in view of the cool season. Confidently," and the man of syrup and foam leaned over close to me so that his remarks wouldn't be overheard, "Confidentially, 'there's millions in it.' I wouldn't care for any better business than to rustle day in and day out with 'fizz.' Every glass we sell contains a clear profit of about four cents; if we sell 400 hundred glasses a day you can figure the profit, yourself. But one trouble with this blooming town is, the water is too cold half the time. In the East, where heat prevails six months in the year, I know druggists who make $12,000 and $15,000 a year out of this one thing alone, but there they have several fountains and hire half a dozen men to attend them. Here, if we make $1000 we're doing well."

A CRADLE OF GREEN.

[Mary Augusta Mason, in Harper's Bazar.]

Hushaby, baby, thy cradle is green,
Out in the summer air, where the warm wind
Waves the long grasses; as silent by day
As when thou at night in thy home-cradle lay.
Nothing in nature to thee is unkind.

Nothing can mar the still peace of thy sleep,
Tended and rocked by the mother of all,
For her never waking to smile or to weep.
Mine the last kisses thy pale brow shall keep,
And mine the last name did thy baby lips call.

Ah, there's a cradle all lone in my heart!
Sadly I rock it by night and by day;
Not for all gladness with it would I part—
Place where my joy and my treasure once lay—
For some time, through even my tears, I can see
The baby will come back to it and to me.

FASHIONS IN BUTTONS.

Buttons hand painted are quite the rage.

To collect "button sets" is becoming the fashion.

The cameo buttons are carved on pieces of conch shell and landscapes are introduced.

Buttons have become an important feature of the masculine tennis and yachting costumes.

Some show pretty, frivolous, mythologic designs in picturesque groups of cavaliers and ladies.

Fifteen is about as many buttons as a handsome gown, utilizing all its opportunities, can comfortably maintain.

For young ladies who are the artists of their own pretty toilets, the plain white porcelain buttons possess irresistible charm.

The characteristic button of the season ranges from the size of a copper to that of an English penny, and thence to the dimensions and almost the weight of a silver dollar.

Buttons in gilt, silvered or lacquered are usually adorned with graceful paintings in the gay, soft, bright green and pinks and blues which color the dainty silks of the summer.

Finely cut steel buttons have come back to us as big, as intricate in pattern and as highly polished as those which were the rage of young tory dandies in revolutionary times.

Recamier gowns are adorned by historic sets of old silver buttons painted by Watteau and Boucher, and raked from London and Paris bric-a-brac shops or preserved as heirlooms in families.

Some of the ornamental buttons which have been brought into use by the fashion of ridingotes are simply painted with a number of brilliant colors, so harmonious as to produce a rich and refined effect.

MUST STAY IN PRISON.

The Governor Says He Will Not Pardon the Infamous Youngers.

Prospects for the State Fair, and Other Live State News.

ST PAUL, July 23.—Governor Merriam has announced that he will not interfere in the case of the Younger brothers, who are serving life sentences in the state prison. He has listened to and reviewed petition after petition from many of the prominent men of this and other states, but they have not shaken him in his firm belief that the boys should fully expiate their crime, as far as it is possible, in the eyes of the law. He says: "Those boys came a great distance to Minnesota with a premeditated idea of committing robbery and murder. There are no extenuating circumstances in the case. The boys pleaded guilty, and if they had not they would have been hanged. They were shown mercy and given a life sentence. Now that time has passed is no reason why they should be pardoned. So great a crime cannot be expiated in so short a time. It is natural that this lapse of time should have created some sympathy, but it should not interfere with their just punishment. In my judgment it is a weakness in the execution of the law to condemn a man for life and afterwards, when the feelings of people have been allayed, to pardon him."

THE STATE FAIR.

President Bushnell Thinks It Will be a Great Show.

ST. PAUL, July 23.—President Bushnell, of the State Fair association, held a conference yesterday afternoon with Cols. Bend, Wright and Bobleter, Adjt.-Gen. Mullen and Major Hawley, representing the State National Guard, to arrange for the appearance of the State militia companies at the annual fair. While no definite plans were agreed upon, the meeting was enthusiastic, and the interest shown by the officers present indicates that the appearance of the National Guard will be an assured fact, and the competitive drill one of the greatest features of the fair.

In regard to the fair President Bushnell said last night: "It is very gratifying indeed to see what patriotism and zeal is evinced by the people of this state when approached in reference to our society. I find the whole state more than delighted with the change in the premium list, which gives to our own products the benefit of state competition. There is a strong feeling abroad that several of the leading counties of the state will erect very fine buildings in which to place their county exhibits and thus have their own county headquarters. This is following out the theory of the great exhibit from Duluth and the northern part of the state. The National States guard and all their friends and admirers, and that includes the entire population of the state are anxiously waiting the time when the regiments will have the opportunity of carrying off one or more of the great premiums to be offered for competitive drill."

DANCING ELEPHANTS.

4-Paw's Famous Troupe of Wonderful Quadrille Pachyderms.

Forepaugh's troupe of quadrille-dancing elephants have been the sensation of the season. Nothing like these trained beasts have ever been seen before. The evolutions through which they go and the constant intelligence which they display, provoke admiration for the genius and patience which have brought their faculties into play. In order to illustrate to what perfection elephants can be trained, Forepaugh has selected eight trumpeting pachyderms, all answering to names. There is Othello and Desdemona, Romeo and Juliet, Hamlet and Ophelia and Antony and Cleopatra. These elephants go through a quadrille with the same ease and grace as the most skillful, bow, promenade and "chassez" in a way that is as wonderful as it is ludicrous. These marvelous elephants, together with Adam Forepaugh, Jr's. $50,000 troupe of trained broncho horses; "Eclipse," the equine aerialist; the great arenic exhibition of sensations, and the history-depicting and soul-stirring reproduction of life upon the plains, with Dr. Carver, the famous traveler and rifle-shot, and two hundred scouts, soldiers, cowboys and Indians, will be seen with the Forepaugh shows, which exhibit at Duluth on Friday, August 9th.

CHANNELS ON THE LAKES

General Poe's Annual Report on the Great Lake Waterways.

Trade of the World's Great Canal Compared With Last Year.

Gen. Poe's annual report on lake and harbor improvements for the year ended June 25, 1889, contains much that is interesting relative to the development of the commerce of the great lakes, at the head of which Duluth sits. He calls attention to the increase in tonnage passing through the Sault Ste. Marie canal; estimates the cost of the enlargement of the canal system at $4,738,865, of which $1,000,000 has already been appropriated. Statistics of commerce indicate the urgency for rapid progress in this improvement. It is now so great that an estimate of $1,235,875 is submitted for the prosecution of the work during the fiscal year. The aggregate expense on this improvement to June 30, 1889, has been $250,331.52.

A table has been compiled showing the different freight rates obtained for coal, flour, grain, manufactured iron, pig iron, salt, copper, iron ore, lumber, silver ore, building stone and unclassified freight. From a study of these an average rate, including terminal charges, was deduced for each commodity. The average freight charge per unit of measurement of the commodity on principal commodities was as follows: Coal 70c, flour 17½c, wheat 3½c, corn 3½c, oats 5c, manufactured iron $1.80, salt 10c, copper $2.53, iron ore $1.28, pig iron $1.30, lumber $2.80, silver ore $1.90, building stone $2.05, unclassified freight $3. The aggregate of these freight charges for the season of 1888 was $7,883,077. This, divided by the miles tons, 5,173,132,972, gives the cost per mile per ton as one and a half mills, which is a reduction of four-fifths of a mill in a year.

The total amount expended on the Hay Lake channel work to date is $497,708, of which $104,172.04 was expended during the last fiscal year. Right of way through islands at Sugar Island rapids has been purchased. An estimate of $500,000 is made for carrying on the work during the year. The total amount still necessary to finish the improvement is $1,684,115.

The total amount expended on the Lime Kiln crossing improvement at Detroit, Mich., to date is $612,807, of which $40,557 was expended during the last fiscal year. The importance of the work is obvious when it is shown that the number of vessels passing through Detroit river during the season of 1888 was 31,304, and the total tonnage 19,099,000. For improving Grosse Pointe channel above Detroit an estimate is submitted of $555,000. It contemplates a depth of 19½ feet. The cost of operating and taking care of St. Clair Flats canal last year was $20,315. The amount immediately required is $200,530.

Gen. Poe refers to the Morrell proposition to build a ship canal across the upper peninsula of Michigan to connect Lakes Superior and Michigan, heretofore dissected in The Herald. The amount of freight transported between these lakes in 1888 aggregated 267,849 tons, or 4 per cent of the whole. The Spokane made the greatest number of ton miles, 51,780,300, and the Canadian propeller Albeta ran the greatest number of miles, 20,175. The Charles J. Sheffield is credited with the greatest amount of freight. The barge Wahnapitae carried the largest cargo. Sixty-five different steamers and thirteen different sail vessels or lake barges carried cargoes of 2000 tons or upward. The former averaged 2476 tons and the latter 2315 tons.

Sault Ste. Marie Canal.

The following is the report of the vessels passing through the Sault canal for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1889, with the number of times and costs of the lockages:

Number of vessels	8,832
Number of lockages	4,360
Registered tonnage	6,243,494
Freight tonnage	6,662,263
Total time locks in operation, 3012 hours and 55 minutes.
Average time making lockage, 41 minutes. Total time vessels in lock, 4891 hours.
Cost of lockage per vessel	$3.4900
Cost per freight ton	.0044

This cost includes repairs and improvements made by the operating and care, force and labor employed. The following shows the number of vessels passed and the freight and passenger traffic:

Steamers	42
Propellers	6062
Sailing ships	2319
Rafts and unregistered craft	409
Total	8832
Freight and Passenger Traffic—
Coal, tons	1,854,527
Copper, tons	30,261
Flour, barrels	2,157,973
Wheat, bushels	3,084,417
Grain other than wheat, bushels	2,117,694
Iron ore, net tons	3,414,950
Pig and manufactured iron, net tons	50,062
Salt, barrels	206,957
Silver ore, tons	3,480
Lumber, feet, board measure	276,181,000
Building stone, tons	25,772
Miscellaneous and unclassified	351,669
Total tonnage	6,932,333
Comparative statement—

June 30,	1889	1888
Number vessels	8,832	8,923
Number lockages	4,360	3,940
Registered tonnage	6,243,494	4,741,976
Freight tonnage	6,662,263	5,531,165
Average time lockage	41 min.	39 min.
Average time in locks	33 min.	33 min.
Cost per lockage	$6.97	$7.37
Cost per vessel	3.49	3.29
Cost registered ton'ge	.0049	.0061
Propellers	6,062	5,635
Sailships	2,319	2,230

It will be noticed that the number of propellers has largely increased, while the number of craft passing locks has not materially increased, while the registered tonnage has increased 1,471,518 tons. This shows that the smaller craft are rapidly giving way to vessels of larger tonnage.

The following is the increase over last year in various articles which form the bulk of the Lake Superior freight:

Increased registered tonnage	1,471,518
Increased freight tonnage	1,401,634
Increased iron ore tonnage	1,086,514
Increased coal tonnage	149,218
Increased flour, barrels	515,737
Increased lumber, feet	87,953,000

The wheat freightage decreased 8,942,752 bushels and passengers were about 3000 less. The former was due to increase in flour tonnage, and poor crops. The latter to the cold weather of last summer. Copper also dropped off 1607 tons.

SPORTING NOTES.

The Washington team is trying hard to get out of last place.

Alvord, Toledo's third baseman, has been sold to Kansas City.

Denny, the league ball player, has made thirteen home runs this season.

Glasscock, of the Indianapolis team, made his 100th hit in the Boston game Wednesday.

Von der Abe, of the St. Louis team, charges Latham and King with playing crooked ball.

As the Boston club is playing loose ball again poor Kelly is coming in for another batch of harsh criticism.

The Irish rifle team won the Elcho challenge shield in the Wimbleton match. English and Scotch teams contested.

Axtell, the Minnesota trotting wonder, will trot at Cleveland during the circuit races, beginning July 30, to beat the stallion record of 2:13¼.

The New York Yacht club in a recent meeting decided to offer special prizes for which the English yacht, Valkyrie can contest in American waters.

John Leavitt, the champion short distance swimmer of America, and William McCluskey, of Lowell, Mass., have been matched to swim a mile for a $250 purse.

A Massachusetts man claims to have a horse that has trotted a half mile at a 2:08 gait. He wants a Boston sportsman to offer a purse for a trot against time.

In regard to the report that the Indianapolis team was in a bad financial way President Young, of the league, says that the club is all right and will play the season out under the present management.

When the Western league started out with its present list of cities, it was stated any number of times that the association would be a failure. Sioux City is said to be deep in the financial hole and the management has tried to give the club to Lincoln, but with no success. Duluth has also been offered one team since the season began. It is a surety that next year Duluth will have a team of pennant winners in the Northwestern association.

An Expensive Chimney.

There's many a dwelling in Duluth that has cost less than the tall brick chimney of the Electric Light and Power company. It will have cost over $2000 when raised to its full height, 120 feet. It is 11 feet square at the base, is built of 130,000 brick, lined with the brick part of its height, while its thickness of brickwork is 30 inches, with an air space in the center. THE DAY IN THE CITY.

A temperance lecture will be delivered at Lakeside on Friday evening by Mrs. Hobart, president of the state W. C. T. U. and a noted lecturess.

A false alarm of fire got the fire department out in a hurry last night. It was given as a test.

A meeting of residents of the East End will be held at Stratey hall tonight for the purpose of hearing the report of the committee appointed to confer with the Street Railway company in reference to the extension of street car service. All interested should make it a point to be present.

Prof. Henry Cohn, of the school of languages, will deliver a free lecture on Schiller's play, "The Maid of Orleans," tomorrow at 11 a. m. at the Y. M. C. A.

The south-bound trains this morning were crowded with Duluthians going to the Jockey club races at St. Paul.

The Presbyterian Sunday school will hold its annual picnic at Oat-ka beach next Thursday. The first boat will return early in the afternoon, the second at 8 p. m. The picnic promises to be largely attended.

The newly formed Apollo club will hold its first rehearsal at the studio of H. P. Robinson tomorrow night.

The annual meeting of the Lake Superior Elevator company will be held Aug. 20, while the Union Improvement and Elevator company holds its meeting on the day following.

On account of the non-attendance of one of the parties in interest the commissioners meeting looking to the condemnation of certain lands for Park purposes was adjourned till Friday next at 2 p. m.

Nearly all stone work on the Palladio building has been completed and the brick work will rise very rapidly hence forward.

The various coal companies that have held out against an advance in wages are expected to pay the increase very soon.

At the Graff-Frisbee building next the Merchants hotel the work is under way on the top story.

He Startled Them.

The habitues of the Union station were amazed and startled last evening to see a young man, arrayed only with a look of innocence and guilelessness, a coat and shirt stand suddenly in their midst. He was evidently intensely verdant, for, unnoticed by anyone, he had calmly disrobed in the gentlemen's waiting room and proceeded to make a change from his old "togs" for some he had probably just purchased. His vanity cost him some vexation, for he was soon fired out of the building into public view, from which he scampered to an out house. When he came out again innocence still held his features, but he had his trousers on.

The Zenith City Holds Her Own.

I will meet any competition in my line, no matter where from, New York, Chicago, Minneapolis or St. Paul.

HUSTLING SUCCESSFUL.

East Enders Start a Move on the Street Railway Company.

Considerable Business Done By the City's Guardians.

The East End residents are jubilant today. Yesterday they received a communication from the Street Railway company agreeing to at once extend its line along Bench street from its present terminus at Thirteenth avenue east as far as Bench street has been improved, which will take it to Twenty-second avenue east, nearly one mile beyond its present stopping place. This promise was at once clinched by the company's action in begining yesterday afternoon to distribute rail beyond Thirteenth avenue. As soon as the sewer, which is now being built, is filled in the company promises to push the construction of the extension.

This action of the Street Railway company has been brought about by the persistent efforts of the East End residents, and has been finally successful because of the very vigorous measures that have recently been resorted to, after all reasonable entreaties and persuasions had failed. A petition had been drawn praying the city council to order the extension, and in the event of failure to build, to take measures to procure the forfeiture of the company's franchise. This was to have been presented to the council last evening, and the aldermen had agreed to vote for it. In addition to this, a heroic company had been organized by the East End people to run coaches on Superior, Bench and Second streets. The capital had been subscribed, and bids received from stable keepers. These facts were presented to the Street Railway company, with the result as stated.

Now if those people who are so earnestly calling for a cable line up the hill to make available the vast amount of good building and sightly residence property back of the center of the city will take hold with like determination and enterprise, they, too, can get what they want. There are hundreds of acres of the best building property in Duluth that is now unavailable from just this cause, there being no way of easy access. The Street Railway company claims it is getting ready to go to work, but it is getting ready with an appalling deliberateness.

CITY BUSINESS.

The Usual Weekly Entertainment at the Council Chamber Last Evening.

It was some time, last night, before the necessary number to transact business gathered at the council room, but after they began business they rushed it along. Estimates amounting to $6000 were referred. In regard to the proposed change in dock line, bordering the Northern Pacific road, the secretary of war stated, in a communication, that the power to act in the matter was vested wholly in the state. Estimates amounting to over $19,000 were ordered paid. The council then voted unanimously to cancel the sidewalk assessment against the Womans home. The street superintendent was ordered to act in the matter of removing obstructions from in front of the West End fire house.

It was voted to pay the Norwegian Evangelical church 15 cents a yard for dirt used from its lot to grade streets. The council then passed a resolution paying the city's share of entertaining the First Minnesota regiment. The Gas and Water company was ordered to lay mains between Fourteenth and Twenty-eighth avenues west on Superior street. The board of works was authorized to invite Sanitary Engineers Hering, of New York, and Rosewater, of Omaha, to come here and consult with city authorities for a new seworage system. The two to receive about $1400 and to plan for all the upper part of the city as high as Sixteenth street.

The Eastern Minnesota will be allowed $650 as the city's portion of the retaining wall to be built on West Michigan street fronting the company's property. The railway demanded $3400. An ordinance was introduced amending the health ordinance. It provides that any privy within twenty feet of a house, fence or wall shall be declared a nuisance; also, that property-owners shall use boxes in closets, as recommended by State Health Officer Hewitt.

CONFIRMATION OF ASSESSMENTS.

Judge Ensign Confirms Assessments for a Large Amount of Improvements.

This morning Judge Ensign confirmed several assessments. Following are the items of assessments, giving the locality and nature of benefit:

For the construction of a stone gutter on the east side of Twentieth avenue west from Michigan to Superior street, $108; for the construction of a sanitary sewer from Lake avenue to Second avenue west, $2023; for certain improvements, grading, etc., of Nineteenth avenue west from Railroad alley to Third street and also for sewer on said avenue, $11,193; for grading and other improvements on First avenue east from St. Paul and Duluth railroad to Ninth street, the construction of a storm sewer on First avenue east from First to Fourth streets, and for grading the alley between Fourth and Fifth streets from First avenue to Second avenue east, $6515; for certain improvements on Third avenue east, $9962; certain improvements from Superior to Eleventh street, storm sewer, etc., $22,400.

Pleasant Words of Commendation.

Mrs. Black, department president of the Womans Relief corps of the state, left for St. Paul last night. Mrs. Black was present at the last meeting of the corps held Saturday, and said that Willis A. Gorman Post W. R. C. was one of the most prosperous in the state, was doing more work, and raised the most money of any corps in Minnesota. She was much pleased with the work and spirit of the corps. It was a credit not only to Duluth but the entire state.

Lester Park Building.

At Lester Park quite a number of houses are approaching completion. Major Quinn expects to move into his new residence some time next week. S. R. Norris's house is almost ready for occupancy and he will move in in a few days. W. M. Moody and George Crosby both bought lots yesterday and will build at once.

The steamer Barker will leave Wednesday at 10:30 a. m. for Spirit Lake and Fond du Lac. Parties desiring to stop off at Spirit Lake can do so and boat will pick them up on her return.

A New Firm.

A. F. Rudolph, architect, has associated with himself in the practice of his profession here E. S. Radcliffe, of St. Paul, and the firm name will be Rudolph & Radcliffe. One of the members of the firm is already well known to Duluth people as a draughtsman and designer of much ability, while Mr. Radcliffe has long been engaged in the profession of architecture at St. Paul with his father. He will arrive in Duluth to remain in about a week. The first work done by the new firm was the designing of the Knights of Pythias hall and armory, a description of which has already appeared in The Herald. The new Endion school, described in this paper a week ago, was designed by Mr. Rudolph.

Comes Up Next Week.

The East Superior street contract matter will come up for discussion at the next meeting of the city council. It is the general opinion among the aldermen that it is too late this year to reconsider the contract, so that it can be divided into separate jobs. If it is ultimately decided to let the work in several different contracts, the improvement cannot go on until next year, so it is said.

Sunday school excursion of St. Pauls Episcopal church, Thursday, July 25. First a Pigmy---Anon a Giant.

We are too apt to regard a small ailment much as we would some pigmy, unpleasant of aspect and prankish indeed, but incapable of serious mischief. We ignore the fact that it grows prodigiously, strengthens in proportion and begets evil progeny. A fit of indigestion, a slight bilious attack, sensations of unrest and languor when the system should have been braced by recent sleep, uncountable nervousness, inactivity of the kidneys or bladder—what are these but the precursors of obstinate and serious bodily disturbance? In either of the above emergencies, common sense and experience unite in indicating Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as the best preventive. Particularly should its use be prompt when the languor, yawning, chilliness down the back, and feverishness that precede a malarial attack manifest themselves. Incipient rheumatism grows apace. Don't neglect it. So with constipation and debility.

CAUTION W. L. Douglas' name and the price are stamped on the bottom of all Shoes advertised by him before leaving his factory; this protects the wearers against high prices and inferior goods. If your dealer does not keep the style or kind you want, or offers you shoes without W. L. Douglas' name and price stamped on them, and says they are just as good, do not be deceived thereby, but send direct to the Factory for you can get what you want by return mail, postage paid. Dealers make more profit on unknown shoes that are not warranted by anybody; therefore do not be induced to buy shoes that have no reputation. Buy only those that have W. L. Douglas' name and the price stamped on the bottom, and you are sure to get full value for your money. Thousands of dollars are saved annually in this country by the wearers of W. L. Douglas' Shoes. In ordering by mail state whether you want Congress, Button or Lace, London cap toe, plain French toe, or narrow cap toe, and be sure to give size and width you wear. I can fit any foot that is not deformed, as my shoes are made in a great variety of widths, sizes and half sizes, I guarantee a fit, prompt delivery and perfect satisfaction or money refunded upon return of the shoes in good condition.

Six solemn drunks were ranged in line at the police court this morning. Mrs. McGraw, the woman who wanted her child brought back from Owatonna, was on hand, as usual, and pleaded not guilty to the charge of being drunk, as did also Frank Johnson and Richard Demarer. Each was required to give bail in the sum of $25, in default of which they were committed to jail to await trial. Isaac Holappa, who looked as if he had been through a threshing machine, was fined $10 and costs. Dan Olson was committed.

At 10 o'clock the cases against the gamblers were taken up. The preliminary hearing of the gamblers, Murray, Trudell, Hicken and others, has been postponed to August 29, on account of the absence of some of the principals in the cases. John Lynch for running a shooting gallery without a license was fined $2.

COAL MEN STAY OUT.

Work Going Forward on but Two of Duluth's Coal Docks.

The coal heavers' strike has become pretty general, there being about 250 men out now. All thework that has been going on today was at the Pioneer dock and the Northwestern Fuel company's dock. It was given out this morning that an attempt would be made to prevent the men at these places from working and at 1 o'clock Capt. McLaughlin with a squad of police was on the grounds. Though a large number gathered no attempt was made to stop work. The crowd, which appeared good natured and peaceable soon dispersed.

It was stated that there is some talk of sending to St. Paul for men to fill the places of the strikers, and this announcement has caused considerable ill-feeling, and threats of trouble are made if such action is taken.

Board of Equalization.

The county commissioners organized yesterday afternoon by electing T. H. Bonham chairman, Jefferson, Butchart and Auditor La Vaque, who composed the board of equalization. An adjournment was taken till this morning, but on account of there not being a quorum, another adjournment was taken till tomorrow morning. At this time the board will begin its labors.

THE MARKETS.

Dull and Inactive Wheat Market, With Good Reports From the Crop.

It was another inactive wheat market here today, with a firmer feeling and stronger tone in regard to prices for the new crop deliveries, caused by the slowness and apparant reluctance of country dealers and shippers in putting out any sales as against their anticipated receipts and purchases for September and October, as has been their custom in previous years. The following were the closing quotations:

Cash No. 1 hard, car lots, firm and unchanged, nominal at 99½. No. 1 northern, nominal at 95. No. 2 northern, 92 bid, 93 asked. No. 3 wheat, nominal at 73. July wheat, dull and neglected, firmly held at 99¼. August wheat, dull and lower to sell, offered at 80. September wheat, very dull with an absence of sellers, closed at 82 bid. October wheat, very firmly held with sellers at 84. December wheat, dull, no trading in it; closed nominally at 84. August corn, firm and higher at 35⅝ bid. Receipts today, 5725 bu, with nine cars wheat on track. Shipments, none.

New York Produce.

NEW YORK, July 23.—Wheat, receipts, 42,650 bu; sales, 4,440,000 bu; strong, ½@¾ higher; more active on foreign crop reports; July, 87⅞@88; August, 85¾@86⅝; September, 85¾@86⅜; October, 87@87⅞; December, 87 11-16@89⅛; May, 93⅝@94. Corn receipts, 122,100 bu; sales, 600,000 bu; strong, ¼ higher, fairly active. Mixed western, 42½@44¼. Oats, receipts, 29,000 bu; neglected, nominal. Western, 25@30.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, 12 m., July 23.—Money is easy, at 3½ per cent. The stock market subdued into intense dullness after 11 o'clock, and while there was a general dropping tendency in prices the changes in quotations were insignificant and the dealings were entirely devoid of features. At noon the market was quiet to dull to steady, at a shade above the opening prices.

Sellers proceeded to elevate prices, but found that the moderate demand would be cut off entirely except on a few choice lots of No. 2 northern, which were picked up early by millers. A few orders were being filled later for outside millers at about yesterday's prices, but the bulk of the wheat taken was for local account.

THE DAY IN THE CITY.

There were thirty-two passengers out on the Eastern last night and twenty-one this morning. The other roads were also well patronized.

After the Duluth-bound South Shore train reached Marquette last night every berth in the sleeper was taken.

The Northern Pacific Railway company is giving a special freight rate on wool and like commodities.

A cut rate ticket office will be opened this week in the Hotel St. Louis in the store recently vacated by Marshall & Chapman.

The passenger boats are doing most of the east-bound passenger business this season and railway travel suffers severely. Most of the railway agents say business is not nearly as good as it was in the winter. They look for better times as soon as the lake season is over.

Arrangements are about completed for the Merritt Phelps building next the Exchange, and the contract for the foundation will be let at once. It is still undecided whether to spend $45,000 or $75,000 or to make the building four or seven stories above Michigan street.

A telegram from Cleveland confirms the statement made in The Herald yesterday to the effect that the Minnesota Iron company's ships would be constructed at Cleveland. The report of a Chicago shipyard and for the iron company, published in a Duluth paper this morning, is old and has several times been contradicted since it was published in the paper from which it was clipped this morning.

Marriage licenses were issued to John B. Gagne to Christine Gustafson; Gustaf N. Pierson to Margaretha Hasselberg.

A horse driven by E. G. Hodgson, architect, ran away this noon, and Mr. Hodgson was slightly injured. He was alone in the buggy at the time.

A horse belonging to Mr. Le Febvre, the tin cornice manufacturer, ran away this afternoon on Lake avenue, demolishing a buggy. No one was hurt.

A Peculiar View.

Superior Evening Journal: While the strike is a serious loss to the men and contractors most directly interested, and of course to the business community, yet the advertising which West Superior has had out of it can not but be of advantage to the city. One man sent 10,000 words to papers, which, with that sent by special correspondents, amounted to over 15,000.

THE EDITORS.

Wisconsin Knights of the Paste-Pot Assembled This Morning.

The Wisconsin editors convened at La Crosse early this morning and commenced their sight-seeing and merry-making at that city, where they spent the day. Late tonight they start for Eau Claire, and tomorrow will be spent in and about the city. In the afternoon they will take the train for Superior and Duluth, arriving at the former place Thursday morning. For most of Thursday they will be entertained there, and will arrive in Duluth during the evening. Their entertainment here is in the hands of committees of several local bodies, who will arrange it at once. They will probably be dined, driven about the city and taken to West Duluth.

Thursday evening the party will leave Duluth for St. Paul, and after spending Friday in looking over that city and White Bear, they will disband. Governor Hoard will accompany the party.

On account of the short time given to look over Duluth a number will return from St. Paul and spend a few days with friends in this city.

A LENGTHY SESSION.

The Chamber of Commerce Discusses at Length Some Important Matters.

With a large attendance at the Chamber of Commerce this morning and several important matters for consideration the session was a lively one. The first thing under consideration was a communication from the Superior chamber of commerce regarding the waterways convention. The matter of the resolution regarding the course of the Duluth Daily News, in reference to the late strike, was then taken up and a motion to reconsider was indefinitely postponed. The minutes of the meeting during the strike, to which the citizens were invited were ordered corrected, so as to report the exact action of the Chamber in the matter.

A resolution regarding the extension of Duluth's jobbing interests passed unanimously, and it was given out by the president that Secretary Phelps would be empowered to visit the lake cities and personally agitate the question of a Duluth location with Eastern jobbers, who may be prevailed upon to come here in view of the present advantageous freight rates. The secretary then presented a resolution, criticising the plans of the government building as they now were, and asking Secretary Windom to delay action in the matter until the next session of congress.

He is a Terror.

H. K. Gillon, chief of police of Two Harbors, and a brother of Court Officer Gillon, has won for himself a reputation among toughs that will always command respectful attention. Ed. English, a noted tough of Two Harbors, and a hard case on general principles, was ordered arrested a couple of days ago and it devolved upon Gillon to make the arrest. Gillon went into a saloon, where English was and ordered him to come along. In reply English struck the officer violently in the face, and the men clinched, Gillon getting a grip on English's windpipe. In about two minutes English was carried to the station house, where he remained unconscious thirty-six hours.

Mr. Wheat's Benefit.

The program for the concert on Friday evening at the Congregational church has not yet been arranged, but it will consist almost wholly of strictly classical music, in response to the expressed desire of many musicians who wish to hear Mr. Wheat interpret the great musical masters. There is sure to be a packed audience. No musician ever visited Duluth who aroused the interest Mr. Wheat has by his wonderful performance upon the piano and the organ. At this concert there will also be more opportunity given to hear Mrs. Nicholls, which is also in response to a popular demand.

WEST END.

John Lufte, residing at 129 Twentieth avenue, caught his hand in a cog wheel of one of the derricks on the Pioneer Fuel company's dock and badly smashed two of his fingers.

The Adams school grounds are being graveled and leveled.

Miss Long, of Philadelphia, is visiting her brother, Francis Long, the cigar dealer.

Olson & Co. will move into their new store in the Stewart & Britts building about Aug. 1.

John P. Larson, the contractor, came home this morning, after a short business trip to St. Paul.

"Scrap Iron Bill" delivered an address to the Odd Fellows at their hall last night.

The men who struck yesterday are still out. They are mostly gathered near elevator G, and are discussing the strike. Sergeant Clements, with Policemen Force, Wade and Macmanus, is also there. There are two vessels tied up at the Northwestern dock, the steamer Australasia and the schooner Northwest. A little work is being done at the Ohio Coal company's dock, but none at the Northwestern. The Pioneer Fuel company has sufficient men. A special policeman is stationed at the Northwestern dock. There is to be no trouble.

The Excursion Line.

Since its advent into the Northwestern field about three years ago, "The Burlington" has come to the front as the favorite line for large excursion parties. In June 1888, this line carried the Northwestern delegates to the National democratic convention at St. Louis by special train, to their entire satisfaction. In the same month "The Burlington" was the people's line to the National republican convention at Chicago, carrying in four days over 4000 delegates and visitors to that gathering. The Knights of Pythias also selected it as their line to the supreme lodge meeting at Cincinnati. This year the teachers of Minnesota and the Northwest selected "The Burlington" as the official route to their great meeting at Nashville. The reason is that this is the superior route for all large parties. For tickets and rates, address W. J. C. Kenyon, general passenger agent, Chicago, Burlington and Northern railroad, St. Paul, Minn., or call on your local agent.

THE TWIN CITIES DERBY.

Le Premier Wins the Great Race and the $5000 Purse in 2:10.

The Great Sporting Event Proves a Success---The Other Races.

MINNEAPOLIS, July 24.—Derby day was a great success, despite the fact that Spokane, Hindocraft and Galen were conspicuous by their absence. The attendance was large, being variously estimated at from 18,000 to 22,000, and the day perfect. The Derby was the fourth race on the card. When the bell tolled the announcement of the Derby, a wave of expectancy rippled through the grand stand, and the occupants of the carriages in the enclosure settled good footings in the carriages. Sallie Hagan with Fred Taral astride her in blue and red was first to leave her stall and gallop slowly under the wire in order that the spectators might view her trim limbs and shapely head and neck. She was followed by X, the Montana colt, whom many thought was another Spokane, having come from the territory made famous by the latter. Jockey Elette held a close rein on the likely son of Regent, for he seemed to be over anxious to let out some of the speed bound up in his fleet-looking limbs. Logic, the favorite, came next and was greeted with a cheer, as Warwick, in buff and blue, galloped him slowly under the wire. Le Premier brought up the rear, Eilke in scarlet and white sash sitting on him with all the ease in the world, with the reins of the bridle slacked. After a few parting precautions on the part of the stable boys, the four took their places at the three quarter pole as the clear notes of the bugle floated from the judges stand. "They're off," shouted a hundred voices near the betting ring just as X's white face showed around the turn. When they turned the stretch for the first quarter X led by a neck with the others well up. They came to the wire easily and passed under with Sallie Hagan leading, Le Premier second, Logic third and X throwing his head about in the rear. In going the next sixteenth Le Premier headed Sallie who also dropped behind Logic. X was giving Elette a time of it to keep him under control and Elette dared not get him with Le Premier so early in the race. They passed the first quarter post in the same order, Le Premeir setting a good pace, yet to all eyes taking things as he liked. In going to the half mile post Fred Taral began to get Sallie Hogan up a little and as he drew near Logic, Warwick gave the latter a trifle more freedom of head and both drew up pretty close to Le Premier. As they passed the post, Sallie Hogan was neck and neck with Logic, and ere they had reached the next sixteenth he was leading the favorite by a neck, a length behind Le Premier. X picked up a little as Sallie Hogan passed Logic, and it looked as though he might be going to make an effort for the race, if such a thing were possible, but as they turned into the stretch the Montana colt had settled down in fourth place, a length behind Logic.

In the stretch Eilke sat like a statue on Le Premier, and never moved a spur or raised his whip. Taral began whipping Sallie Hagan before they had squared nicely for the spurt to the wire, very likely to make second place a sure thing, for he surely had no hope of heading Le Premier. Warwick plied his whip on Logic, but the son of Longfellow responded just enough to keep X a good distance in fourth place. They came under the wire with a rush, all looking as though they could stand another quarter in good shape. Le Premier won by two lengths from Sallie Hagan, who headed Logic by a good length, X coming a length behind Warwick's mount. Time, 2:10. After he had weighed in Eilke was lifted upon the three-time winner, and rode up under the judge's stand, where the purse of $5000 was handed him by General Robinson.

The other events included four races, two selling. Each was pretty well contested and the favorites beaten in all but the last. In the first Mamie Fonso was considered the winner, though Mabel, who won, was nearly as heavily backed in the second. Lotion, Angelus and Gracie D. were all supposed to be winners, but Cora Fisher carried away the purse. Cora Fisher is a half sister to Spokane. In the fourth Lizzie B. was numerously named, but Bon Air beat her out. In the last Morse was made a strong favorite and won easily.

The Count and the Circus Rider.

COPENHAGEN, July 24.—A great sensation has been caused in the highest circles of society here by the suicide of Count Sparre, a member of a prominent Swiss family, after he had killed his mistress. Count Sparre had for some time been carrying on a liason with Elvira Madigan, a circus performer, on the Island of Taiisaing. Becoming involved in a quarrel with his mistress he drew a pistol and shot her, and then killed himself. Count Sparre was married, and he and his wife moved in the most aristocratic circle of Copenhagen.

Lake Bluff Assembly.

LAKE BLUFF, Ills., July 24.—The annual Lake Bluff Summer assembly, which attracts students from all parts of the country, opened today. Among the new features this year are schools of microscopy and photography in charge of eminent professionals.

Mrs. Barry Goes to Europe.

NEW YORK, July 24.—Mrs. Leonora Barry, investigator of the work of women among the Knights of Labor, sailed on the City of Rome today for Liverpool. After a brief stay in England she will go to Paris and head the party of American working men and women that is to take in the exposition at the expense of a Detroit newspaper.

All Cripples Laid Off.

CHICAGO, July 24.—The action of the officials of the Lake Shore road, in issuing orders for the laying off of all flagmen and crossing-keepers that are crippled, attracts a good deal of attention from railroad employes, in view of the fact that it is the first road in the country to initiate such a movement. The men affected have no organization, but it is said that the Switchmens union will interest itself in their behalf.

When walking by, look into our window and see sample of that extra large pea coal. Northwestern Fuel company, 402 West Superior street.

There Will be a Great Crowd of Veterans.

MILWAUKEE, July 24.—Since the order of Commander-in-Chief Warner in relation to the forthcoming Grand Army encampment was issued last week, dispatches and letters from posts all over the country pledging their co-operation and attendance have been pouring in on the local committee, and the prospects for an immense rally are as bright as at any time since the resolution to meet in the Cream city was adopted, last year at Columbus. According to present advices the most conservative estimate of the probable attendance of veterans places the number at 200,000, while others believe that a quarter of a million or three hundred thousand will be nearer the mark.

The Worm Will Turn.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 24.—Ben. Bates, while umpiring a ball game near Owensboro last Sunday afternoon, for two clubs of boys, made a decision in the sixth inning to which Frank Morris, who was at the bat, objected. A bitter quarrel ensued and a fight followed, resulting in Bates fatally stabbing Morris with a pocket knife. He was arrested, and Morris soon died. Bates is but 16 years old.

Le Roi Est Mort.

PARIS, July 24.—M. Duperte, a Boulangist member of the chamber of deputies, last night attempted to make a speech at Port Lena Abbey, Finistere, but was attacked by a mob and stoned. A number of M. Duparte's teeth were broken and his face was cut, and he was refused permission to proceed with his remarks.

Kicked to Death.

DETROIT, Mich., July 24.—Last night Morris Crawford and Walter Mason attempted to cross a street when a buggy, containing two men, drove up and blocked the way. Upon being requested to move on, hot words ensued and the men got out of the buggy and assaulted Crawford and Mason. Crawford was knocked down and injured so seriously by a kick in the abdomen that he died shortly after being taken to the hospital. Mason was seriously, though not fatally, injured. Two men were arrested at an early hour this morning charged with the murder.

The Truth will Prevail.

LONDON, July 24.—The principal event at the Liverpool July meeting today was the race for the Liverpool cup of 1200 sovereigns, 150 sovereigns of which is in plate and the rest in specie, a handicap for 3-year-olds and upwards winning penalties, one mile and three furlongs. It was won by Mr. W. J. Legh's 5-year-old bay horse Veracity, Mr. Blundel Maple's 6-year-old bay horse Peeler, second, and Mr. J. E. Saville's aged brown horse Ringmaster, third.

Mr. Maloney Says His Say.

LONDON, July 24.—At today's session of the Parnell commission, Mr. Maloney, an ex-official of the Land League, was examined. He denied all knowledge of any documents concerning the League except those which were in the hands of Mr. George Lewis, Mr. Parnell's solicitor. Mr. Maloney also said that Mr. Parnell was in error when he stated that he (Maloney), upon leaving the country, ordered the documents in his possession should be destroyed.

How the Report Arose.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—The report from Washington last night that Mrs. H. G. Heron an American missionary in Corea had been condemned to death at Seoul is believed to have originated in a circumstance which recently befell Rev. H.G.Underwood an American missionary and his wife in Corea. Mr. Underwood was recently married at Seoul, to an American lady named Horton. They went into the interior on their bridal trip, and were mobbed in several places on account of their religious belief, but finally returned to Seoul in safety.

Workingmen Off on a Bust.

NEW YORK, July 24.—The steamship City of Rome leaving here today had on board a party of forty-two representative workingmen bound for a trip through the big manufacturing centers of England, Scotland, France, Germany and Belgium and the Paris exposition. With the party are four stenographers and typewriters, who will keep the records of the party during the tours. They reached this city by the Erie railroad shortly after 7 o'clock this morning, under the charge of Harman G. Taylor. The date set for the return is September 4, on the same steamer which carries them over.

Getting New York Quotations.

NEW YORK, July 24.—Since the Chicago board of trade decided to stop sending quotations over the country many requests have come from commercial exchanges at the west to the New York prices on bread stuffs and provisions, more especially the former, as the standard. Instantaneous service was required, and at a meeting of the members of the New York Exchange today, on recommendations of its official body, the members decided to send prices forward through the Gold and Stock Telegraph company immediately upon transactions taking place here. The service was begun at once and dispatches showing the changes here are going forward promptly to Buffalo, Toledo, Duluth, Minneapolis, Indianapolis, St. Louis, Detroit and Chicago.

Cleveland opponents of the Standard Oil company in the Ohio oil and gas fields say that the big trust is certainly engaged in an effort to buy up control of the natural gas lands of Ohio and Indiana, for natural gas lands on which leases could have been secured a short time ago at $2 or $3 an acre. Twenty dollars an acre has been paid by Standard representatives recently.

George Lewis, a negro, living near Belden, Texas, was lynched last night for poisoning the well of Wm. Shaw.

Emerich Hasse, Paul Belijik, Joseph Belijik and John Andrusik, four tinsmiths who arrived at New York last week from Germany under contract to work for a Milwaukee tinner, were today sent back on the steamer Trave.

The Austrian infantry has been increased by the addition of 900 men, raising that branch of the service to a war footing. Forty-three regiments of cavalry have been reduced to the extent of thirty six men each.

JAY GOULD SMILED.

Says He is Not Borrowing Money Nor Trying to Buy the Alton Road.

Judge Cooley Offered a Fat Berth by the Trunk Lines.

NEW YORK, July 24.—Jay Gould was at his office in the Western Union building yesterday, after a yachting cruise to the eastward for a little more than a week. He did not go further than Newport, although it was reported he would visit Bar Harbor. He was looking brown and healthy when a reporter saw him. The many rumors that were started after he left the city were called to his attention. He said in a general way that they were without foundation. About the report that the Missouri Pacific was about to withdraw from the Interstate association, Mr. Gould said:

"I think the association will exist, in spite of the Chicago and Alton. That road is a dividend-payer, and it becomes all solvent companies to do all they can for the maintenance of rates. The Alton is not likely to cause disturbance, because there will be business enough for all of us. The crops in the Southwest, except cotton, are beyond danger of accident. We shall have all the traffic we can handle for the rest of the year, and the other members of the association are satisfied with the prospect."

In regard to the story that he had been trying to buy the Alton, Mr. Gould said: "I have all the railroads I need at present. All my interests are in railroads, and I am to look after them. I am not a speculator, and I have not had a speculative interest in the market for five years. I occasionally have money to invest, and I place it in railroad securities. I have made no offer for the Alton."

Mr. Gould smiled when it was suggested that he had recently been borrowing large sums of money. He remarked, after a brief pause: "I am lending much more than I am borrowing."

An intimate friend of Mr. Gould said that efforts to induce the Alton to reconsider its withdrawal from the Interstate association had been unsuccessful. There have been recent conferences in this city, but they have not amounted to much. The Alton will stay out, but it will not cut rates, because it must earn large dividends.

Trying to Capture Cooley.

CHICAGO, July 24.—The report is current that the trunk lines are making strong efforts to procure the services of Chairman Cooley of the interstate commerce commission as commissioner of the trunk lines association in place of Mr. Albert Fink, whose resignation was accepted about a month ago. It is believed that he is considering the advisability of accepting the $25,000 position. He is at present on a trip to the Pacific coast. Should Judge Cooley decide to accept, some people will be curious to know how he will harmonize such action with his previously expressed opinion that it was the height of impropriety for a man holding a place on the interstate commerce commission to accept any position from the railroads. Indeed the expression of such an opinion will in the minds of many, argue strongly against the probability that Judge Cooley will accept any commission at the hands of the railroad people. Should they succeed in inducing him to take the position they will have succeeded in capturing two of the brightest and ablest men on the interstate commerce commission—himself and A. F. Walker, now at the head of the famous "Gentlemens" association.

AT SUPERIOR.

The Laborers Strike About Over--Coal and Longshoremen Raise a Fuss.

If one may judge from present indications, the backbone of the street laborers strike is now weak. A great many have gone to work and the defiant spirit is not perceptible. Contractor Anderson is working a small force today. There can be but one result, and that is defeat. Nearly every citizen one meets is a special policeman. Ten of them are mounted and patrol the streets, keeping an eye out for any demonstration. So long as the contractors are determined to pay but $1.50 per day there is no remedy for it, apparently. The strike among coal heavers is far from settlement. One thing there is which street laborers did not count on, and that is that contractors could substitute wheel scrapers for shovelers. Some contractors who have made the change will continue to handle dirt this way, thus throwing a few out of employment. Trouble has been brewing for some time among warehousemen at the Eastern flour sheds and a stand was taken this morning that may result in a strike there. It is not a question of wages, but a struggle between them and the company as to which side shall run the dock. The men complain that the foreman is unsatisfactory and claim everything is all right when Captain Sheets, who is now ill, is with them. It transpires that the captain, in order to keep peace, has allowed many unreasonable requests. Seven prominent among them were discharged this morning. It would seem as though these men could have no fault to find, for they receive good wages and can put in much extra time. Fifty men for Contractor Anderson arrived this afternoon. The Northwestern Fuel company put fourteen men to work this morning at the old rate.

Superior Light and Fuel company has contracted with Simonds & Brown Bros. for their building. It is to be 82x47 feet, inside measurement, two and three stories high, of brick, and to cost $10,000, to be completed in forty-five days. It will be located near the electric light plant, between old and West Superior.

The trial of the strikers who have been arrested will commence tomorrow. The four men arrested Monday will appear first.

W. F. Street left last evening for La Crosse to attend the Wisconsin Editorial association on its trip to Superior and Duluth Thursday.

M. C. French, editor of the Call, has gone down also.

S. B. Loney has returned from Montana. His brother Francis will return shortly. He is reported to be improved in health.

Miss Laura McMahon returned from a long sojourn among friends in the East.

Mrs. R. C. Green, of St. Louis, will leave this evening for Minneapolis, where she will be joined by Mr. Green.

Telephone Northwestern Fuel company, 105, one ring, or call at 114 West Superior street, 402 West Superior street, or corner of Garfield avenue and Michigan street, and leave your orders for coal before it advances.

THE JOHN OWEN.

A Magnificent Steamship and the Flagship of a New Line.

Among the thirty-five or forty splendid large, new steam vessels which have made initial trips into Duluth harbor this season, none will take higher and but few as high a place in the estimation of vesselmen as the magnificent craft which steamed into this port last evening. The well-known figure of Captain Frank Danger was on the bridge and it was plain to be seen that the craft was a beauty.

The John Owen is the first vessel of the new Cadillac Transportation company, which will run in grain, ore and merchandise business between Lake Erie ports and Duluth. She was launched at the Detroit Dry Dock company's Wyandotte yard on June 25, and is here with her first cargo of 2575 tons of soft coal, exclusive of 170 tons of fuel and about 200 tons of other freight. She loaded at Sandusky, and steamed out of that harbor drawing 15 feet 2 inches forward and 15 feet 5 inches aft. Just before taking her cargo aboard she drew 8 feet 6 aft and 3 feet 4 forward—probably a lighter draft than any other vessel of her dimensions on the lakes.

The John Owen is of that style of build known as the "composite," wood to the load water line and steel from there upward. She cost $180,000 at the yards, but stands her owners about $200,000. Her dimensions are length of keel, 282 feet; over all, 299 feet; breadth, 42 feet; molded depth, 23 feet. She has triple expansion engines of 21-33-56 inch cylinders, with 42-inch stroke. She has two Scotch boilers of inch steel plates (the thickest on the lakes) each 12½ feet in diameter by 11 feet long. Her engines embody a host of new features, many of which are not in use on any other vessel. Her wheel is a "built up" or sectional of 12½ feet diameter and 14 foot lead.

Her steam steering gear is the new "Williamson 114" patent and can be handled in the roughest weather with a touch of the finger. She has three water tight bulkheads and a collision bulkhead that looks like the ram of a man of war and stout enough to stand or give anything. Her forward and after cabins are of wood but the engine house is of iron. She has eight working and one fuel hatch, and is equipped with steam hoisters on deck which in turn are supplied with a pair of 10-inch wrecking pumps which can be operated by steam from the main boiler battery or from a compact donkey boiler in the fire hold.

The boat in addition to its standard equipment has a number of exceedingly useful extras, such as Grange's Pneumatic Motion indicator, which informs the officer on the bridge at a glance which way the engines are working. This is an entirely new invention. The engines are fitted with Joy's new style of valve gear—a link motion which does away with eccentrics. Eighty-five revolutions of her wheel per minute give her about a thirteen-mile gait now, but she will make some of the so-called flyers look tired when allowed more speed.

This description would not be complete without reference to her cabins and staterooms, in which elegance and convenience seem to have been attained by the lavish use of money. Finishings are all in natural woods, butternut, walnut, oak, mahogany and cherry. There is hot or cold water in every room. The officers' quarters are fitted up with elegant furniture, convenient desks, and all have the absolutely non-explosive "won't-go-out" Hurricane lamp. Many luxuries go to make up the ensemble of this elegantly appointed ship. Her officers roster is as follows: Captain, Frank H. Danger; first mate, George Manning; second mate, Alex. I. McLeod; chief engineer, James H. Kendall; first assistant, James McHugh. The managing owner and his wife were passengers on her first trip.

Marine Notes.

A Catastrophe.

The usually law-abiding, peacefully-inclined native of First street, in the vicinity of Eighth avenue west, is at present a blood-thirsty savage, his hands stained with the life fluid of his once-associate. Early this morning five shots were heard and five forms, a few moments before full of life and vigor, lay dead on the green sward. And with each shot and each life the slayers gloated in ghoulish glee over their work—and the end is not yet. First street and Eighth avenue is the trysting place of many cats that make the night anything but peaceful with their caterwauling. The inhabitants have formed themselves into a vigilance committee, as the consequence of which each day several felines are compelled to miss appointments. Fisher bagged several this morning and O. C. and A. W. Hartmann are becoming very proficient shots with the revolver and bootjack.

CAUSE OF TEMPERANCE.

District Sixteen Holds Its First Annual Convention.

Delegates Present at Today's Proceedings---The Program.

The first annual convention of District No. 16, Minnesota Womans Christian Temperance union, was opened this morning in the vestry of Pilgrim Congregational church. Twenty-five or thirty ladies were in attendance at the opening and the meeting was presided over by Mrs. W. S. Woodbridge, district president. Delegates present at the morning session were: Mrs. E. W. Bowne, president of West Duluth W. C. T. U., and Mrs. Thurber, also from that place; Mrs. Horace Davis, Miss Stevens, Rices Point; Mrs. Marshall, Mrs. Dr. Barrett, Miss Mattie Spence, Tower, Mrs. McEachern, Two Harbors. Several other delegates made their appearance at the afternoon session. The others present were members from the several Duluth organizations.

The convention opened promptly at 10 o'clock with devotional exercises, led by Mrs. J. E. Woodbridge. The welcoming address was delivered by Mrs. Shannon. Various committees were appointed.

The report of district was next heard, which showed an encouraging state of affairs. An extremely interesting paper "Our Lines of Work," was then read by Mrs. C. R. Barrett, of Tower. Then followed reports of unions. A written report from Pine City which represented the organization at that place to be in a flourishing condition, especially the Loyal Temperance league, which has a membership of sixty-five, was read by the secretary. A verbal report from Two Harbors was also given, showing that the work of the union at that place is bearing good fruits. Lakeside union showed a most fluttering state of affairs. Three depots are kept supplied with temperance literature and earnest work will be done to keep out the saloons.

Mrs. Harvey, superintendent of the flower mission of the Duluth W. C. T. U., gave an exceedingly interesting report of the work of this branch of the organization; 207 bouquets had been distributed, as well as quantities of fruit and leaflets. The work of the society among the hospitals, among the sick and suffering, was spoken of, and some touching incidents connected therewith mentioned.

This was followed by an eloquent speech from Mrs. Hobart, of Red Wing, president of the state organization, in which she touched upon some of the incidents in the report of the flower mission.

The afternoon session opened at 2:15, with a consecration meeting, led by Mrs. Hobart. Then the business of the session was continued in the following order: Minutes of morning session. Report of entertainment committee. The address of welcome by Mrs. C. E. Shannon, of Duluth, was responded to by Mrs. H. A. Hobart, Red Wing. History of Womans Christian Temperance union, by Mrs. T. B. Hoover, Duluth. Union Signal, etc. Study in parliamentary drill, by Mrs. Hobart. Reports of unions. Miscellaneous business.

This evening the meeting will open at 8 o'clock and will be conducted by the Y. W. C. T. U. and the Estey Y. W. C. T. U. and held at the First Methodist church. The following program will be rendered: Organ voluntary. Devotional exercises, led by Mrs. McGonagle, president of Duluth Y's. Song—quartet. A paper—Mrs. W. M. Hubbard, West End. Song, Miss Rainey. Recitation, "Only Sixteen," Mrs. E. F. Pilling, West End. Song, Miss Holden. Short speeches by T. J. Davis and Rev. E. M. Noyes. Song, quartet. The ladies of the W. C. T. U. wish to extend a cordial invitation to any ladies or gentlemen interested in the work, to attend any or all of the meetings.

The following order of program will be observed tomorrow, 9:30 a. m. at Congregational church: Devotional exercises, led by Mrs. Helm, West End. Reports of Y. unions. Paper, "Success in Y. work," Mrs. Horace Davis, West End. Paper, "Social Purity," Dr. Fannie A. Holden. "Juvenile Work," Mrs. J. B. Geggie. "Noontide Hour of Prayer," Mrs. Hobart. 2:15 p. m. Devotional exercises, led by Mrs. E. M. Noyes, Duluth. Reading of constitution. Election of officers. Report of committee on resolutions. Paper, "Scientific Temperance Instruction," Mrs. G. H. Hawkesworth, Lakeside. Paper, "The W. C. T. U. Aspect of Woman Suffrage," Mrs. W. S. Birch, Duluth. Question box.

At 7 p. m. at the First Methodist church will be a union prayer meeting. 8 p. m., Scripture reading and prayer. Music, quartet. Address, "Our Outlook," Mrs. Hobart. Solo, Miss Peck.

C. W. Strickland took out a building permit today for a house to cost $1500 on the north side of Beech street between Seventeenth and Eighteenth avenues east.

The board of equalization met this morning and after examining the rolls adjourned till tomorrow morning.

Friday Evening Concert.

Such as wish to hear Mr. Wheat and Mrs. Nicholls at the concert on Friday evening will do well to lose no time in securing their tickets, as those bits of card are being exchanged for silver half-dollars with astonishing rapidity—so much so that it is apparent that the Congregational church will be found none too large to hold the crowd who are determined to listen to the delightful program which is being prepared for them by Mr. Wheat and Mrs. Nicholls.

THAT PUBLIC BUILDING.

Duluth is very much disappointed, and not a little disgusted, that the government has foisted upon us plans for a federal building so utterly unfit for the needs of the city. There should be vigorous measures taken at once to correct the error of the gentlemen at Washington. It would be the height of folly to build a postoffice here inadequate for the present needs of the city, or provide court rooms of less capacity than those now in use, when even before they are ready for occupancy the city will have increased in size one-fourth. The government officials are restricted to the appropriations of congress, it is argued, but that is a point which is often very liberally interpreted. Government buildings have been built which cost several times the original appropriation. But conceding the point, it would be far better for Duluth to wait until another congress could increase the amount than to allow the matter to be settled by the erection of a building only adequate for a city of half the present size of Duluth.

The Chamber of Commerce has done well to take prompt action, and the resolutions adopted undoubtedly voice the unanimous sentiment of the city. They are as follows:

Whereas, It is understood that the plans for the government building to be erected in this city, as prepared upon the basis of the amount available for the appropriation after the purchase of the site, are altogether inadequate to meet the wants of the service here, even at the present time; and

Whereas, Judging from present indications, the rapid growth of our commerce and population during the next four or five years will render such a structure in a great measure an embarrassment rather than a convenience on the existing plans; therefore

Resolved, That in the opinion of this Chamber the work of construction should be postponed until an appeal can be made to the next congress for such legislation as will secure a building better suited to the pressing needs of the city in the near future.

There should be a public meeting called to consider this matter more fully. Perhaps an open meeting of the Chamber of Commerce would be the better form in which to give expression to the views of the citizens. The plans as prepared should be presented and fully explained, and such action taken as would ensure at least an earnest effort to get the matter into a condition more satisfactory to Duluth and more consistent with the needs of the city.

The Weekly Herald is now ready to be mailed. It contains this week the first and only authorized and illustrated description of the great car works at West Duluth, and a great amount of other matter of special interest to this city. It can be had at The Herald office, wrapped ready for mailing. It is entirely safe to claim that there is not in the entire West another weekly newspaper as handsomely printed as this, or made in such convenient form.

It looks very much as though that Utopian railroad scheme known as the Interstate Commerce Railway association could not maintain its autonomy much longer. It is expected that the Wisconsin Central road will withdraw at the meeting today, and this action is likely to wreck the association. If it does disband the immediate cause will be to prevent having the guaranteed expenses of the organization falling upon the roads which remain in. The merits of the object and work of the association are to be left out of the question, and the combine broken up in order that all its members may be reckoned as equally responsible and be obliged to participate equally in the payment of the guaranteed expenses. It is feared that if a portion of the roads remain as members of an active organization they will be compelled to bear all the expenses, since they would receive all the benefits. If the association is abandoned Chairman Walker will be in luck. He got his salary of $25,000 per year guaranteed for three years, and has served but a few months. He can go a-fishing.

The constitutionality of the dressed meat exclusion act is now in a fair way to be passed upon by the supreme court of the United States. A suit was argued in a Chicago court Monday brought against Mayor Sutphin, of this city, by G. F. Swift, the meat packer, for breach of contract. Swift and Sutphin formed a contract to deal in dressed meat in this state, with a forfeit of $7500. When the dressed-meat exclusion act was passed Sutphin refused to fulfill his part of the contract with Swift, and the latter brought this suit, ostensibly to recover the $7500 forfeit, but really to test the constitutionality of the dressed-meat act, which law is set up by Sutphin as his defense. The law prohibits the sale of dressed meats in this state unless the animals killed were inspected alive in the state within twenty-four hours of their slaughter. Nineteen states started out to pass the law, but only Minnesota, Colorado, New Mexico and Indiana did so. It was in the interest of the home producer of cattle and state butchers and against the importation of dressed meat. The case was only argued, and the court took it under advisement. It will be decided next week, so that it can be taken at once to the supreme court of the United States. The point made by the Chicago packers, all of whom are necessarily vitally interested in the case, is that the Minnesota law is unconstitutional, because it interferes with the provision of the federal constitution giving congress the power to regulate commerce within the several states, and also that it infringes the privileges and immunities granted by the constitution to citizens and is in restraint of trade.

MY LADY.

[M. M. in Midsummer Puck.]

My lady's hat of tulle
Has many a rose upon it;
It far more fascinating is
Than her new oak-leaf bonnet.

She wears a gown of lace
That clings in gracious folds;
Its every broidered mesh
A subtle perfume holds.

Her silken hose are black,
And her low-cut, dainty shoe
Is of a russet shade;
Her mousquetaires are too.

Her shredded poppy lips
Sibilid rows of shining pearls;
Her cheek and chin are dimpled—
My queen of summer girls!

A mist of golden hair
Hangs o'er her eyes of brown—
Alas, that it should be
But pinned to her hat crown!

Change as an Appetizer.

SEEN AND HEARD.

"There is only one case of typhoid fever in Duluth, that anybody knows of, at least," said Chief Health Inspector Rossiter last night. "I have made a personal canvass of all the physicians in the city, and that is the result. Just one case. Can any city of 50,000 inhabitants make a better showing than that? Of course, the sanitary condition of the city is better now than last year, and it is the intention of the health department to keep it so, and to improve it whenever and wherever possible. There is need of a great deal of vigilance, and when we issue an order for cleaning up premises, putting in sewer connections, or water-tight boxes where required, we always have to follow up the order and see that it is complied with. Very frequently we are compelled to arrest the parties. This generally brings them to their senses."

"Now, that's what I call a slipshod way of riding," exclaimed my old friend the cavalryman last night, as a gentleman rode by on horseback. "Just look at that fellow, how he holds his reins in both hands. If he could have had six months with our fellows we would have taught him a thing or two. In the service a man is never allowed to use more than one hand, and that the left one, in guiding his horse. And it is a great deal easier to manage a horse with one hand, when you once get the hang of it. There are some fine specimens of horseflesh in Duluth, more than I have seen in many places of twice the size farther east, but very few know how to handle a horse and appear to good advantage."

"Yes," said a well-known, wealthy man of Cleveland, "I was in Marquette the other day, and was talking about some of the government work that is being done on Lake Superior harbors, and my companion was a Milwaukee contractor, who has done considerable work on government contracts on Lake Superior as well as Lake Michigan, and he paid a tribute (grumpily, it is true) to the growth of Duluth's business interests, in the following manner: 'A few years ago such a thing as a Duluth contractor for government work on the lake was almost unheard of, but now those fellows are absolutely controlling the whole business. Along the north shore they have every contract up to the boundary line, and up at Port Arthur two Duluth firms have big jobs. At Ashland, on the south shore, a new man, Hugh Steele, has the contract on the breakwater extension. He got it at unheard of low figures, but is doing a first-class job of work and will clear a little money. At other places, too, on the same shore Duluth firms are doing the work that used to be given to Chicago, Detroit, Racine and Milwaukee contractors, and at almost every large opening of bids on all the lakes the names of Duluth bidders are to be seen.' That shows how, in one direction, Duluth's business men are stretching out their hands and catching on."

This afternoon the fifty workingmen who are to compose the Scripps newspaper league expedition to Europe will sail from New York on the City of Rome, the palace steamer of the Anchor line. The British government recently determined to send 100 British working men to the Paris exposition, in order that they might secure the benefit of all new ideas to be gained through their observation at the exposition. The Scripps leage of Western daily newspapers determined to send an expedition at its own expense, the United States government doing nothing. It has appropriated $25,000 for the purpose. The expedition will probably be the most extensive, and beneficent of all similar enterprises undertaken and carried out by American newspapers. The party will be composed of representatives from many trades and will contain persons from all the manufacturing portions of the country. The main purpose will be to accumulate information concerning industrial art. The route will include Liverpool, Birmingham, Manchester, Sheffield, London, Glasgow, the Clyde and other points in England and Scotland; Rouen, Paris, and lace and silk centers of France; Essen, Dusseldorf, Antwerp and other centers of Germany and Belgium.

The Scripps League includes a lot of one cent evening papers, starting with The Detroit Evening News which had a phenomenal success under the proprietorship of Mr. Scripps. He conceived the idea of a chain of papers all one cent, all evening, and he gradually got control of The Cleveland Press, The Cincinnati Post, The St. Louis Chronicle, and weeklies in Detroit and elsewhere. They form a sort of chain, and the fame of the Scripps League is abroad in the land. It is also a great scheme for making money.

"'He died with no evidence of sympathy received, or of friendship given,' said the state papers in referring to Albert Bulow, the murderer hanged last Friday at Little Falls, but it seems, after all," said a party who was in the little town at the time of the execution, "that there was a hidden feeling of friendship for one person, at least. On the Thursday before the execution, and less than twelve hours before his death, a young woman (a stranger to all) visited the condemned man, had a few moments conversation with him and withdrew, leaving a small bunch of flowers as an ocular evidence of her visit. After her departure the murderer asked to see Rev. Mr. Donavan, the Congregational minister and talked with him some time, all the while handling the flowers and occasionally picking off a leaf. When the drop fell and the man's bosom was bared for examination by the coroner and Dr. Lonsdale several of the blossoms dropped out upon the ground. That was all; simply a bunch of flowers, an unknown woman and a swinging murderer."

The Excursion Line.

Since its advent into the Northwestern field about three years ago, "The Burlington" has come to the front as the favorite line for large excursion parties. In June 1888, this line carried the Northwestern delegates to the National democratic convention at St. Louis by special train, to their entire satisfaction. In the same month "The Burlington" was the people's line to the National republican convention at Chicago, carrying in four days over 4000 delegates and visitors to that gathering. The Knights of Pythias also selected it as their line to the supreme lodge meeting at Cincinnati. This year the teachers of Minnesota and the Northwest selected "The Burlington" as the official route to their great meeting at Nashville. The reason is that this is the superior route for all large parties. For tickets and rates, address W. J. C. Kenyon, general passenger agent, Chicago, Burlington and Northern railroad, St. Paul, Minn., or call on your local agent.

President Harrison's Double.

President Harrison, it is said, has a double residing in New York. This presidential counterfeit, it is said, would be taken for the chief magistrate anywhere, and has already been the innocent cause of numerous blunders. It is not at all strange, however, because it is said that nature creates everything in pairs, and that every man has his double somewhere. The Saint Paul and Duluth railroad, however, has no double. It stands alone as the best, shortest and most thoroughly equipped route to and from St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth, West Superior and other points North and Northwest. DANCING ELEPHANTS.

4-Paw's Famous Troupe of Wonderful Quadrille Pachyderms.

Forepaugh's troupe of quadrille-dancing elephants have been the sensation of the season. Nothing like these trained beasts have ever been seen before. The evolutions through which they go and the constant intelligence which they display, provoke admiration for the genius and patience which have brought their faculties into play. In order to illustrate to what perfection elephants can be trained, Forepaugh has selected eight trumpeting pachyderms, all answering to names. There is Othello and Desdemona, Romeo and Juliet, Hamlet and Ophelia and Antony and Cleopatra. These elephants go through a quadrille with the same ease and grace as the most skillful, bow, promenade and "chassez" in a way that is as wonderful as it is ludicrous. These marvelous elephants, together with Adam Forepaugh, Jr's. $50,000 troupe of trained broncho horses; "Eclipse," the equine aerialist; the great arenic exhibition of sensations, and the history-depicting and soul-stirring reproduction of life upon the plains, with Dr. Carver, the famous traveler and rifle-shot, and two hundred scouts, soldiers, cowboys and Indians, will be seen with the Forepaugh shows, which exhibit at Duluth on Friday, August 9th.

MAKING A RESERVOIR.

Work Now in Progress on the Water Company's Big Reservoir.

Other Work of the Same Company Under Way About the City.

It will surprise most Duluthians to learn that a very large force of men and teams is already at work at the site of the new reservoir of the Gas and Water company. The grading is well along and is being pushed at the greatest possible speed. Indications are, and the company states, that the work will be completed and ready for use this season, and that before winter the new high-service system will be in operation all over the city. Sixteen-inch iron pipe have already been distributed up Twelfth avenue east and along Fourth street to Fourteenth avenue whence the reservoir will be reached along the east bank of Chester brook. These mains will be put down in a short time. The new water holder will have a capacity nearly ten times that of the present reservoir on Eleventh avenue west and Second street, and will be built in the most approved fashion.

It is located east of Chester brook on the line of the boulevard drive along that stream and considerably below the 475 feet terrace. Its situation allows the building at lower expense than would be incurred in almost any other spot in town, there being a slight depression in the surface and a natural dam below it that gives strength and a part of the excavation ready to hand. Being on the line of the boulevard it can be made to add very materially to the beauty of that drive, if the Gas and Water company has the foresight to endeavor to please the people of Duluth rather than to continue to antagonize them.

In other parts of the city the Gas and Water company is pushing work. A force of about sixty men is busily at work on West First street, where the inhabitants have been without water for many months and the mains have been so far relaid and repaired that water is once more available. Pipe has been distributed up through the rock cuts on Third and Fourth streets at Sixth and Seventh avenues west, and a great amount of blasting and digging will go on there very soon. A vast amount of the former work will be needed to carry mains through these cuts. On Fifth street as soon as the grades get a little further along the Gas and Water company will distribute its pipe for both gas and water and will lay mains, thus accommodating both Fourth and Fifth streets which have a very large population, and one of which has never had water while the other has had it but occasionally. On West Second street from Sixth avenue to the end, there will also be water and gas privileges soon. In many other parts of the city the company is putting in short stretches of pipe, making connections and tieing up dead ends, so that by fall there will be a great change in the extent and value of the city water supply.

At the new gas works at Rices Point, too, there is work going on, and it will be early in the fall by the time gas is made at the new works. As has already been stated in The Herald, they will have a much larger capacity than the present works, and will be constructed in a better manner.

A PLETHORA OF CASH.

A Returned Duluthian Describes the Present European Situation.

R. S. Munger, who has returned to Duluth after a three months' vacation trip in Europe describes the situation, especially in England, as being one of a fat money market. "Business is looking pretty good in the United Kingdom," says he, "There is activity, more than has been known for a long time, in the various trades. In Scotland shipbuilding is active and the iron trades are lively. There seems to be a great plethora of money, so to speak, in England, France and Germany and a strong inclination to look outside for investments. They are inclined toward anything that looks favorable. This probably accounts for the syndicates formed to buy American breweries, steel works and all the other classes of trade they are investing in nowadays.

"They like to control things in big stock companies and 6 or 7 per cent looks very large. I was approached by many who wanted investments in the United States, and who said they would go into anything that gave promise of fair return. Countless syndicates are being formed. It looked as if the people were in one of those fevers of speculation induced by cheap money and lots of it, which are almost always followed by reaction. Crop prospects appeared to be fair, though there was a need of rain."

To Entertain Excursionists.

At a meeting of the various committees appointed to take care of the visiting Wisconsin editors tomorrow an executive committee consisting of O. C. Hartman of the Board of Trade, W. F. Phelps of the Chamber of Commerce, E. S. Swanstrom of the city council and W. H. Burke of the local press, was appointed. This committee was given power to take care of the visitors. It was decided to make arrangements with the railway people to bring the excursion party into Duluth by way of West Duluth, the party getting off their cars at the Car and Steel works and walking across the town to the West Duluth depot while the train should go around. When here they will be given their supper at The Spalding, a nice but not elaborate meal being arranged for, and a drive about the city will close the entertainment.

First Avenue Work.

Stone curbing will be put in on First avenue west and the material is already being drawn to place. Work on the contract of Contractors Zimmerman & Moore, which was awarded only last Monday night has already begun and today quite a force of men is at work along the avenue. It is the intention of the contractors to push the work very rapidly. With the completion of this avenue all the streets in the central part of the city will have been put in very good condition.

TWENTY-EIGHT GOLD MEDALS.

Gold Medals for the Police and Money Contribution to Each.

The committee to which was referred the matter of taking care of the money received for the police fund, to be used as might seem best, has about finished its labors. A contract has been made with W. A. Montague, jeweler, for twenty-eight gold medals, commemorative of the part the police took in the riots at the West End, each of which will cost about $20. They will be of appropriate design and quite handsome. Work on them will begin in a few days, and one will be given each of the twenty-eight men who participated in the fight at the Wolf & Truax sewer work.

Besides the medals there will be a little over $2900, which will be given the men in cash in recognition of their services. About $3500 were collected in all.

THE DAY IN THE CITY.

After today Professor Cohn's school of languages will convene at the High school.

The passenger receipts at the Union depot yesterday were over $1200.

There are over 100 Duluth people in attendance at the Twin city races.

Three large plate glass windows in the Fontanelle block near Eighth avenue west and Superior street Were broken by flying rock from the blasting on the hill at that point. The hall door frames were also shattered considerably.

It is almost decided that the old Culver property, First street and Second avenue east will be used as a site for the Knights of Pythias hall and armory.

The terrace drive can now be reached easily from Fourth street east of Chester brook, the road leading to and beyond McComber's greenhouse, being fixed up and improved by the park commission, so that it now reaches the terrace drive at a very easy grade. The terrace drive itself can now be followed in a buggy or other light wagon for full three miles.

The Reading Fire Insurance company, with a capital of $250,000, and the Prudential Fire Insurance company, of Boston, have been admitted to do business in the state of Minnesota and will soon establish agencies in Duluth.

Brickyards in the vicinity of Duluth are all very busy and selling their product at good prices.

On Third avenue east the grading is nearly completed. The street has broken-stone gutters and the roadway is constructed of gravel on a substructure of stone. It will make one of the best streets in the city and will give a very easy grade up the hill.

Inspectors Monaghan and M. F. Chalk, of Duluth, were in St. Paul yesterday and inspected the steamer Ruby. The boiler has not yet been approved.

Tomorrow afternoon the Wisconsin Press association visits Duluth for a few hours.

There is much public interest in the Duluth public building now that the inadequacies of the plan have been made known in The Herald. It is universally hoped that no action will be taken until there is a realizing sense of the need of a good building here.

The Apollo club will meet at Porter's music store tonight for its first rehearsal. A quantity of new music has arrived for the use of the club.

A. M. Wright, of Fergus Falls, is making preparations to move his household goods to West Duluth, where he intends opening a feed store.

The Episcopal Sunday school picnic will be held on Park Point picnic grounds tomorrow.

P. Ehresman, of Jersey City, is here looking for a location for a first-class dollar a day hotel.

At the Police Court.

There was a surprising dearth of drunks at the police court this morning. Seven vagrants, John White, James Riley, John Foster, Peter McCarvey, John Conroy, Joe Annett and Sam Morgan, were up on the serious charge of sleeping in box cars, and each sentenced to four days in the county jail. This was all the criminal business.

They Must Be Clean.

Isaac Albert who was notified by the health office to clean up his vault last week, failed to comply with the order. He was arrested and fined $5 and costs, in default of which he was sent to jail for ten days. Some of Albert's friends have since bailed him out. The chief inspector says he is determined to ferret out these nuisances and to arrest all those who fail to comply with the sanitary regulations. In this determination he will be backed by all who have the health of the city at heart.

Another Runaway.

What might easily have proved a very serious affair occurred on East Fourth street early last evening. A horse belonging to Nick Young came tearing along the street from the east. The driver was thrown out, onto and over the wide sidewalk, while the horse turned down Twelfth avenue, scattering the wagon and directly through a crowd of twenty or thirty children at play. That neither driver nor children were very seriously hurt was almost miraculous. There were no less than seven runaways in different parts of the city yesterday.

CRONIN CASE IN ENGLAND

Government Said to Be Engaged in a Study of the Evidence,

And an Examination of the Newspaper Exposes of Clan-na-Gael.

LONDON, July 24.—The fact leaked out today that for three weeks past two prominent officials of the criminal law investigating department of the home office have been engaged in an examination of the evidence taken before the coroner's jury in the Cronin case at Chicago, and of the numerous newspaper exposes of the inner workings of the Glan-na-Gael, especially those touching upon the now celebrated Buffalo trial. This examination was undertaken at the instance of the attorney-general, and it has been conducted with such secrecy that it was purely through an accident that the fact that it was in progress became known even to the subordinates of the office. Regarding its object, nothing definite is known, although naturally enough, it has given rise to numerous surmises.

Some of the Parnellites affect to believe that the government is endeavoring to provide additional material for The Times in its case before the Hannen commission, but, in view of the fact that the farce in question is very near its close, this suggestion borders on the improbable. In another quarter, however, and one very close to the government, it is whispered that very sensational developments may follow the completion of the task of the law experts, and that as a matter of fact the government is endeavoring to make a case against several Irish-Americans, who were either alluded to or directly named in the Buffalo trial as having been directly concerned in engineering the dynamite outrages of recent years, or direct participants in these affairs.

Mysterious visits recently paid by Scotland Yard detectives to Dartmoor and Pentonville prisons, where several of the Irish dynamiters who, it is alleged, fell victims to the treachery of the triangle are confined, lends strong color to the impression that this is the real object of the task in hand. Whether the government could secure the extradition of any of the members of the triangle, or its accomplices or dupes, even were it so disposed, is an open question, but should it be able to bring to bear strong corroborative testimony in support of the charges made in Dr. Cronin's pamphlet, especially in the form of testimony from some of the convicted dynamiters, given under promise of a mitigation of their terms of imprisonment, it would not only be furnishing a weapon of immense power to the prosecuting law officers of Chicago, but at the same time be delivering a powerful blow at the wedge that now divides the Irish party of the United States as a result of the crime. Between the two it must be admitted that it can accomplish greater harm to the Irish cause than was contemplated by the appointment of the royal commission. The home office is promptly advised by cable of every movement made in the Chicago and Winnipeg courts in relation to the men arrested for the crime, and it is unlikely that all this trouble and expense would be indulged in had not the attorney-general and his colleagues some definite purpose in view.

THE COAL HEAVERS' STRIKE.

Seventy-five Imported Men at Work Today---No Trouble Anticipated.

About seventy-five men arrived this morning from St. Paul to take the place of striking coal heavers. The police were on hand when the train came in, and escorted the men to their work. The strikers gathered round and used some persuasion to induce the men to stop work, but without avail. The police finally ordered the strikers to disperse, and drove them away from the docks, thus dispersing several little groups of men. The object is to keep the strikers from gathering in large crowds and in this they have so far been successful. Last night Capt. McLaughlin had fifteen specials sworn in. The Ohio Central Barge company have sworn in eight specials, as also has the Northwestern Fuel company. The police act as escort to the men at 6 o'clock in the morning, at noon, and when they quit work for the day, so as to prevent any collision between them and the strikers. The patrol wagon stands in readiness at the front of the city hall, and a large squad of armed police are in waiting at police headquarters for any emergency. It is not expected their services will be needed, however.

Have Learned Wisdom.

Last night the police received a hurried notification that a large crowd of men was gathering in the vicinity of the Northwestern company's coal dock. A patrol wagon was secured, and a squad of police were soon on the spot. Their services were not required, however, for by the time they were on the ground not an unemployed man was in sight. If as prompt measures had been adopted at the time of the late strike among the laborers, the result of that strike would have no doubt been very different. A police officer, armed with a gun, that will fire twenty-five or thirty shots a minute is a very different affair from an officer with a small revolver and a club. No trouble is anticipated.

TO TEST THE LAW.

Swift Sues His Partner Sutphin to Test the State Meat Law.

G. F. Swift, the packer, has commenced a suit against Mayor Sutphin, of Duluth, the decision of which will determine whether or not the Minnesota dressed meat law is constitutional. The case will be decided by Judge Blodgett, of Chicago, next week. It seems that about a year ago Swift and John B. Sutphin made an agreement to form a partnership for the sale of dressed meats in Minnesota. A forfeit of $7500 was put up by either side, conditioned upon each keeping the contract. Mayor Sutphin was unable to keep the agreement, owing to the lately passed hoof-inspection law, and Packer Swift has begun suit against him. While ostensibly to recover the $7500 forfeit, the action is in reality to test the dressed meat law.

This law is set up as Sutphin's defense, while the point made by the other side of course argues that the Minnesota law is unconstitutional because it interferes with the provision of the federal constitution giving congress the power to regulate commerce and also that it infringes upon the privileges and immunities granted by the constitution to citizens and is a restraint of trade.

For a Government Job.

Captain Miller and Captain Monroe, of Duluth, are in St. Paul. It is said that they are candidates for the office of United States inspector of hulls, held by John Monaghan, of Duluth, who is also in St. Paul. Just who are after the position of inspector of boilers is not known, but there are some eager aspirants.

HOW WOULD IT WORK?

A Rule of Improvement That Possibly Might be Adopted Here.

The board of improvement of Cleveland, Ohio, has recently adopted a rule that before it can recommend any street to be paved all water, gas and sewer connections must be put in, and that after a street has been paved no connections of any kind can be made. It will be interesting to know how this rule works.

At Duluth such a rule has been in part in force on one or two occasions, when expensive improvements were ordered. It is questioned by the board of works whether it could be adopted in all cases of improvement. Should it be, it is certain that there would be a great improvement in the condition of our streets after they are graded. There would be no holes and water works trenches for the unlucky driver to drop his horse and buggy into of a dark night, while the streets once fixed would remain in good shape without the expense of repairing work done every year in putting down new water mains and enlarging old ones. In a city growing so rapidly as Duluth it would perhaps be impossible to carry out such a rule as has been enforced in Cleveland, but closer restrictions would be a decided benefit.

First a Pigmy---Anon a Giant.

We are too apt to regard a small ailment much as we would some pigmy, unpleasant of aspect and prankish indeed, but incapable of serious mischief. We ignore the fact that it grows prodigiously, strengthens in proportion and begets evil progeny. A fit of indigestion, a slight bilious attack, sensations of unrest and languor when the system should have been braced by recent sleep, unaccountable nervousness, inactivity of the kidneys or bladder—what are these but the precursors of obstinate and serious bodily disturbance? In either of the above emergencies, common sense and experience unite in indicating Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as the best preventive. Particularly should its use be prompt when the languor, yawning, chilliness down the back, and feverishness that precede a malarial attack, manifest themselves. Incipient rheumatism grows apace. Don't neglect it. So with constipation and debility.

President's Proclamation.

SPECIAL.

Whereas, From day to day vast numbers are being stricken down with the fell disease Rheumatism, which seems to be greatly on the increase.

And whereas, The nation has within a short time been called upon to mourn the sudden loss of many of our public men; such as Vice-President Hendricks, Gen. John A. Logan, Sec'y Daniel P. Manning, Gen. McClellan, and many others.

Now therefore, I do by virtue of the knowledge possessed by me, proclaim and recommend Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup to be a remedy of great merit, both for Rheumatism and all Blood Diseases,

And further, That this medicine be adopted as a national remedy by all.

Signed by the President.

RHEUMATISM.

I was cut in the wrist by a broken bottle, from which I suffered extreme pain. I called a doctor, who pronounced it sciatic rheumatism. My right side became paralyzed, leg and arm badly withered, and my joints were so stiff that there was but little action in them. About six weeks ago I began taking Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup with marvelous results. Since then I have left off the use of crutches entirely, and only use a cane, and for the past few days I often forget it and walk without any aid. To say that it has greatly benefited me but poorly expresses my idea of your Rheumatic Syrup.

C. D. DENIO,
Dealer in General Groceries,
Jackson, Mich.

C. D. DENIO is a man well known in this community, and was probably the worst wreck physically of any man this country ever saw. He was paralyzed from rheumatic poison, and no one ever expected he would recover. He is well, and it is simply marvelous.

FRANK L. SMITH,
Ex-Member State Legislature, Jackson, Mich.

INFLAMMATORY RHEUMATISM.

My daughter Maud had inflammatory rheumatism. Her limbs were badly swollen. She was in terrible agony. She has been taking Rheumatic Syrup and using your Plasters, which has broken it up. The Syrup corrected her indigestion, cleansed the rheumatic poison from her blood, and she is now able to be around the house. We consider Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup and Plasters remedies of great merit.

REV. J. ROBERTS,
Pastor First M. E. Church, Fremont, Mich.

Last winter and spring I was a terrible sufferer from rheumatism in my left shoulder and arm, suffering the most excruciating pain. Two bottles of Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup cured me. I can with confidence recommend it to all who are suffering with rheumatic difficulty. REV. JAMES BERRY,
Morley, Mich.

IT MEANS BUSINESS.

The St. Paul and Duluth Will Erect a Big Freight Depot.

The St. Paul and Duluth company will spend thousands of dollars in improvements in Duluth this season, and many of its plans have matured so quietly that only those on the inside were aware of the facts. The Herald has been in possession of information regarding the road's proposed movements for some time, but has said little, at the request of officials. Plans have been drawn and approved for a solid stone and brick freight depot, to be erected between Fourth and Fifth avenues west.

The plans will be sent to Building Inspector Shanley for his approval, probably by Saturday, the 27th, and as soon as his O. K. is put upon them work will begin. The structure will be 300 feet long, 60 feet wide and between 15 and 20 feet high above the grade level. The design calls for some architectural features, but the depot will be extremely heavy and massive. The contract will be let within six days and work will begin next week. The cost will be not far from $35,000 or $40,000.

Chief Engineer Bartall, of the St. Paul and Duluth, is in the city today giving the work now being done on the Union depot his personal supervision. "The contract for the rock work and grading will be let within a week," he informed a reporter. "It will take a few days yet for us to strip the rock of dirt. I am now measuring the mass to ascertain its exact quantity and as soon as the estimates are complete we will advertise for bids, both at Duluth and in St. Paul. Operations will also begin next week on the new freight depot. All of the company's building here this year will be let by contract, and bids will probably be advertised for in this and the Twin cities."

Railroad Notes.

C. J. Broughton, traveling passenger agent of the Chicago and Atlantic railway, is in the city.

The Lake Superior Transit company, in conjunction with the Northern Pacific road, has met the through tariff on wool made by other rail-lake lines.

The Eastern Minnesota road has completed filling in its trestle work, and has now a full grading force at work in building its Duluth yards. Several feet each side of its one track is up to grade level, but only the beginning of the undertaking has been accomplished. The company is awaiting the settlement of the condemnation question, in regard to the lots between the present terminus and sixth avenue before the freight house is built; men however are at work excavating for the foundation of the structure.

Duluth, South Shore and Atlantic people are pleased over the amount of travel that is now going over their line between Duluth Marquette and the East.

Chairman Walker announces a postponement of the hearing of the cases announced to come before the executive board of the interstate commerce association Thursday. Both of these cases are on the application of the Chicago, St. Paul and Kansas City road, first, to apply the special commodity rates to Des Moines and St. Joseph, and second, to make the same rates on coal from Duluth that are in effect from Chicago to southwestern Missouri river points. No date is set for the hearing.

They Don't Like Duluth.

The Duluth and Red Wing Railway company thinks Duluth capitalists do not appreciate the benefits that would accrue from the construction of such a line as they contemplate to this city. The attempt to raise a bonus of $50,000 for the railroad construction company has resulted in a failure, but this, so the Red Wing people say, will not deter them from building the road, but when it is bulit they say it must enter Duluth. It is understood that the company has been offered inducements to beild to the head of the lakes outside of Duluth and is now considering the matter. President Hubbard is now in New York, where it is said, he has been successful in floating a large slice of bonds.

ON THE WAY.

All Machinery for the Steel Works on the Way or Ready to Ship.

John Birkinbine, the noted engineer of iron and steel works, arrived in Duluth this afternoon in response to a message from Secretary Stowell, of the Duluth Iron and Steel company. He will be here several days. "On my way West," said Mr. Birkinbine, "I stopped at Lebanon, where they have built the big engine for the works. It was being taken down for shipment, and now part of it is on the road. All machinery is either on the way or completed ready to ship at the earliest moment.

"The price of iron is still low, but the demand keeps up remarkably. It is going forward very rapidly and the market seems to be in a healthy state under the millions of tons of ore sent forward with such rapidity. We look for better business very soon. The report that Carnegie had reduced the price of plate steel $6 per ton and other products in proportion is a mistake. Carnegie's no fool, and he wouldn't do that in the face of labor difficulties."

Another Wheat Soiree.

Mr. Leo Wheat entertained a delighted audience in a private parlor at The Spalding last night, consisting of Hon. H. K. Ellyson, of Virginia, and party, a party of tourists from Madison, and a number of Duluth musicians and music-lovers. Mr. Wheat was in his best mood and made the beautiful Steinway piano Messrs. Dyer Bros. & Co. had sent to him give voice to the music with which he overflowed. His touch compelled the piano to pour forth a flood of melody from the greatest works of the greatest music masters, which was delightfully varied by a lullaby and a cradle song by Mrs. Florence Nicholls, given in her best manner. In addition to several classic selections, Mr. Wheat gave a song written by Thomas Nelson Page, and a negro folk-song.

HARVESTING IS BEGUN.

Cass County Has Harvesters at Work---A Fine Class of Grain.

Local Market Strong---News and Quotations From Outside.

Telegrams received on the Board of Trade today state that harvesting has begun in Cass and other counties of Dakota. The Dalrymple people at Cassleton set twenty harvesters at work today while smaller farmers have many more. The outlook is reported good. While the yield will not be a full average one, which has indeed not been expected dy any one, it will be about a 75 per cent of a crop in many sections, while some counties will raise more wheat than ever before and some will fall short. While, too, the heads of grain are not long they are well filled out and there promises, from present indications, to be a greater percentage of 1 hard to the crop than has ever been known.

In connection with this early harvesting, this date being earlier than any heretofore known in the Duluth district, it is well to note that on August 17, last year, while the grain was in the milk, occurred those hot winds that blasted the crop and the hopes of a tremendous yield. This year's crop is fully a month in advance. If the weather continues as good as it now is new wheat will begin appearing in the Duluth market very early in August and August and September will be a big new wheat month, instead of September and October as in past years. Board of Trade men, insurance vessel brokers and ship owners as well as business men in general, will all be glad of an early harvest.

Local Markets.

New wheat has ruled strong and dull and inactive for old, with small business for September at 1c above yesterday, and some in December at 1c over September. The market closed firm as follows:

Cash, No. 1 hard, 99½. No. 1 northern, 93. No. 2 northern, 83. Rejected wheat, 73. August offered at 85½, 83 bid. September sold and closed at 83. December ruled steady, and closed at 84.

New York Money.

NEW YORK, July 24.—Money is easy at 2@3 per cent. The dullness in the stock market continued unrelieved after 11 o'clock, and little or no feature was shown in the trading, though a general drooping tendency prevailed during the early portion of the hour, and some stocks showed slight losses from the opening figures. The tone was rather better toward noon, however, but the improvement extended to few stocks, and at noon the market was dull and barely steady at about opening prices.

WEST END.

The coal dock men are still out on the strike today. They are peaceable and good natured. They think they will be taken back at advanced wages after the companies have tried the men imported from Minneapolis and St. Paul. There are only two companies who have hired men in St. Paul. The Northern Fuel company and the Ohio Coal company. The men do not think of using force and seem very confident of success in this strike. They gathered at 10 o'clock today at the warehouse near elevator G but went home after staying there a half an hour. All the companies in the West End are running their docks, though not with full forces of men. There are three policemen stationed near elevator G. WEST DULUTH.

Baseball, the News of the Day and Notes of the Town's Growth.

The baseball match between the Rice Lakes and West Duluths yesterday afternoon was an excellent one until the commencement of the last half of the eighth inning, at which time the home team was four runs ahead. At this point the West Duluth boys became tired and the sphere was pounded all over the field. Bases were stolen and seventeen runs scored by the visitors in this one inning, which decided the game. The score by innings was as follows:

West Duluth	3	0	1	0	2	1	5	2	0	—14
Rice Lake	5	0	1	1	2	0	1	1	7	0—27

As this is only the third game played by the home club, it has made a splendid record, as the visitors have among them a number of league players formerly with the Eau Claire club. The West Duluth will visit Rice Lake, and a match game for $100 has been arranged.

A distressing accident occurred this morning about 8 o'clock. Frank Ream, a feeder connected with sawing blocks for the paving contract, placed a wet cedar pole to be sawed, breaking off a portion of one of the saws which, striking him in the groin, made a severe wound. Dr. Forin was soon on the spot and carefully dressed it. Apart from the loss of a considerable quantity of blood, the wounded man is not expected to suffer very materially. After striking him the saw glanced. Had it not done so, it would probably have cut him nearly in two, as the broken piece was nearly eighteen inches long.

There will be a meeting of the fire department at the office of S. S. Williamson in the Manufacturers bank block at 7 o'clock this evening, to decide on requisite apparatus.

THE TWIN CITIES RACES.

Second Day's Sport at Hamline Park a Continued Success.

Peter Jackson Wants Sullivan to Whip Him--- Notes.

Minneapolis, July 25.—The second day's racing at Hamline was somewhat more to the taste of the spectators than the first day's event. The crowd was large for a regular day, considering the fact that nearly everybody interested in the winning horse were present on the inaugural day. The crowd yesterday numbered about 4000, 1000 of whom were ladies. The betting was fully as brisk as on Tuesday, and the bookmakers had the short end of the winnings. The betting ring was crowded from the time the bell rang for the first race until Lillian Lindsey came under the wire a winner in the last race of the day for the ladies' stakes. The weather was excellent for the purpose, and the track in better condition than it has been for several weeks.

In the first race Bon Air, S. Leger, Keder Khan and Kidnap were pretty heavily backed, but Argenta and Charlotte J. won considerable money for those who prefer to play the sport horses.

Argenta was in the second, Lotion, Alphonso and The Elk were heavily backed, especially Alphonso, the brown colt, being the owners and stable tip. Alphonso was a hot favorite when they left the post. Lotion won.

In the third race Alamo Belle and Miss Belle were favorites, the former at odds of seven to two. Several were of the opinion that it ought to have been Alamo Belle's race, but it is likely lost money influenced the opinions.

Miss Belle won in the fourth race. Cassius and Cotolipa were the favorites, both going to the post at three to two. Catalpa took the race.

In the last race Lillian Lindsey and the field sold even and each heavily backed Lilie B and Sis O. Lee were quite heavily backed for places. Lilian won after an exerting contest.

Tips for today—First race—Charlotte J and Vivian. Second race—Dorswan and Cora Fisher. Third race—May Noonan and Henry Moe. Fourth race—Castaway II and Kate Malone. Fifth race—Brown Princess and Sallie Hogan.

Jackson Wants to Meet Sullivan.

New York, July 25.—Jackson, the colored pugilist, arrived here from Cincinnati today. Despite Sullivan's refusal to meet him on account of his color, and the champion's contemptuous references to him in several places, he is determined to, if possible, force the Boston giant into the ring. With that view, his latest supporter, "Parson" Davies, of Chicago, has been here for several days, and in a day or two the latter will issue a formal challenge in Jackson's behalf, directed also to Kilrain. Jackson is being backed by the San Francisco Athletic club, which is ready to go any amount on him.

Sporting Notes.

German Strikers.

Nine were sentenced to terms of imprisonment ranging from eighteen months to five years at hard labor, and twenty-two sentenced to imprisonment from a year to four years without hard labor.

ENOCH ARDEN REVERSED.

A Wife Who Finds Her Husband, Lost Twelve Years Ago.

This morning Mrs. Martin Olson, of Eau Claire, Wis., arrived in Duluth in search of her husband, who left her twelve years ago. Mrs. Olson has prosecuted a vigorous search ever since, and this morning her vigilance was rewarded. She came upon her faithless husband at 1226 West Fourth street, where he was living with another woman, presumably his wife, and to make matters worse, four children are the result of this second union.

Mrs. Olson No. 1 is determined to have her rights, however, and has sought legal advice, with the intention of making the recreant Martin make full redress for his faithlessness. It was a thunderbolt of the most unexpected kind to Martin, and he is struck all of a heap, so to speak.

WEST DULUTH.

The Walls of the Iron Bay Company's Works Rising—News Notes.

At the Iron Bay works there is a large force of men at work, notwithstanding that all the carpenters are laid off until material arrives. The boiler and pattern shop is the only frame structure—the others are of brick. Work began yesterday of laying brick for the walls of the machine shop and offices, which building is 200 feet long fronting on Fourth avenue east. The office is at the north end of the building and fronting on Fourth street. The pile driver will today have so far completed the driving of piles as to allow the masons to complete the foundation walls for the foundry and blacksmith shop.

Some miscreant put coal tar around the head and ears of F. C. Stamm's dog yesterday. Mr. Stamm has lately come here and is proprietor of the jewelry store in the Manufacturers Bank block. The dog is a very valuable one, being a full-blooded pointer, well broken, and if his owner could discover the man who did the deed he would make it interesting for him.

The game between the Stars, of Duluth, and the Stars, of West Duluth, last evening, resulted in a walk away for the visiting club. The home club requires considerable practice.

THE DAY IN THE CITY.

Their Taxes Doubled.

Kansas City, July 25.—A delegation of the members of the Schweinfurth churchof this city, headed by their pastor, called on County Assessor Edwards today to consult as to the necessity of taking the oath. In making a schedule of the taxable property the assessor informed them that they must take the oath or submit to the penalty, the doubling of their assesements. The pastor quoted the command, "Swear not at all." The assessor suggested that they might make a compromise on the Quaker affirmation, but was met with the quotation, "Let your communication be yea, yea, and nay, nay." The Schweinfurthians finally departed determined to submit to the penalty.

Bad Bread vs. Bad Whisky.

In the race for the championship in crime producing, bad bread is a good second, if it does not hold its own with bad whisky. Fully half the family quarrels, half the divorces, half the murders are indirectly the result of bad cooking, bad digestion, bad stomachs, bad bread. Unrivaled Baking Powder makes good bread. Demand it of your grocer. Full weight, 25c per pound.

THE EDITORS' OUTING.

Two Hundred Wisconsin Pencil-Drivers Visit Duluth.

They See Us in a Wet Time, But We're Glad of a Visit.

Delegates to the Wisconsin Press association's summer meeting to the number of more than 200 gathered at Duluth this afternoon. There is a good representation from the country press of the state as well as from city papers. Besides newspaper delegates, there are a number of prominent politicians. Many of the delegates will be entertained at the homes of acquaintances during their short stay. The party leaves this evening for St. Paul and there disbands, several of the editors returning to Duluth for Sunday.

During last night they arrived at Superior and this morning after breakfast at the Euclid were taken out on the water, rain preventing a drive about the city. Dinner was given at a West Superior hotel, and speeches and toasts indulged in. In the afternoon the party took its train for Duluth, and is now here. A LITTLE DOUBTFUL.

Is Park Point Duluth, or is it Not?---A Question.

There having been some doubt in the county auditors mind as to what to do with the money from taxes collected for the village of Park Point, he applied to the county attorney for an opinion, which is in substance as follows:

My opinion is that the best, and in fact the only proper thing for you to do in the matter, is to hold the money where it is—in the county treasury—until ordered by the court to pay it over. There is some question as to whether the act under which it was attempted to add Park Point to the city is valid in that respect, and the courts alone can settle that question.

It is probable that the matter will be brought before the courts by a writ to compel the payment of the money.

SUPERIOR CITY.

Strikers Go Back to Work Today--General News of the Day.

The strike which has been on since last Friday among the street laborers is over. Contractors are working men, and no trouble is anticipated. With the coal heavers the case is different. They have certain advantages in a fight for the 50 cents rate, and are encouraged by the fact that the Lehigh made the concession and that vesselmen are in sympathy. Warehousemen of the Eastern railway sheds have so far manifested no disposition to strike. The Griffin Rifles returned to Eau Claire last night. Corporals Atkinson and Spencer remained. The former is connected with The Eau Claire Leader and will join the Wisconsin editors. Corp. Spencer is on the sick list.

The Superior Light and Fuel company have about seventy-five men in its employ and is paying $1.75 per day. Contractor Rhodes is also paying $1.75.

The "Miner's Oath," a sensational melodrama, will be produced at Academy of Music tonight and for the remainder of the week.

The Northwestern Fuel company employed fourteen men for the dock yesterday, and intended to work them later in the hold of the steamer Caledonia. The men have all quit.

G. L. Percy is in Hudson in attendance at the meeting of the Congregational Society of Christian Endeavor.

H. H. Grace returned from Ashland last evening.

The "Merchants Carnival," which will be presented at the City hall tomorrow evening, promises to be a success. About eighty firms will be represented, each by a lady dressed in a costume indicative of the business. There is much rivalry among them as regards costumes, and many will be very expensive.

FIND MORE COPPER.

Another Mass of Copper Found in Street Excavation---Why Not Explore?

This morning the workmen engaged in blasting rock on Fifth street, between Fifth and Sixth avenues west, found a nugget of float copper, weighing fifteen or twenty pounds. This chunk of copper was the pure stuff, and where it was struck with a pick or a drill it is laid bare bright and tenacious.

No less than six times this season, and frequently in previous years, Duluth papers chronicled the discovery of rich specimens of float copper in the various works about the city, or of veins of copper-bearing rock in the trap dikes and granitic formation met with on streets and in cellars. Isn't it about time that some systematic move was made to discover and develop the vein from which these masses come, or to explore the veins so frequently found? There is apparently no doubt of one thing, and that is that where copper is found it will be exceedingly rich, all finds of float and ore being about as pure as the metal in a marketable state.

THE COURT.

Fred Spark, Mat Enogellovek, Valentine Sawyer and Frank Greene, were four vagrants who answered to Judge Morris's roll call this morning. They were all sent up to join the street gang. Richard Muldoon and John Brown, plain drunks, were also committed. Thomas Mason, drunk with trimmings, paid a fine of $5 and costs.

Sheriff Sharvy took the afternoon train for Tower, having a warrant for the arrest of Eugene Nicol. Nicol is an Italian, and is charged with abandoning his wife and two children, and leaving them without any means of support, so that it has become necessary for them to apply for admittance to the poor-house.

WEST END.

Everything is quiet at the docks today. The strikers have not gathered much on the streets or around the docks. A philosophical striker reasoned thus today: "The coal companies are losing money because of this strike. Take, for instance, the Northwestern Fuel company. It has ten special policemen who are paid $3 per day. That is $30 per day. Then the men who are now working cannot do more than half the work that we do in a day. They lose just twenty cents an hour on that. Then see if they ain't losing money, even if they don't pay advanced wages." Three policemen are still stationed at elevator G.

N. O. Nelson returned this morning from a business trip to St. Paul, Milwaukee and Chicago.

A man was brought to the hospital this morning with both legs and arms injured, but how he was injured no one could tell.

The young people of the Second Baptist church give a reception to the older ones at the church on Friday, July 26.

Sven Gjesdahl, who has been visiting friends in Norway for the past three months, is expected home again some time next week.

The West End Browns came back happy last night, after having defeated the West Duluths by a score of 27 to 5. Their batteries were Farrington and Lynn, while the Stars had three pitchers, Wheeler, Duff, Lloyd, and one catcher, Birch. The Browns will play the Red Stockings of Superior, Saturday.

BIRTH.

Lutes—To Mr. and Mrs. John Lutes, a daughter, on July 23, 1889.

THE TEMPERANCE UNION.

Today's Exercises at the Womans Christian Temperance Reunion.

The evening session of the district convention of Womens Christian Temperance Union was held at the First Methodist church. The program was followed as heretofore outlined. A quartet, composed of Miss Louden and Miss Beta Foote, Mr. Coole and Mr. McMillen, rendered some excellent music. Mrs. McKindley officiated at the organ. Rev. E. M. Noyes on the question, "Does Prohibition Prohibit," covered the ground very effectually, proving, from his standpoint, that it did prohibit.

This afternoon meeting was carried out as per the program. The call for the thirteenth annual meeting of the State W. C. T. U. of Minnesota was read. The convention will be held at Duluth, September 10, 11 and 12. It will be composed of the state executive committee, state superintendents of departments, state organizers, the officers of local W. C. T. U.s and Y. W. C. T. U.s, also the president, secretaries and treasurers of district and county unions. The chairman of committee on entertainment is Mrs. Z. D. Scott, of this city.

WILL PULL IN THE RACE.

Duluth's Crews Go to Minnetonka Saturday Afternoon.

Those Who Will Pull and Some Sure Tips on Their Time.

But one more training day remains for the Duluth boat crew, then they're off for Minnetonka. The men will leave Saturday afternoon. Through the courtesy of the Eastern road they and their boats will be sent to the lake without change. Every man in the crew is in splendid condition, and while realizing that accidents may happen, is determined to pull a winning oar. The names and positions of the crew is as follows: Stroke, Smith; Bow, Hopkins; No. 3, Lewis; No. 2, Mahoney. Training was begun about a month ago, although the crew, as individuals, has been working hard since the opening of navigation. What progress has been made can be shown from the fact that they have lowered their record of last year nearly one-quarter.

Jack Larkin, the trainer, is the best man for that position the crew has yet had. He gets his men out every day at 6:30 for a pull over a two-mile course, with a turn, after which a spurt is made the length and return of Railroad street. Then a course of baths and severe rubbings is indulged in. After reaching Minnetonka the oarsmen will have five days in which to get used to the course and climate. Their program is as follows: Mile park at 7 o'clock; 8:30, breakfast; 10, pull over course; 5, pull over course and bath; 9, bed.

The Duluth boat crew belongs to the Northwestern association, which includes: The Winnipegs, of Manitoba; the Lurlines, Minneapolis; the Minnesotas, of St. Paul; the St. Pauls, of St. Paul; the Duluths, of this city. Our crew will enter the race for the junior fours, we having no senior crew. The prize for the senior race is the "Sir Smith Cup," given by a Canadian nobleman, valued at $500. Individual medals will also be given. For the junior race medals will be the prize. The senior race has awakened intense interest because of the fact that the deed of gift of the Smith cup gives the prize to the crew winning it three times. The Winnipeg, for whom the cup was first made, have lost two race; if they lose this year the cup passes from their hands. Last season the Lurlines won all the prizes worth having, but word comes from Winnipeg that its crew has trained for winning and will make a fierce struggle.

Duluth will be represented in the doubles; Hopkins and Pearson will participate, while in the singles Harry Pearson will enter. Both men have been carefully trained under Larkins and are making excellent time. All things being favorable the time of last year's juniors and seniors will be considerably lowered. what time the Duluth crew has made makes it impossible that the race will be won over a 9:20 speed. Last season the official time was 9:25 for the juniors and 8:15 for the seniors, over a mile-and-a-half course with turn. In a straight-away course this time could have been considerably lessened for between ten and fifteen seconds are required to make the turn. The races will probably come off Friday and Saturday of next week and a large concourse of Duluth enthusiasts and members of the Boat club will be on hand.

A $4,000,000 Failure.

New York, July 25.—The announcement that the notes of the heavy dry goods firm of Lewis Bros. & Co. had gone to protest was the all-absorbing topic of conversation in mercantile circles today. Liabilities of the firm amounts to nearly $4,000,000, which it was thought could be more than covered by the resources when the latter were in shape to be immediately available. The manager and employes are on hand, and apparently as busy as before. Some of them were talking to customers and friends of the house. "Has the firm made an assignment?" was asked of the man in command of the army of workers. "Not yet," was the reply. "Do you think the house will be tided over the difficulty?" "Yes." The members of the firm resident in this city are George W. Wharton, Jos W. Lewis and Henry Lewis. Mr. Wharton admitted the authenticity of the rumor that his firm had made an assignment. Cornelius W. Bliss, of the New York firm of Bliss, Fabyan & Co., was the assignee. "I am unable to place the amount of our liabilities. They will not be much in excess of our assets. It is impossible to determine these things until an examination. If we could have had only two or three days more we would have been able to tide over, but the blow fell at the worst time, and our only course was to make an assignment."

A Chicago Joint.

Chicago, July 25.—Chicago police gained entrance to a Chinese laundry which was fitted up in an elegant manner. Soft couches covered with fine silk and satin were ranged about. Six Chinamen were found innocently smoking cigarettes, but there was no sign of the "Melican men." After a long search a little trap door was found which led to a subterranean passage in which were found three "pipe fiends," together with May Wou, the proprietor, and four other Chinamen, and a large quantity of pipes, opium, two murderous looking Chinese daggers and revolvers.

Feared Judge Lynch.

Cincinnati, July 25.—Thomas Frey, the murderer of John M. Cooper, after having been sentenced last night at Batavia to imprisonment for life, was taken to jail and shortly afterward placed in irons, put into a carriage and driven to this city where early this morning he was safely imprisoned. From here he will be taken to the Ohio penitentiary. The sheriff at Batavia feared mob violence if he undertook to keep Frey in that jail.

The Weather.

Washington, July 25.—Forecast for twenty-four hours: Minnesota and Wisconsin, no decided change in temperature, southeasterly winds, becoming variable. Dakota, fair, clearing in eastern portion, slightly cooler, except in eastern portion, nearly stationary.

Duluth has been glad to entertain the ladies of the Christian Temperance Union, in session in the city today and yesterday. It will welcome as gladly their sisters of the state organization which convenes here in a few weeks.

Beautiful Park Point and the many other pleasant and convenient places of summer resort near the city are fast becoming populated with their summer residents. A number of families and camping parties are tenting on Park Point and the number is increasing weekly.

The news that harvesting had begun in North Dakota, published in The Herald yesterday afternoon, was pleasant to Duluth ears. The universal expectation now is for a fair crop, and Duluth may reasonably look for from 18,000,000 to 22,000,000 bushels of the crop of 1889.

The State Agricultural society is doing legitimate and valuable work in gathering and tabulating crop statistics. The figures used are furnished by the farmers and ought to be thoroughly reliable. It is of great importance that accurate estimates of the crops are known, and the Agricultural society has done well to take up the work.

In another column will be found the figures of personal property assessment of individuals and firms paying tax on more than $2500. The list is of interest to the tax payer and to the merchant. It shows some big figures, too, larger by far than any ever before published in Duluth. One institution shows an assessed valuation of nearly $500,000, several of between $300,000 and $400,000, while many of our wholesale firms have stocks assessed at $100,000 or over. The increment of wealth and the growth of business is well shown by the totals of the past three years, also given in the table.

The Wisconsin editors are looking about the head of the lake today, and are taking in some of the most wonderful evidences of development which can be shown to any set of editors in any portion of this great country. They have quick eyes for everything that savors of progress, and we know perfectly well that they will make a note of whatever they see in that line in Duluth. We extend to them a hearty welcome, and can only hope that they will be as pleased with their brief glimpse of our city as we know they would be if they were to give it a more extended visit and more thorough examination.

Some permanent provision should be made in this city for the proper entertainment of visitors, such as the city is proud and honored to be the host of today, and such as the other editorial party which is to visit us next week. It is of great importance that tourists who come here for the special purpose of seeing Duluth, should be properly shown about, and entertained. The matter should not be left to the tender mercy of spasmodic impulse, or to individual exertion. The Herald would suggest that the Board of Trade, city council and Chamber of Commerce take cognizance of this matter and consider if some permanent arrangement cannot be effected.

It would certainly be an excellent thing for France if that country could be permanently relieved of Boulanger; and if he had been left alone when he showed his cowardly nature by fleeing to Holland and thence to England to avoid a trial on a trumped-up charge by the senate, the country would have been well and easily rid of him. But the Frenchmen could not let him alone in his disgrace, and allow him to complete his own downfall. They must needs begin to kick his prostrate form until the mercurial people began again to pity him and then to admire him. Soon they will forget that he is a craven and a mountebank and imagine him their hero again. He is showing signs of life, and will probably manage to make considerable of a nuisance of himself, with the aid of the French people whose enemy he is.

The North Dakota constitutional convention could not bring itself to agree to the single-body legislature proposition, which is quite likely a wise and conservative decision, inasmuch as it is not supposed that the new state will be the practical realization of Utopia. It is to be regretted, however, that some one of the new states is not in proper condition to give the idea a fair trial. Given an honest and patriotic community, it presents an easy avenue through which to secure the correction of a large proportion of the legislative abuses which are now a heavy curse to this country, from the average city council up to congress. One of the greatest curses that afflict the government of towns, cities, states and nation today is the obstructions which lobbyists and corrupt legislators are able to place in the way of proper legislative enactment. It is now possible to delay the passage of just laws for a long time, or kill them entirely, by putting blocks in the way of their passage at each of the stages of their lumbering way through the dreary maze of committees and different and independent bodies. There is a great mass of legislative machinery which may be put out of order at many points by corruptionists. It ought to be simplified, and it might be simplified without detriment to the peoples' interests. The single legislative body idea is entirely practicable, and is a step in the right direction. It is being adopted by newly organized cities in the East with most excellent results, and what makes it valuable to cities would make it even more practicable and valuable to states.

SEEN AND HEARD.

"Ahem! Ahem! Ahem!" The victim looks up just as a "sorry to interrupt you, but I'd like to make you the most advantageous offer you ever had in the book line," etc., etc., etc., greets his ear. There are more book agents in the city today than there has been before in any previous two months of the city's existence. They are all exasperatingly tenacious and all are doing business on the installment plan—books delivered and paid for in monthly installments. There's hardly a subscription book going, but that is sold in this way. Appletons, Chambers, Britannica encyclopedia, Century dictionary, "Cyclopedia of American Biography" and a hundred others, all having thousands of agents scattered over the country, making the lives of millions miserable and reaping a harvest of shekels from the coffers of the unwary.

* * *

"This installment business is a regular craze," said a friend to me, as he dolefully doled out $2.50 to a rapacious book agent the other day. "I can't tell you how sorry I am I went into it. When the first agent came round I was for a long time obdurate, and would have nothing to do with him. 'Why,' said he to me, 'what's $2 50 a month? Just see: By laying aside eight cents every day you can pay for the entire work.' Well, this argument was very, specious, and, alas, I yielded. That rascal was the cause of my downfall. How I wish I'd fired him out of the office. Only a few days after No. 1 was in, No. 2 thrust himself upon me: I was again a victim. And so it has gone until I have just enough out of my salary to pay my living expenses; the rest goes to the book fiends. I have three sets of encyclopedia—each guaranteed better than the other—Scott's, Dickens', Lytton, American histories, poetry, art journals, etc., until I live in the closet and give up my old sleeping room to my stock of books. And then all hours of the day I am interrupted in my work by some person whose whole wordy stock-in-trade is, 'your subscription is due.' My days are miserable and my nights sleepless and"—the door opened and a shiny silk hat followed by a sharp, shrewd face stuck in. The mouth of the face opened and then came: "Can you spare a few moments for me to show you our latest edition of Shakespeare?" My friend sprang from his seat with an exclamation that sounded slightly like the German word "dammit," saying: "My friend, if you value your life don't you step into this room. You see before you a man on the verge of insanity and not accountable for his doings. You get!" And the fellow got.

Yes, this installment business is getting to be a bad craze and many an unsuspecting victim gets roped in. It's all right at first, if one can stop then and there, but the trouble is one doesn't do it. A person finds it easy to pay $2.50, or even $5 a month, but when these obligations accumulate, until ten or a dozen collectors are monthly after one's pocket book, it counts up. It's worse than rum or opium or morphine. I should confidentially tell people to keep well out of it and buy their books cash down; I know, for I've been there.

"Duluth is to be favored with one of the finest sopranos in the country next month," said a musically-inclined friend of mine. "I refer to Miss Goodwin, who will make her appearance with the Detroit Philharmonic quartet, under the auspices of the Friends in Council. I heard her once at the Chicago Academy of Music. This was before she studied under Marchesi, of Paris, and those who have heard her since say that her voice has been built up and improved wonderfully. I was enraptured with it before, and if she has improved as much as is said of her she will take rank with the best singers in America."

* * *

Auditor LaVaque said: "I noticed you made a reference to Charles M. Wilson in The Herald, and remarked that a good many would remember him with his many schemes, and so forth. I remember him and his schemes to the extent of twenty-five dollars. A few days before his first wife's death he came to me with a long face and said he was very short of money, and would I loan him a few dollars to get a few delicacies for his sick wife. He would repay me the following Monday without fail. I wrote him a cheque on the spot for $25, for I had a great deal of sympathy and friendship for his wife. He never paid the money back, although he has been amply able to do so many times. It is well he has gone; the fewer there are of such men in Duluth the better for the place."

* * *

I saw a party of nearly a dozen Duluth men start off for a vacative jaunt at Isle Royale this morning. Every man in the crowd looked as if he had an unlimited capacity for a good time, and the provisions and supplies carried along would indicate pretty plainly what the idea of a good time might be. I happened on the Dixon's dock as their outfit was being put aboard. Two barrels of Fitger's best found the piece de resistance, while flanking it were bottles of various shapes and colors, flat and round, with cork stoppers and stoppers of wire, of white glass and brown glass, all containing lemonade and Apollinaris water. There was also a box of tobacco, while beside it was a ham, a half sack of flour and a few loaves of bread. Two of the party looking at the bread and ham remarked that they "didn't know why the dickens they need lug along such a lot of that kind of stuff."

THE CROPS OF THE STATE.

Statistics Gathered by the State Agricultural Society's Officers.

Englishmen Do Not Buy Flour City Mills---Notes of News.

MINNEAPOLIS, July 25.—The Minnesota State Agricultural society has issued its first annual prospectus of the condition of the crops. The series of letters sent out by the society in June to the farmers of the state, asking for definite information as to crop, land and property conditions in the different counties of the state, have been returned with a singularly voluminous mass of valuable information. Particularly is this true as relates to the crop statistics of the country.

The letters of inquiry as sent out by President Bushnell and Secretary Denny contain a question which asks for a full statement as to the ordinary yield per acre of wheat, corn, oats, barley, flax, potatoes and other cereals. The idea was to get near to the true yield when the country is unharrassed by storm and blight. The replies as a rule are given with this point in view, and coming as they have just on the edge of harvest, and from the farmers of the country who are to reap this harvest, they furnish a close index to the probable crop of the year. The returns made harmonize closely with last Saturday's crop report of the Manitoba and the Omaha roads and the commercial agencies.

The number of replies received from each county to date varies from one to eight, and the crop data to hand and now furnished covers forty-three counties of the state, or more than half. The probable average yield per acre in each county has been ascertained by the addition of all the estimates received from that county, and then the division of the total by the number of estimates received. It is probable that in some cases the estimates may have been too high and in others too low, but conservative farmers furnished the data with a full knowledge of the climatic condition of this spring and the improved weather since the 1st of July. From these reports the information is gleaned that the central portion of the state bids fair to have an average of fifteen bushels per acre, while portions of the northwest and southwest will pull this down to between ten and twelve. Late cold weather affected the corn crop, as does the dry weather now. The first table covers 26 of the principal counties of the state. Twenty-six counties, average bushels of potatoes per acre 161; 27 counties average bushels of wheat per acre 15½; 28 counties, average bushels of oats per acre, 37 3-7; 27 counties average bushels of corn per acre, 36; 24 counties average bushels of barley per acre, 20¾. A second table covers 15 other counties: Fifteen other counties, average bushels of wheat per acre, 17; 15 counties average bushels of oats per acre 13; 13 counties average bushels of corn per acre, 45; 15 counties average bushels of barley per acre, 30; 11 counties average bushels of flax per acre, 10; 14 counties average bushels of potatoes per acre, 177.

The Option Expires.

MINNEAPOLIS, July 25.—The option given to the English syndicate on the flour-mill deal expires today, but so far as can be learned nothing definite has been accomplished and the deal may be considered off. Interest now centers on the English effort to secure control of the Van Dusen line of elevators on which it is generally understood that an option has been given.

News of the State.

The Chautauqua assembly at Mahtomedi opened last evening.

IN AN EGYPTIAN MUSEUM.

[Bissell Clinton in Harper's for August.]

Amid swathed mummies and the stolid faces
Of gods who looked on Pharaoh's tyrant power
A fascinating and secluded place is
To while away a winter morning hour.

I'll own there is a dearth of conversation
From rows of black and brown sarcophagi,
And little cause for pleasant palpitation
In having Isis and Osiris nigh.

But when amid these fallen idols olden
And stony tombs that buried secrets share
There roams a living maid whose looks are golden
As that bewitching damsel's over there.

Why, by the shades of all the gods Egyptian,
And by the line of mummied Pharaohs too,
To linger here is not a bad prescription,
And I propose to linger. Wouldn't you?

MARRIAGE IS A FAILURE:

When dinner is not ready at dinner time.

When "he" snores his loudest while "she" kindles the fire.

When the vacations are taken by one side of the house only.

When the children are given the neck and back of the chicken.

When a man attempts to tell his wife what style of bonnet she must wear.

When a man's Christmas presents to his wife consist of bootjacks, shirts and gloves for himself.

When politeness, fine manners and kindly attentions are reserved for company or visits abroad.

When the lord of creation pays more for his cigars than his better half does for hosiery, boots and bonnets.

When both parties persist in arguing over a subject upon which they never have and never can think alike.

When "father" takes half of the pie and leaves the other half for the one that made it and her eight children.

DANCING ELEPHANTS.

4-Paw's Famous Troupe of Wonderful Quadrille Pachyderms.

Forepaugh's troupe of quadrille-dancing elephants have been the sensation of the season. Nothing like these trained beasts have ever been seen before. The evolutions through which they go and the constant intelligence which they display, provoke admiration for the genius and patience which have brought their faculties into play. In order to illustrate to what perfection elephants can be trained, Forepaugh has selected eight trumpeting pachyderms, all answering to names. There is Othello and Desdemona, Romeo and Juliet, Hamlet and Ophelia and Antony and Cleopatra. These elephants go through a quadrille with the same ease and grace as the most skillful, bow, promenade and "chassez" in a way that is as wonderful as it is ludicrous. These marvelous elephants, together with Adam Forepaugh, Jr's. $50,000 troupe of trained broncho horses; "Eclipse," the equine aerialist; the great arenic exhibition of sensations, and the history-depicting and soul-stirring reproduction of life upon the plains, with Dr. Carver, the famous traveler and rifle-shot, and two hundred scouts, soldiers, cowboys and Indians, will be seen with the Forepaugh shows, which exhibit at Duluth on Friday, August 9th.

THEY PAY BIG MONEY.

A Peep Into Strong Boxes, Assisted by the City Assessor.

Personal Property Lists of Heavy Taxpayers of Duluth.

The assessment roll on personal property and new improvements for the year 1889 has been completed by City Assessor Cooley and his able assistants, and turned over to the board of equalization, which has, however, so far been unable to look through them. The Herald has already given totals and a few figures of the different articles included in the assessment. It presents below a complete list of all individuals and corporations that pay tax on over $2500 yearly, and gives in addition a few facts as to totals that will bear filing away. The roll shows that the assessed valuation of personal property in the city of Duluth amounts to $4,027,465, a gain of just $691,236 in the year, and of $1,094,417 since the assessment of 1887 was made, figures for the three years being as follows:

	Assessment.	Persons.
1889	$4,027,465	2205
1888	3,336,776	1254
1887	2,932,995	848

In the past year there was added for building improvements $592,737, while the further increase was due largely to credits, stocks, etc. A few items of assessment are given herewith: Gold and silver plate, $11,246; diamonds and jewelry, $7210; franchises and patent rights, $12,150, steam and sailing vessels, $190,815; goods and merchandise, $742,710; manufacturer's materials and articles, $120,170; tools, implements and machinery, $103,550; moneys of banks, bankers, etc., $130,920; moneys and credits other than banks, $88,335; bonds and stocks other than bank, $388,790; bank stock, $1,006,950; stock and furniture of saloons, eating houses, etc., $42,925; elevators, warehouses and improvements on land of any railroad company, $440,150; improvements of United States lands, $5950.

Last year's assessment was increased by credits, there being a tremendous volume of real estate mortgages, this year these mortgages are so reduced that they cut but a small figure. It will be seen that the highest personal assessment is that of the Duluth Union National bank, while the Lake Superior Elevator company follows closely, both far above $400,000. Beolw are the figures:

THE EQUALIZERS.

County Board Finally at Work—A New Law of Interest.

The county board of equalization met again this morning pursuant to adjournment. There was not much actual business transacted, the time being consumed in looking over the rolls. As far as the examination has proceeded, it is the opinion that the work of the assessor has been fairly and impartially performed, and it is not anticipated there will be any objections of a serious nature against any of the assessments. The principal anxiety among the commissioners is to see that no one has been inadvertantly left out.

A little matter that will be of interest and which will have a tendency to cause parties about to buy personal property to look carefully and see there are no taxes against such property, is the following addition to the state law, passed by the last legislature: "The taxes assessed upon personal property shall be a lien upon the personal property of the persons assessed, from and after the time the tax books are received from the county treasurer." Heretofore when a party evaded the payment of the personal property tax, after the property had changed hands the state had no recourse but to take judgment against the party. Now the property is holding for the amount.

Pencil Pushers of South Dakota and Mississippi on Their Way.

Yesterday afternoon a telegram was received in this city stating that the Mississippi and Dakota Editorial association had combined, and had just left Aberdeen on their way to catch a few breaths of invigorating Lake Superior breezes. The associations include some of the best editorial timber in the United States, and represent large and enterprising constituencies.

The party, which is expected to number about 400, is traveling by special train, and is swinging around the circle to the Sault and back, via lake shore cities, Marquette, Ashland and Superior to Duluth. It will, according to present program, arrive here Monday night or Tuesday morning. It is hoped they will be in Duluth longer than the Wisconsin editors, who arrive here this evening.

No Place Like Duluth.

A. G. Case, president of the First National bank of Charles City, Iowa, and C. D. Ellis, a prominent Iowa attorney, are in the city, guests of M. Stewart, Jr., of Stewart & Britts, bankers. These gentlemen represent a half million dollars of capital and are here to invest a portion of it. "There's no place in the United States like Duluth in which to make money," said Mr. Case. "Mr. Ellis and myself put considerable money into the Sault boom and made a fair margin, but I am sorry we didn't come here first. We have visited St. Paul and Minneapolis, and while we have found them progressive cities, would rather have our interests here. It won't be long—and I've looked the ground over pretty carefully—before Duluth will have a population equal to both those cities, while in comparative commercial importance they will be nowhere."

Excursion to Isle Royale.

A party of nine left on the H. R. Dixon today for a week's stay on Isle Royale. They will land at Washington harbor, and will do considerable touring and fishing, and it is not unlikely that the old prehistoric mound builders, Toltecs and others who are buried there, will give an uneasy "hitch" in their ancient places of entombment at the unusual invasion of sound that will result. The party will be made up of Gus Seipel, Charles Hopewell, W. A. Miller, Arthur Hamilton, Fred Stickles, H. Dvorschack, J. Shultz, Charles Long and Frank Coffin.

THE DAY IN THE CITY.

Even at this early day the opera house is three weeks ahead of the time it was thought necessary to bring the work to this stage of completion. The full height of the building is nearly up and iron work will begin soon. At this rate the house will be finished by October 1.

The sanitary condition of Second avenue west is something undesirable. A hot day brings out more odors to pollute the atmosphere than there is to be found at the mouths of the sewers.

Several members of the Duluth Boat club will accompany the crew to Lake Minnetonka.

A tile sidewalk is being put down around the city hall; 300 feet in all will be laid. It would seem that a retaining wall in front of the vacant lot, west of the police office, would be necessary to keep the sidewalk from caving in.

The Ashlands and Duluths will cross bats at the Ashland park on Saturday afternoon. This is the first appearance of the Duluths in Ashland and Ashland papers are urging a good house. The Press says: "They will come well hooked up to play ball and no doubt will keep the Ashlands hustling to hold their record."

The prayer meeting people of the First Baptist church will unite with other church es at the First Methodist church this, Thursday, evening at 7 o'clock.

A telegram from Madison, Wis., says: "Six thousand people greeted Dr. Talmage here. The Immense pavilion was too small. Hundreds could not get in." He appears here the 30th.

The uniform rank Knights of Pythias of the city have chartered the J. C. Liken and will visit Old Superior Monday, about 100 strong.

The little stone building adjoining the postoffice, will be occupied by Henry Grueser and will be known as the postoffice news stand.

Today's rain has had its effect in laying dust. It was badly needed.

Flour in store now amounts to 130,000 barrels. It is not going forward with any very conspicuous rapidity.

In about two weeks the fifty-seven Reliance rolls at the big Imperial flour mill will be in place and ready for business. Other machinery will be arranged very soon thereafter.

The Apollo Club.

The Apollo club heldits first rehearsal last night at Porter's music store. There was not a full attendance, due probably to counter attractions, but a very satisfactory rehearsal was had. Meetings for the present, weekly, will be held. Two new names were proposed for membership and duly referred to the committee on credentials.

Good Business Investment.

The United States patent has just been received for record for a portion of the county poor farm, comprising the south half of the southwest quarter of section 16-50-14. The entire tract, on which the poor farm is located contains 160 acres, purchased of the state twenty years ago, the purchase price being $1800. The last installment was paid a couple of weeks ago. The farm is now worth $500 per acre.

At Coal Docks.

The Ohio Coal company engaged a number of new men this morning, who arrived from St. Paul and Minneapolis. The strikers are not making any trouble or attempting to interfere in any way with the men at work. It is generally understood that an arrangement will be made by the coal company before the week is over, whereby the strike will be concluded and everything be in running order again early next week. There are twenty-two extra police on duty besides the regular force. The specials do most of the night work.

THE PRINCE'S ALLOWANCE

His Royal Highness Will Probably Get the Small Sum of $45,000.

The Englishmen Chiefly Delight in Giving Away Money.

LONDON, July 25.—Special and urgent whips were issued last night by the government, the liberal unionists, the Gladstonians and the Labouchere radicals, and the absentee members of the house of commons are hurrying back as fast as steam can bring them for the big debate tonight upon the report of the committee on royal grants, increasing the allowance of the Prince of Wales by $45,000 a quarterly. The demand for seats in the visitor's gallery is unprecedented, the galleries reserved for peers and diplomats will be more than crowded, and the scene when the debate is at its height promises to be one of the most brilliant and withal exciting in the history of recent parliaments.

The adoption of the report of the committee, as well as the declaration of the right of her majesty to ask parliament to make a further provision for her grandchildren, is, of course, a foregone conclusion. It will receive the solid support of the tories and the greater proportion of the liberal unionists, led by Hartington, Morley and Harcourt and as well as a respectable following of the Gladstonians. The "Grand Old Man" will himself on this occasion file out into the same lobby with his opponents, although before hand he will ease his mind with what promises to be a notable speech, and in which he will insist that the time is ripe for drawing the line in some direction on the system of indiscriminate pensions to royalty. The fact, however, that he is on terms of close intimacy with the Prince of Wales has induced him to brave the displeasure of his radical supporters by supporting the grant.

The indications are that not more than 100 members, even if solid support is given by the Irish benches, will go into the lobby against the motion. Labouchere and Bradlaugh will lead the opposition, while Cremer, Howell and Burt will voice the opposition of the working classes of the country.

Struck Ile.

OTTAWA, Ont., July 25.—Major A. P. Patrick, a Dominion land surveyor of Calgarry, writes from the Summit, Crows Nest Pass, Rocky Mountains, July 13. In his letter he says that he and another fellow surveyor, had been prospecting for eleven weeks in the Rocky Mountains for coal oil deposits, and that they had struck one of the richest deposits ever found. Samples showed 91 per cent lubricating oil and the remainder water and foreign substance. This is declared to be the best oil ever discovered. Mr. Patrick has had registered in his own name forty acres of the east side of the summit and 500 acres in British Columbia. As it is 4500 feet above the sea level, the crude oil can be run off any distance.

Will Stay at Johnstown.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., July 25.—The representatives of the Johnstown Iron company that are here deny the reports that they are contemplating a removal of their works either to Joliet or any other point. They say, however, that it is possible that they may lease some available plants that have been offered them in order that they may be able to proceed with important contracts that will not permit of delay.

Standing Committees Reported.

BISMARCK, N. D., July 25.—All the standing committees that have been wrestling with the flood of proposed articles of the constitution are reporting today. On the question of a single body legislature and several other important matters, there are majority and minority reports and interminable debates are threatened.

Relief for the Miners.

CHICAGO, July 25.—About fifty tons of provisions will be shipped to Spring Valley for the relief of the striking miners in that portion of the state.

Eight Hours Late.

The Eastern Minnesota train that is scheduled to arrive here at 10 p. m. did not get to Duluth until 5:30 this morning. In entering the Hinckley yard yesterday afternoon the train ran into a drove of cattle, and in consequence jumped the track.

The Excursion Line.

Since its advent into the Northwestern field about three years ago, "The Burlington" has come to the front as the favorite line for large excursion parties. In June 1888, this line carried the Northwestern delegates to the National democratic convention at St. Louis by special train, to their entire satisfaction. In the same month "The Burlington" was the people's line to the National republican convention at Chicago, carrying in four days over 4000 delegates and visitors to that gathering. The Knights of Pythins also selected it as their line to the supreme lodge meeting at Cincinnati. This year the teachers of Minnesota and the Northwest selected "The Burlington" as the official route to their great meeting at Nashville. The reason is that this is the superior route for all large parties. For tickets and rates, address W. J. C. Kenyon, general passenger agent, Chicago, Burlington and Northern railroad, St. Paul, Minn., or call on your local agent.

President Harrison's Double.

President Harrison, it is said, has a double residing in New York. This presidential counterfeit, it is said, would be taken for the chief magistrate anywhere, and has already been the innocent cause of numerous blunders. It is not at all strange, however, because it is said that nature creates everything in pairs, and that every man has his double somewhere. The Saint Paul and Duluth railroad, however, has no double. It stands alone as the best, shortest and most thoroughly equipped route to and from St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth, West Superior and other points North and Northwest. Circulars furnished cheerfully by A. B. Plough, General Passenger Agent, St. Paul, Minn.

A Finish Fight.

The fight between Pat Manning, who recently bested Black Frank, and Frank Keller, who stayed fifteen rounds with Joe Sheehy, comes off at the Alhambra theatre in Ironwood, Saturday night, July 27. Good judges say it will be the longest and best contested ever seen on the iron range. The purse is $300and no draws go.

First a Pigmy—Anon a Giant.

We are too apt to regard a small ailment much as we would some pigmy, unpleasant of aspect and prankish indeed, but incapable of serious mischief. We ignore the fact that it grows prodigiously, strengthens in proportion and begets evil progeny. A fit of indigestion, a slight bilious attack, sensations of unrest and languor when the system should have been braced by recent sleep, unaccountable nervousness, inactivity of the kidneys or bladder—what are these but the precursors of obstinate and serious bodily disturbance? In either of the above emergencies, common sense and experience unite in indicating Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as the best preventive. Particularly should its use be prompt when the languor, yawning, chilliness down the back, and feverishness that precede a malarial attack, manifest themselves. Incipient rheumatism grows apace. Don't neglect it. So with constipation and debility.

R. H. Newell, whose homestead on the hillside was and is the highest dwelling in Duluth, is back again after a stay of a little over three months in Chicago, and will remain some time. He is an ardent Duluthian and when asked if he encountered any inquiry about Duluth in Chicago, responded "Oh, yes; everyone in Chicago has heard of Duluth, but there are probably many in Duluth who never heard of Chicago."

Judge H. E. Jackson and wife, of Nashville, Tenn., have been in the city since last night, coming up on the St. Paul and Duluth afternoon train. They left here this afternoon for Yellowstone Park. Judge Jackson was appointed by President Cleveland to the position of judge in the Sixth Judicial district of the United States to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Judge Baxter, and is one of the best jurists in America.

Mrs. Morse, of Berkshire county, Mass., will spend a few weeks with her sisters, Mrs. Jas. D. Ray and Mrs. G. G. Barnum. She returned with Mrs. Barnum yesterday.

They arrived on the afternoon train from St. Paul, intending to remain here several days, then go to Port Arthur and journey to the Sault via the north shore by easy trips, fishing, hunting for botanical specimens and camping out. They are accompanied by Professor Louis Maisa, formerly with the Smithsonian Institute, a noted mineralogist and botanical savant. Dr. Henry Stone, of Philadelphia, with his wife, are also with the party and will look after the general health of the group. Two female and three male servants completed the list. At Sault Ste. Marie they will be joined by the parents of the Misses Mattie and Florence Bridges and fifteen or sixteen additional young ladies, principally from Philadelphia, Poughkeepsie and Brooklyn, and three additional servants. After reaching Port Arthur they will return on one of the Canadian boats to Duluth, will visit the iron mines at Tower and spend a couple of days there. The party is heavily armed with cascls, fishing tackle and photographic outfits, and has very little baggage. Their traveling costumes are principally plainly-made flannels, of different colors, blue predominating. The young people will return to their Eastern homes late in August.

ITS ANNUAL MEETING.

The Duluth Iron and Steel Company Has Its Business Meeting.

This forenoon began the important annual meeting of the Duluth Iron and Steel company. A number of local stockholders were present but there was no one from away except John Birkinbine and R. C. Munger. A long interesting and important session was held and will probably not be closed until this evening or tomorrow. Officers for the ensuing year have not yet been selected but it is probable that few, if any, changes will be made either in the directorate or list of officers.

All this forenoon and a great part of the afternoon the secretary's report of the past year was heard and discussed. It showed a large and very complete plant, in all details of machinery and arrangement, as so near completion at the present time that two months would see it finished.

MR. TOWER DEAD.

The Father of Minnesota's Great Iron Industry Dies Today.

Private dispatches from Waterville, N. Y., announce the death of Charlemagne Tower, senior, at the old homestead last evening. The deceased was born (in the same house in which he died) April 16, 1809. He leaves a wife and five children. The children are Charlemagne Tower, Jr., and Miss Henrietta Tower, of Philadelphia, both well known here; Mrs. R. H. Lee, of Duluth; Mrs. Thomas A. Riley, now in Europe; Mrs. Earle B. Putnam, of Rochester, New York.

Mr. Tower was sick but a few days and received a paralytic stroke which resulted in the summoning of the family, Mr. and Mrs. Lee leaving for Waterville Sunday. The deceased leaves an estate which may reach $20,000,000. He was the first man to put money into the Vermilion range and it was his money that built the Duluth and Iron Range road. Two years ago Mr. Tower sold out his interests in the mines and road to a stock company in which he now held stock to the extent of $2,500,000. He was prominently identified with the Northern Pacific and other railroads, steamboat and commercial enterprises. The death of this man removes the real moneyed pioneer of our great iron interests, and all Duluth, as well as the Northwest in general, will mourn his death.

THE MARKETS.

Firm Wheat at Duluth---Grain Markets Elsewhere.

Wheat ruled firm but very dull. Owing to the weakness elsewhere, buyers held off. The close was dull, at the following figures: Cash 1 hard, 90½. No. 1 northern, 93. No. 2 northern, 82. No. 3, 72. July, 90½. August, 86½. September, 83. October, 84. December, 84. August corn, 35⅜ bid.

Receipts today are 6727 bu wheat, with 12 cars on track, and 2074 bu of corn. Shipments are 58,500 bu wheat, and 66,950 bu corn.

The Mills.

The Miller tomorrow will say: One mill started up after Wednesday, making seventeen that run. The output was a little larger than the week before—119,270 bbls, against 118,940 bbls the week before, and 167,200 bbls for the period in 1888. The output a year ago this time had about reached its maximum. Two of the smaller mills have dropped out, and one of 1500 bbls capacity started. They were producing 18,600 bbls per day. It is hardly probable that the week's work will equal that of last week. The water power fell away a good deal, and hindered some of the mills. Millers admit that the flour market is dull, and for the past week the sales of patent have not equaled the amount ground. Prices are higher than the East wants to pay. Rather the most favorable feature of the situation is the growing interest shown abroad. Bakers' is easily disposed of for export. Inquiries are also made as to prices of patents for September and October, and local millers think that if wheat values are kept on a reasonable basis there will be no trouble about exporting our usual quota of flours of all grades. The larger holdings of stored flour here have been pretty much exhausted, though there are still 130,000 bbls at Duluth, against 167,000 bbls a year ago.

Chicago's Hoggishness.

NEW YORK, July 25.—The circuit of commercial exchanges hitherto supplied with quotations of grain and provisions by Chicago, has been turned about in favor of the New York Exchange, which institution received today requests from Louisville, Cincinnati and Milwaukee to forward prices regularly the same as the eight other exchanges mentioned yesterday.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, 12 m., July 25.—Money is easy, at 2@3 per cent. In the stock market there was an active business maintained in St. Paul, but the rest of the list was dull and featureless. A firm tone prevailed and further slight advances were scored, but the movements in the market were entirely insignificant. At noon the market was dull and firm to strong.

JEM SMITH AND SULLIVAN

The Blarsted British Slugger Wants the Boston Man to Whip Him.

The Live News of the Day Among the Sporting Fraternity.

LONDON, July 26.—[Special.]—The files of the American papers containing detailed accounts of the Sullivan-Kilrain mill have been in great demand at the sporting resorts, and every item of news relating to the great battle has been read with avidity. Very little credence is placed in the stories regarding drugs having been given to Kilrain, and the general opinion is that the latter was decidedly over-matched and that he is not to be placed in the catagory with the Boston slugger. Perhaps the two of the most interested readers were Jem Smith and his backer, John Fleming. The latter in conversation said:

"My challenge to Sullivan was made in good faith. I am ready to meet him anywhere, on this side of the water or the other, and to give him all the preliminary advantages. My manager has already deposited £200 in gold with The Sporting Life, and we are willing to send it to New York, if necessary. My only stipulation is that the meeting shall come off in cold or mild weather. I would not go into the ring under the atmospheric conditions that prevailed at Richburg. It would be simply suicide."

"Do you think you would stand any show against Sullivan?"

"Well, the fact that our money is up speaks for itself. Sullivan is no doubt a great fighter and just now in his prime. At the same time I believe I could give him the best fight he has had yet and whip him to boot. And I wouldn't want twenty-five rounds or two hours to it in, either."

Smith is in magnificent condition. He weighs 224 pounds, and is a splendid speciman of humanity. He is very temperate and careful in his diet and habits. He take daily exercise just as if training for a mill and would only require a reduction of weight to make him ready for the ring at short notice.

Parson Davies, the Chicago sport, says that Peter Jackson can get $20,000 backing to fight Sullivan.

Fred Pritchard, the English middleweight, will challenge Chas. Mitchell to fight to a finish for $5000.

Johnny Griffin says it was a chance blow that knocked him out in his fight with Murphy, the Australian.

WEST END.

The strike is just about the same as it was yesterday. Some of the men who came up Tuesday from Minneapolis and St. Paul have quit work. The three policemen stationed near elevator G have armed themselves with carbines, and no one is allowed to pass to the docks but the laborers and those connected with the coal companies. The strikers have not gathered upon the streets at all today.

The 102 has been moved over to dock near elevator D. She will soon be ready to start out upon the lake. The 103 is being very rapidly built. Some steel plates have already been fastened to the ribs.

There will be an excursion on the Barker up the St. Louis river to Fond du Lac on July 30 for the benefit of St. Marys hospital. Walker's band will be in attendance. The boat will leave St. Paul and Duluth slip at 9 a. m., and will stop at Northern Pacific dock.

Mrs. Hobart, of Red Wing, president of the State W. C. T. U., spoke to the ladies of the West End at the Estey readingroom this afternoon.

The stock of A. Knoblock, Jr., will be sold as a whole.

Not much work is being done on the Michigan street sewer today.

The Estey society gives an entertainment this evening at their rooms. Ice cream will also be served.

The Coal Heavers Outing.

The coal heavers' strike still continues. Only about half of the imported men are at work, which, with the non-strikers, comprises about half of the regular force. Those not at work continue to congregate, especially at the time of beginning work and meal hours. At these times the police go down and escort the workmen. There does not appear to be any feeling against the police, but threats are used against the "scabs," as they are called. Captain McLaughlin is endeavoring to find those who are making threats, and will have them arrested as soon as discovered.

A depot has been located at Crosley park and suburban trains will stop there.

REDUCING WEIGHT.

How May Waldron is Disposing of Her Too Solid Flesh.

CHICAGO, July 26.—[Special]—May Waldron entered this morning on the twenty-fourth day of the fast that is to transform her from a mass of quivering adipose to a cute, lithe, willowy little creature. Everybody that witnessed the "Heurietta" as presented by Robson and Crane during the past season will remember the handsome but something more than buxom young whoman who impersonated "Lady Mary," the American bride of the dudish London lord. She was May Waldron, a Chicago born girl, and daughter of one of the original founders of The Chicago News.

Just from which one of her ancestors she inherited the tendency towards obesity is something of a mystery, but it is certain that the past season she gained flesh so rapidly as to give promise that she might ere long become a valuable auxiliary to Barnum's circus as a successor to the late lamented Hannah Battersby.

Just before closing the season in New York she was offered a remunerative summer engagement in this city, but when she arrived, and the managers gazed upon her ample proportions, the contract went into a pigeon - hole. The result was that Miss Waldron consulted a noted Washington specialist, and under his instructions on July 2 she began a thirty days' course of fasting. Since that date nothing has passed her lips except the juice of an orange taken three times daily with copious draughts of water, while three Turkish baths weekly complete the treatment. So far her weight has dropped from 194 to 162, and she is hopeful of coming down to 140 by the expiration of the term of fasting. The specialist also guarantees that no matter how much she may eat or drink after her task is ended the excess of adipose will never return.

A GHASTLY FIND.

Explorers Unearth a Large Number of Human Skeletons in Dakota.

YANKTON, S. D., July 26.—A party of explorers has unearthed a number of human skeletons buried in the chalk bluffs ten miles east of Yankton, on the Nebraska side. Fifty skulls and 200 headless skeletons were found, which local physicians pronounce to be the remains of white people, children and adults. Indications are that they have been buried forty or fifty years.

Two theories are advanced to account for their presence. One is that they were immigrants bound for California in 1848, who were murdered by Indians. Another theory is that they were Indians of some tribe at war with the Sioux and that they were massacred. The death would seem to have been inflicted with a club. Further researches will be made.

BALD KNOBBERS.

They Order a Forsyth, Kansas, Justice to Leave the City.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 26.—A special from Forsyth, Mo., says: Justice of the Peace Johns has an office in the county building here. When he entered it this morning he found his books and papers had been removed and thrown into the muddy street. On his desk he found this notice, written in pencil on a piece of paper:

If you don't leave the county in ten days you will be lynched. (Signed) BALD KNOBBERS.

Heavy Storm in South Dakota.

DEADWOOD, S. D., July 26.—The heaviest rain that has visited this locality for years fell Wednesday night. It was accompanied with heavy thunder and lightning, while Wood creek was swollen and did much damage to the bridges on the Deadwood Central railway. Trains did not run at all yesterday. Hail fell in some parts, doing damage to the crops, but not extending over much territory. Crops otherwise are in splendid condition.

Tried to Save His Brother.

CHICAGO, July 26.—Fred Droenke today mourns over the mangled and lifeless bodies of his two sons. The two boys, both of tender years, were playing near the Northwestern railroad tracks at Elmhurst last evening. The younger strayed upon the track as an evening passenger train came in sight. The elder brother hurried to the rescue of the younger, but tripped and the two were cut to pieces under the wheels.

CHICAGO, July 26.—[Special.]—The delegation of members of the Mississippi Press association, comprising some sixty well-known journalists of that state, which has been taking in the sights of the city for the past few days, left this morning for Madison, Wis., where they will be entertained. Thence, they will journey to Dakota, stopping at numerous points on the way.

Arranged for a Pow-wow.

FORT GIBSON, I. T., July 26.—The Cherokee commission was met here yesterday by a delegation of Creek Indians headed by Indian Agent Bennett, who asked that the Creeks be heard at once in reference to certain technical matters concerning the sale of their remaining lands. The request was granted, and General Fairchild has arranged to meet the Creeks at Museogee today.

Hanging in New Hampshire.

CONCORD, N. H., July 26.—The house judiciary committee is considering the advisability of reporting a bill abolishing capital punishment, by recommendation of Attorney-General Barnard, who argued before the committee that there exists quite a strong feeling in the state in favor of such a measure, and personally recommended its adoption.

A Lawyer Sentenced.

NEW YORK, July 26.—Lawyer John R. Dunn was sent to Sing Sing prison today to serve out a sentence of nine years and six months. Dunn was found guilty of having induced Cashier Scott, of the Manhattan bank to steal $185,000. As soon as Dunn received the greater part of the steal he advised Scott to fly the country. Subsequently the cashier came back and appeared as a witness against Dunn.

RACING IN THE MUD.

The Favorites Were all Winners at the Twin Cities Races Yesterday.

The General News About Baseball and Other Sports.

MINNEAPOLIS, July 26.—The third days' racing at Hamline was a day of skating for the runners. What some people chose to call Jupiter Pluvius was monarch of the situation, and bathed everybody and everything. The track was three inches deep in mud and water, and all the horses needed to do was to place themselves stiff-legged and slide from start to finish. But the weather seemed to make no difference with the favorites, as they won in nearly every race. Laura Davidson, Castaway II, Willie M. and Oarsman were hot favorites in the last four events and captured each purse with apparent ease. Kidnap won the first race. The betting was large for so small a crowd. The 1500 people present seemed to call the winners without an effort, and backed their selections heavily, consequently the bookmakers who did the smallest business were the better off.

The Paris mutuals paid as follows: Straight—Kidnap, $5.05; Oarsman, $3.90; Willie M., $4.35; Castaway, $3.95; Laura Davidson, $4.20. Placed—Kidnap, $8.95; field, $5.45; Oarsman, $3.15; field, $4.10; Willie M, $3.35; Valedictory, $7.80; Castaway II., $2.25; Kate Malane, $2.35; Laura Davidson, $2.45; Mamie Fonso, $2.70.

The bookmakers were caught severely in the last race everybody backed Mamie Fonso for a place as she was an open up and money was in sight everywhere, owners, jockeys and stable boys going about with handsfull of bills. Mamie Fonso found but few backers to win, however, Laura Davidson catching the eye of those who prefer to play straight.

In the third race an accident occurred which came very near proving a serious one to Jockey Crockett. He was riding Vinango, who came on the track acting badly, they had been at the post for some time when Vinango became unmanageable and jumped over the fence, throwing Crockett heavily. The horse was soon caught by a stable boy and brought to the judge's stand, where Crockett was waiting to mount. It was about all two stalwart rubbers could do to keep the filly from getting away, but Crockett pluckily mounted. He had no sooner placed his feet in the stirrups and lightened the bridle reins than Vinango threw herself into the air and fell squarely on her back with Crockett under. She wasn't long in regaining her feet and ran toward the stables, where she was again captured after a hard chase. Crockett was picked up by spectators, who supposed he had sustained severe injuries, but when examined he was found to have received only a few bruises and a slight cut in the thigh. Crockett desired the stable boys to bring the horse out again, but the owner objected to the plucky little jockey being put up the third time.

The horses that are to be mentioned as having good chances of carrying away honors today are as follows: First race—Vice Regent, Bon Air, place; second race—Joujou, Charlotte J, place; third race—Rosemont, Abilene, place; fourth race—Kedar Kahn, St. Leger, place; fifth race—Oarsman, Bridgelight, place; sixth race—Linquist, Nellie Watkins, place.

Trouble in the National League.

PHILADELPHIA, July 26.—[Special.]—It is becoming more certain every day that the coming convention of the Irish National league of America, will be of the most stormy character. The delegates from the Philadelphia councils will raise the question of the right of President Fitzgerald to revoke the call for the gathering and the Cronin, Clan na Gael and other live issues are certain to be infected into the proceedings. Patrick Gleason, of New York, a delegate to the convention which should have been held this month, is in the city in conference with some of the local leaders. He says that few of the Eastern councils have retained confidence in the present executive management of the organization, that it has been run in the interest of the Clan-na-Gaels, and that unless a convention is speedily called and an accounting made of the funds, the Eastern councils will secede and send their contributions direct to the present society in Dublin.

FROM WEST SUPERIOR.

The Editors There—Strikers Arrested—General Notes.

Citizens of Superior will long hold in rememberance the events of yesterday. In spite of unfavorable weather the occasion was made enjoyable through the efforts of committees. The visitors appreciated the fact that the city was placed at great disadvantage and the committees on entertainment handicapped by rain. They left with a good impression of the place, and many of them with new and broader ideas of the cities at the head of Lake Superior. The visitors and invited guests being divided between two hotels for dinner there was plenty of elbow room. An excellent menu was prepared at each, and the speeches and toasts which were indulged in were all very appropriate. A feature at the Tower was a special edition of the "Tower Hotel Reporter," giving an account of the excursion and other events of the morning, on the bill of fare.

Now the expense to the county commences in the prosecution of the strikers who have been arrested. Five have been bound over to circuit court. The remaining eighteen arrested men will have their hearing as fast as possible.

The library now has about 10,000 volumes besides standard magazines.

The Land company has many applications from firms who desire to engage in business in its new block. A wholesale dry goods firm will probably occupy one of the larger stores with a $50,000 stock. The Eagle drug store wants a location, also the Lake Superior Hardware company.

White Caps to be Prosecuted.

ST. LOUIS, July 26.—Information comes from Gillespie, Ill., that while Henry Bokamp and his wife were riding near that town last Monday evening, they were taken from their buggy by an armed band of white caps, who took shameful liberties with the woman and strung Bokamp up to a tree three times, the last hanging proving so near fatal that he could only be revived by the administration of medicine. The reason of the outrage is said to be suspicion that Bokamp had committed petit larceny. The case has been put in the hands of Col Oller, a criminal lawyer of Litchfield, who says that while at Gillespie yesterday looking into the affair, he was warned by a man who claimed to be the captain of the white caps that if he came nosing around there he would get a thicker rope than the one they gave to Bokamp.

Worse Than Prison.

JACKSON, Mich., July 26.—David R. Palmer, sent to prison for life for the murder of his wife, has been an exemplary prisoner and was given more than the usual liberties. This morning he was tilling a large cask with scraps when an idea struck him. He put a false head in the cask about midway of its length, and then placing citizen's clothes, a hammer and a chisel in the barrel, got in himself. Another head was fastened to the cask by Palmer's fellow-convicts, and the cask was taken to the freight office. As it was being loaded on the cars the freight handlers heard a wild appeal for pity which they could not at first understand. Finally one of the men opened the cask and drew the prisoner out more dead than alive. Palmer was turned over to the authorities. He declared he would rather stay in prison for life than to undergo again such torture as he experienced the three hours he spent in the cask.

The President in New England.

BOSTON, July 26.—A letter to Governor Ames from Walker Blaine was received today explaining as far as possible the program of the contemplated visit of the President to the East as furnished Mr. Blaine by Secretary Halford. The President will probably leave Washington for Bar Harbor Tuesday or Wednesday, August 6 or 7. He will probably go by rail to New York, thence by the Fall River line to Boston. He will probably remain one day and night in Boston, and if there should be any reception there it is suggested that it be of as general a character as possible under the auspices of the authorities. The President desires to avoid ceremony as much as possible, and will indulge in no speech making. Mr. Blaine says he has telegraphed his father asking him to arrange for a train from Boston to Bar Harbor on Thursday, the 8th.

The President at Deer Park.

DEER PARK, Md., July 26.—The President is occupied this rainy day in considering knotty pardon cases presented by the department of justice. Attorney-general Miller brought over a large bundle of papers this morning, some of which require early decision, and the President took them up to the exclusion of other business. Reports about Attorney-general Miller having a certainty of the supreme bench appointment are not credited here. It is said that the President has reached no conclusion regarding Justice Matthews' successor.

Kicked His Wife to Death.

TROY, N. Y., July 26.—James McCall, of West Troy, surrendered himself to the police of that village this afternoon, saying: "I have kicked my wife to death." It was found that the woman had been terribly kicked, and there was a deep knife wound in her neck which in itself was sufficient to cause death. The woman was found in her home lying in a pool of blood. She was about 55 years old. The husband is 57 years old. He says his head has been out of order for some time.

Dorsey Was Ill.

NEW YORK, July 26.—Stephen H. Dorsey was in court this forenoon surrounded by his counsel and a number of friends. At noon Mr. Dorsey was taken into the private chambers of Judge O'Brien. Lawyer Kunzman, who represented Dorsey, assured his honor that his client had no intention of willfully refusing to comply with the order of the court, and that his neglect to attend the supplementary proceedings was due entirely to illness.

Hanged to a Tree.

PARIS, Ky., July 26.—James Kelly, colored, who made a criminal assault on Mrs. Peter Crow, wife of a section boss on the Kentucky Central road, was taken from the jailer at 2 o'clock this morning by a mob and hanged to a bridge near town.

The Wheat Concert.

Those who attend the Wheat testimonial this evening will be sure to hear the grand classic music of his program worthily interpreted, as a Steinway grand piano has kindly been loaned for the occasion by Mr. William C. Sargent. The tickets are selling with such rapidity that a full house is assured. The tickets, we are requested to state, are but fifty cents each, as some people are under the impression that $1 is to be charged.

AT COURT.

At police court this morning James Maloney, drunk, was committed. Jacob Poran and Jacob Bergquist each paid a $5 fine for the same offense. Joseph Kelly, James Gleason and Sam Barrington were given seven days each for vagrancy. Fred Wautillo was mulcted in the sum of $17.50 for indecent exposure, a light enough fine considering the nature of the offense. In the case of state against J. H. Gorseline, on trial for assault on Frank Timms at West Duluth, the defendant made no defense, and was held to the grand jury, bail of $400 being required and which was furnished.

Eugene Nicol, charged with the abandonment of his wife and two children, was captured by the sheriff while at work at the Tower mines yesterday. He is in jail and will have a hearing tomorrow.

In district court chambers today in the case of Sarah V. Starkey against the City of Duluth, Judge Ensign overruled the defendants demurrer to the complaint. Mrs. Starkey asks damages for building a retaining wall to keep out earth from southerly fifty feet of lots 94 and 96, block 33, Duluth Proper, Third division. Arguments in the case of Alworth vs. Jemima Seymour, was heard this forenoon. The decision was reserved. Lee vs. McGowan, a decree was entered setting aside tax title in the case.

THE BAND.

Walkers Military Band Render Fine Selections—Program for Saturday.

One of the pleasantest features of the evening at The Spalding last night and one that was commented on most highly by all, was the music rendered by Walkers band. The band stationed itself in the rotunda for a short time and discoursed sweet music. It was a treat no less pleasant than unexpected. The band added to its already won laurels in the five numbers played and received very hearty applause. It is most decidedly a credit, and thanks to itself almost entirely, to Duluth.

An open air concert will be given Saturday evening on Superior street between First and Second avenues west at which time the following program will be rendered:

The Chicago Times is in hard luck again. Its publisher, J. J. West, has learned the lesson that a property which did not pay when he took it could not be made to support the big swell he launched into simply by flying his name at its editorial masthead. He should have waited until the receipts of his business office became large enough to pay the printers and the editors before he indulged in private establishments which cost $30,000 a year to run.

Latest returns from the department of agriculture indicate that the census crop of wheat will be increased over ten years ago by a proportion of about 10 per cent. There were then 35,430,000 acres, there are now estimated for next year 38,700,000 acres. Of this increase a great share is in the wheat belt tributary to Duluth. Area of corn has increased from 62,000,000 to 72,000,000 acres, of oats 16,000,000 to 28,000,000, of cotton 14,500,000 to 20,500,000. These increases indicate how rapidly the material wealth of the country is adding to itself.

The members of the Wisconsin Editorial association improved the little time at their command in this city last night, and "took in" more of it than it would have been possible for men not accustomed to seeing all sides of a thing in a minute. They got just enough of the spirit of the city, and saw just enough of its wonderful development, to make them regret that they had not assigned a full day to Duluth. Their brief stay was made as pleasant as possible, and they went away full to the brim of the atmospheric and business ozone which abounds here.

A local institution which Duluth can well afford to encourage and aid is Walker's military band. It is an organization which has a great deal of solid merit as a band and as a Duluth institution. But merit is about all it has had. It has practiced with care and constancy until it is able to furnish music entirely creditable to the town. Now it should receive substantial recognition and support in some fashion. No live city can get along without a band, but band's do not grow like turnips. They require the nurture of greenbacks. Everybody approves of the band, and agrees that something ought to be done to help support it. Now let somebody propose something more practical than talk or sentiment. Prof. Walker's musicians are well supplied with wind already.

Several old time Duluthians who heard Ignatius Donnelly's brilliant speech last night remember the occasion when the Baconian sage first addressed a Duluth audience. It was on the steps of the Clark house, August 15, 1870, the occasion being a celebration at the opening of the Lake Superior and Mississippi road. The weather had been very wet and rain was drizzling at the time he spoke, but in his remarks he said: "The finger of destiny is pointed at Duluth; it may not be in the present generation but in the fullness of time she will rise on her rocky hillsides a living, wonderful example of Western pluck and energy—the Naples of the lakes." That was nineteen years ago, and the singular appropriateness of the toast to which the eloquent gentleman responded last night was probably recognized by but very few if any in the audience at The Spalding.

Since Kilrain took his medicine from John L. Sullivan there have several fistic artists manifested symptoms of the same disorder that proved so easily cured in the gentleman from Baltimore. Two or three alleged pugilists are doing a great deal of brave talk just now. They are all at a safe distance from John L., and it is quite easy to believe that they will remain at a judicious distance. Sullivan is always ready for anyone who thinks he would like to feel the force of the impact of his knuckles. Mr. Jem Smith of Hengland, now talks all the way across the Atlantic about his consuming desire to become the next target for the Boston slugger's "dukes." We are always ready and anxious to record any disapproval of prize-fighting, but if there are brutes who prefer to spoil their beauty that way the man from Boston can perform the pleasant service with neatness and dispatch for as many pugilists as care to patronize him.

Editor Blethen, of The Minneapolis Tribune sent up a sky rocket yesterday, and we have no doubt that he now feels quite well. He used a large proportion of his last barrel of ink to nail the lies of envious St. Paul and the balance of the universe about the population of the Flour city. The directory canvassers, ably aided and abetted by the multiplication table, assure Mr. Blethen that Minneapolis has no less than 232,000 population, and these glorious figures are blazoned upon all the pages of The Tribune. No figures could give Mr. Blethen more satisfaction, unless indeed it might be those that would be accepted by Gens. Beauregard and Early as voucher for a check for a capital prize. We congratulate Mr. Blethen, and incidentally Minneapolis, and only venture to express the hope that the visit to that city of the census enumerators next year will be as satisfactory to Mr. Blethen—and the city—as has been the call of the directory men.

The headlong course of Commissioner of Pensions Tanner has begun to bear fruit, and it looks very much as though the administration would have to put a strong curb on Tanner, or put another man in his place. His impulsive ways have gotten him into difficulties that may be serious for him or not, just as his superiors choose. Perhaps he can take a hint from the displeasure the country has liberally expressed, through the press, and mend his ways. If he cannot, the sooner his place is filled by a man who has some appreciation of what he owes to the government the better it will be for the government and for the soldiers. The soldiers cannot afford to have the pension office administered by a man who is likely to bring it into disrepute. It was thought when Tanner was selected for the place that that was the one mistake the President made in the very beginning of his administration, and Tanner's course has very greatly strengthened that impression. His appointment was in response to a clamor from his personal friends, which was industriously worked up throughout the East long before Mr. Harrison was inaugurated. It was a mistake, and such a mistake as ought to be promptly rectified, either by substituting a man capable of transacting the business of the office for the man whose chief qualifications is the ability to make a pleasant address, or by making Tanner understand that he is not running a governmental free lunch.

HINTS ABOUT WOOD-CARVING.

There are three kinds of wood-carving—the relief, surface and incised.

A panel of walnut, mahogany or any close grained wood is good material to begin upon.

Fire screens, pedestals, easels and many other articles can be beautifully decorated in this manner.

Light and shade can be artistically rendered by a judicious use of the gouges applied at different degrees of curvity.

After drawing the pattern upon the wood the first process of carving known as "stabbing out" follows, which is effected by the chisel.

Designs are easy to obtain, by copying nature, reproducing designs published in art journals, or in devising either floral or geometrical patterns.

The principles of carving, once acquired, are easily adapted to ornamentation, and the skillful amateur can soon undertake more ambitious designs.

Some quite elegant jewel-boxes, carved in oak, with tray and interior lined with satin, have been achieved by boys and girls between 12 and 14 years of age.

Several ladies of prominent families throughout the United States have had workrooms fitted up to devote to the development of their ambitious efforts in the carving of articles of utility or ornament.

By the expenditure of less than $5—for an assortment of steel chisels of four sizes varying from one-eighth inch width to one inch, three gouges of different sizes, a mallet, a knife resembling a shoemaker's, and a parting tool, a broad field for the exhibition of articles is opened.

DOES ANY ONE KNOW?

[By Nixon Waterman.]

Does any one know what's in your heart and mine,
The sorrow and song,
The demon of sin and the angel divine,
The right and the wrong;
The dread of the darkness, the love of the day,
The ebb and the flow
Of hope and of doubt forever and aye,
Does any one know?

Does any one dream of the love that is yours,
The heart that is mine;
The depth and the width of the cup which each pours
Of richest red wine;
Of hate that is dark as the midnight of grief,
The anguish and woe,
The doubt clouds of baiting and blind unbelief,
Does any one know?

Does any one see what we have in the heart
To love and to hate;
Of life's every motive an intricate part,
Of chance and of fate;
The memory of kisses, of starlight, of songs,
Of roses and snow,
Of women's sweet eyes, of prayers and of wrongs,
Does any one know?

Does any one hearken to music of bells,
And the sigh of the sea,
And the whisper of woodlands that murmurs and swells
For you and for me;
The sound of fond voices that ever respond,
In tones soft and low,
To the prayer we are breathing into the beyond,
Does any one know?

SEEN AND HEARD.

"When the 20-foot draft improvement of the lakes is finished," said an observant and interested lake man, "we shall see 4000-ton vessels on the lakes as common as we now do 2000 and 2500-ton ships. That improvement will put the Atlantic at our feet, not theoretically only but practically, and it will be a condition that the trunk lines will have to confront. But I expect to be an old man when the 20-foot connections are made. It will take many more years than is generally believed.

"Twenty feet will be the limit, for a long time at least. It will cost more to add another foot to lake channels than to do all the vast works that will bring about twenty feet. Not only will all the harbors have to be improved over again, but all the channels must be dredged again and on a much greater scale. The Sault river, Grosse Point, the rivers and the entire length of Lake St. Clair would have to be channeled to a greater depth, and the cost would be something to appall any congress. No, twenty feet draft is all you or I can ever see on the lakes. But vessel men will keep right on building ships a little too deep for the draft of dredged channels and lower-lake harbors. They have forced the 20-foot improvement by this system. By the way, Capt. McDougall's 102 will be the largest carrier on the draft of water on the lakes. She will actually carry more freight on a 15-foot draft than any vessel now afloat between Buffalo and Duluth. That's saying a good deal."

It's the same nature shown wherever you go in the United States. Everybody, old and young, alike worship the national game. It makes no difference whether it's the "Giants" pitted against the "Boston's," or "Anson's Colts" against the "Cleveland Infants," the interest is the same and the good plays of both amateurs and professionals receive the same wild applause. The enthusiasm is in the game itself, not in who's playing it. "Lives there a man with soul so dead, who never to himself hath said, 'this is my own, my native game?'" mighty few of them you'll find in this country or in Duluth. Every year the people of these United States pay out about $12,000,000 just to see baseball games and in the purchase of baseball goods, while not far from $500,000 is expended in "professional" salaries. The baseball column of the paper is about the first thing 10,000,000 readers look at in the morning, and more lies are invented by employes as excuses to get off and see the game than could be atoned for in a year's penance.

The other afternoon I stood on the Union depot platform watching two boys play catch. No, bless you, I wasn't alone, there was a crowd of fifty within a radius of twenty feet. The lads—they were about 10 years of age—were given the west thirty feet of the platform and every passenger who came down Fifth avenue took particular pains not to disturb them, but walked around. "By Jove, the boy throws an out curve," exclaimed a gray-haired old gentleman, as he beamed good-naturedly over his gold-bound spectacles in the young "Clarkson's" direction. In an instant fifty necks were craned and 100 eyes looked towards the youngster to see the wonderful throw, and fifty exclamations of surprised delight sounded in concert. I watched the crowd and the boys for some time and I could not help thinking: "What baseball cranks these mortals be. What will they do if there's no baseball in Heaven."

"The fame of your magnificent Superior street has reached St. Paul," said a St. Paulito. "I refer particularly to your pavement. Cedar blocks in concrete is something which we of St. Paul have hitherto thought too rich for our blood, to use a strong phrase, but I see they are agitating the question now, and the probabilities are that we shall soon have some streets as good as your principal street. Cedar blocks, or cedar and pine blocks on a plank foundation, do not make a satisfactory pavement by any manner of means. This we have found out to our cost. Now, we are going to have some solid streets, if concrete and cedar will do it, as it seems to have done in your case."

"I see you put what I told you about horseback riding in the paper," said my old friend the cavalryman. "If I had known you were going to do that I might have given you some more pointers. Not too late now? All right. Well, I want to tell you that a novice should not use a curb bit; that is, a bit that should be used only by old riders. What is termed a snaffle bit is the only kind that should be used with a majority of the horses. I have also noticed a number of horses that should have martingales on, as that would cause them to curve their necks and give them a much easier gait. A horse that holds his nose up in the air generally lands too stiff-legged, causing him to take more of the rocking horse motion when he lopes. Another point. It looks bad when two or three riders are out together to see them stringing along one behind the other, instead of keeping abreast. No rider should go out without a pair of spurs, taking care, of course, not to hug the horse with his heels, should he (the horse) get frightened or excited. A whip may do for dudes, but there is nothing like a pair of good spurs for business, and to make a horse go where he may object to, or to make him toe the mark. Well, good morning. I'll give you more pointers on horsemanship, some time, if you like."

NEWS OF THE STATE.

A new postoffice has been established, called Berg, in the northern part of Rice county.

It is now expected that the reformatory at St. Cloud will be ready to occupy the 1st of September.

A big log jam has formed just above St. Cloud. The drivers say it will take several days to break it.

The supreme court yesterday denied the motion for a rehearing in the case of Thomas Brown, the Moorhead murderer.

Warden Stordock has made out a list of those who will soon take up their residence in the reformatory at St. Cloud.

The mayor, three aldermen and two constables, of East Grand Forks, are under arrest for assaulting the city recorder.

The Mississippi at Winona is now at the lowest stage it has reached this year, and any further falling means good-by to navigation.

The injunction of Mary A. Doe, of Stillwater, restraining the city from grading in front of her hotel, was dissolved by Judge McCluer.

Bridgman & Utley's saw mill in Little Falls cut its first logs of this season yesterday, the scarcity of water in the small streams having caused the delay in getting its logs into the Mississippi river.

The competitive examination at Rochester for the cadetship to West Point for the First congressional district of Minnesota, closed Thursday night with seventeen candidates, three of whom were thrown out on the medical examination. Warren E. Cummings, Preston, Fillmore county, took first prize.

ABOUT PEOPLE.

Simon Cameron's estate is supposed to be worth about $1,000,000.

Andrew Carnegie is at work on his memoirs, but he says they will not be published during his lifetime.

The story is that Princess Louise of Wales and Lord Fife have been in love with each other ever since she "came out."

W. B. Tate, a philanthropic bachelor of Tennessee, has divided a fifth of his fortune of $100,000 between forty needy Confederate veterans of that state.

Prof. E. N. Horsford's tower in memory of the Norsemen at Waltham, Mass., will be of stone, fifty feet high, and will be on the site of old Fort Norumbega.

Mrs. George H. Corliss will erect a fine building for the Young Mens Christian association at Newburyport, Mass., as a memorial of her late husband, the famous engine builder.

Prince Bismarck is said to take more pleasure in recounting the dueling and drinking feats of his student days than in relating any of the later triumphs in the field of statesmanship.

A fine crayon protrait of the Rev. Dr. S. F. Smith, author of "My Country, 'tis of Thee," has been placed in the library of Colby university. He was for many years a trustee of that institution.

It is again stated positively that Sir Julian Pauncefote is to purchase a farm near Washington. He will not make a final selection, however, until Lady Pauncefote comes over in the fall.

THE SPALDING.

What an Intelligent Traveller Has to Say of Our Hostelry.

Railway and Hotel News: The intelligent traveler from New Zealand now-a-days having brooded over the ruins of St. Pauls in London, a la Macauley, and continuing his travels to the Western Empire, arrives in Duluth perhaps, and carelessly sauntering up to The "Spalding" counter, requests the bland John H. Langton, erstwhile of St. Paul, to assign him a room. He little knows that a slumbering volcano of passion lurks beneath Langton's demon smile. If he did he would realize the fact that his past experiences as a traveler taking his ease in his inn were at last to be discounted hollow. Langton has a weakness for intelligent tourists from New Zealand and West St. Paul. "Show him to the Rose chamber," he hisses in the ear of the waiting Mercury. The W. M. does the bidding of the Grand High Most Worshipful and Puissant Elk. The guest is bestowed in an apartment built for a fairy queen. A scented bath is ready and attendant eunuchs (attendant eunuchs being kept on tap at The Spalding) assists the intelligent tourist to disrobe, which being done they hand him a narghili and a chibouk.

"I reckon you done come f'm St. Paul," says one of the attendant eunuchs to the I. T. "How dat man McIntyre gettin' 'long in de Ryan now?".

This causes a second attendant eunuch to open up:

"I tell yo' dis am de boss place fo' eatin'."

"Y-a-a-s, an' de sleepin', ain't dat gran'!"

"An' de pahlors, an' de pie, an' de ice cream, an' de gran' view outen de dinin' room winders, an' den again de eatin', but I spoke 'bout dat, didn't speak 'bouten de watermellyon. Ugh! dey's de true stuff. An' say, dat John Langton, did yo' see him boss, say! when he done droop that eye an' look so blan' an' a kinder innocent, den look out fo' somefin' bilin' in his mind. But the boys all 'long de road do say fo' fac' dat he slicker'n Ehle Allen—an Gawd knows dat's useless."

By this time the rose bath is completed, and the intelligent tourist gets inside his clothes and goes down stairs to meet Brer Emerson, who never in the course of a long life as a hotel man looked quite so contented as he does now. He points to four pages of arrivals every day, says the house has caught on in great shape, and plainly feels that at last he has struck his gait. It goes without saying of course that given the house and the materials, Brer Emerson is without a superior anywhere as a hotel manager. The dinner I partook here today would be a credit to the very best New York or Chicago house, and the service is in all respects the very best. I am glad the house has been so responsively appreciated from the start, for it's a credit to Duluth, a credit to Brer Emerson and the executive staff under him.

THE SALT OF THE EARTH.

Salt and water cleans willow furniture.

Salt in whitewash will make it stick better.

Wash the mica of the stove doors with salt and vinegar.

Salt as a tooth powder is better than almost anything that can be bought.

Brasswork can be kept beautifully bright by occasionally rubbing with salt and vinegar.

Damp salt will remove the discoloration of cups and saucers caused by tea and careless washing.

When broiling steak throw a little salt on the coals and the blaze from dripping fat will not annoy.

If, after having a tooth pulled, the mouth is filled with salt and water, it will allay the danger of having a hemorrhage.

Carpets may be greatly brightened by first sweeping thoroughly and then going over them with a clean cloth and clear salt and water.

If the feet are tender or painful after long standing or walking, great relief can be had by bathing them in salt and water. A handful of salt to a gallon of hot water is the right proportion.

Drs. Day and Schildt, dentists, are located temporarily at Dr. Ritchie's office, corner Superior street and Lake avenue. Their new offices, over Max Wirth's drug store, will probably be finished and furnished, ready for occupancy, by the middle of July.

THEY CAME, WE WON THEM

Wisconsin Editors and Friends Visit Duluth and are Charmed.

They Promise to Come Again and Stay Longer---Some Speeches.

The Spalding was filled with the editoral force of Wisconsin, friends and families, last night and an earnest effort was made by Duluth to entertain the people from a sister state in a suitable manner. After a long reception in the rotunda and parlors of the hotel and and walks and rides about the city supper was announced and the party repaired to the beautiful diningroom where plates were laid for between 200 and 300 people. The room was soon filled and justice was done to an ample repast.

After the supper came the talk. Chairs were tipped back, and everyone prepared for a feast full as entertaining as that just over. Nor were they disappointed. There were as speakers Secretary Phelps, A. F. Worden, of Plymouth, Wis., Hon. Ignatius Donnelly, the "Sage of Niniger," Page Morris, Joaquin Miller, the "Poet of the Sierras," Insurance Commissioner Cheek, of Wisconsin, S. A. Thompson, and Geo. W. Peck, of Milwaukee. Geo. French, of The Herald was toastmaster. He introduced Secretary Phelps who in a few neatly rounded sentences welcomed the party. Mr. Worden responded. The Association Glee club then sang in perfect tune. Ignatius Donnelly, the author of "Atlantis, the Antediluvian World," "Ragnarok the Age of Fire and Gravel," and the Baconian theory of the authorship of the Shakespeare plays answered to the toast "The Finger of Destiny." The remarks, which were of exceeding interest are given below:

Once more I am glad to be back in the state of Minnesota, if for no other reason, that my own people may in part return the magnificent reception which my good wife and myself have received for the past three days from this body of distinguished men from the great commonwealth east of us. The word finger has been much used as a metaphor in fiction. Lord Bacon, in his great play of "Othello," said, "to become a fixed image for the time of scorn to point his slow, unmoving finger at." The sacred writer used it also in proverbs, as "jewels five words long sparkling on the outstretched finger of time." My subject expresses my belief. There is no such thing as chance; there is no such thing as chaos. "I believe in evolution plus God." Everything has been developed through the centuries along definite channels; When we look back and see, as geologists tell us, that 30,000 years or more have passed since the glacial era—we see this great continent waiting desolate, unpeopled, unadorned until God's time. It was not like Africa, where savage tribes confronts the visitor on every foot, where there are noxious vapors, but when the civilization was ready to occupy it a fertile land lying waiting was found by the great white race for that race. To use an expression of the poet who is with us tonight "Lakes in a land, seas in a land," it was desolate and alone for centuries under glaciers and biding the time when the civilization of the world, that was Egyptian, Hebraic, Grecian and Roman, until it was prepared for the greater development of the new world, and the Genoese went forth to discover a new continent. Look at this magnificent building, where but a few years ago the buffalo and the beasts of the forest roamed at will, look at this beautiful room, where a few years ago the highest tuft of the pine waved his salute to the sea. The finger of destiny, the finger of God, was in it all.

We all have read of that picture of the imagination, "The Arabian Nights," of Alladin and his wonderful lamp, we remember the palace that Alladin raised in a night for his love before the walls of the house of the king. Duluth to me is built, beautiful and stately, in a night. It has sprung up like magic. When I had the honor of representing the north half of this state in congress, and we were endeavoring to get a land grant for the road from St. Paul to Duluth, the first in this part of the state, we had the measure near through when Senator Morrill, then in the house, got up and made a speech. Why, said he, there is nothing there, and there will never be anything up in that country but muskrats This is the handsomest assemblage of muskrats I ever met; this is the finest muskrat house I ever saw. You are building here not only magnificent buildings, mills and elevator but you are also building up character, intelligence and power. Let us strive to make this great white race purer, nobler and better—the way the finger of God points. When I look over this broad land I thank God that my lot is cast here and in this age.

Duluth has always recognized the rights of the toiling millions of the soil whose work makes the wealth of the world and will make your future. You are about to be released from the tyranny of Chicago, which for years has diverted trade for hundreds of miles out of its true course. The cities at the head of the lakes should make themselves the guardians and the defenders of the toiling millions, and should lose no effort to and spare no pains to identify themselves with the people.

Mr. Donnelly was followed by Page Morris, on "Duluth's Opportunity." Joaquin Miller next spoke on "Why I Came to Duluth," and recited a short poem of his own, the refrain of which was "There are many tomorrows, my love, my love, but only one today." Said he:

The doves come in pairs at San Diego and sit and sing on the olive trees, the color of their breasts like the under side of the olive leaf. There is a little poem I have just sent The Century, which I will recite as far as I can remember:

"Come listen, O love, to the voice of the dove,
Come, hearken and hear her say,
There are many tomorrows, my love, my love,
But only one today."

After several other speeches the party adjourned to its train and left at midnight.

IN RAILROAD CIRCLES.

A Resume of a Day's Doings Along the Rails Around Duluth.

Horace A. Taylor and Theodore Hassard, the United States railroad commissioners here today to inspect the St. Paul and Duluth and Northwestern roads, left this afternoon at 2:10 with Vice-President Dudley, of the St. Paul and Duluth company, for St. Paul. They will look over the St. Paul line and inspect the company's books. Mr. Taylor has met many former friends here and has passed the time pleasantly in renewing old acquaintances.

The business car of the Wisconsin Central road is expected here this afternoon at 6 o'clock. S. R. Ainslie, the manager of the road, with several other officials, are aboard the special. They will remain here until tomorrow morning, when they will be joined by Robert Harris, chairman of the board of Northern Pacific directors, and John C. Bullitt, a heavy stockholder and director. The advent in this city of the officials of two great roads, that are one so far as traffic is concerned, is in connection with the future freight and passenger service from Chicago to the coast via Duluth. And that the official first in authority in the great Pacific line should visit Duluth at this time means, as The Herald has heretofore stated, that she will get her rightful share of the traffic over these two lines. While here these gentlemen will arrange and plan the details for the Duluth-Chicago express, besides looking over the terminal facilities with a view to enlargement and improvement made necessary by the increased traffic incident to the completion of traffic arrangement between the Wisconsin Central and the Pacific lines.

The Northwestern road announces today a reduced freight rate between Duluth and Chicago. The tariff is as follows: First class, 63 cents; second class, 53 cents; third class, 43 cents; fourth class, 26 cents; fifth class, 21 cents. This is a reduction of 13 cents on first class, 10 cents on second class, 7 cents on third class, 6 cents on fourth class and 4 cents on fifth class freight. A reduction has also been made in nearly all commodity rates.

THEY PRAISE US.

Prominent Visitors to Duluth Who Talk of What They See Here.

No stranger who ever happened within the city walls has attracted more attention than Joaquin Miller, the California poet and journalist, and his visit here is on an errand that will open the hearts of all; he comes to write the town up. "I dreaded coming to Duluth," he told a Herald reporter. "I was here twenty years ago. I thought the town was something as it was then; was any one ever more delightfully surprised then I, when I entered The Spalding? Yes, twenty years ago I found a half dozen white men—away down on that point, yonder, I think they lived—and a swarm of Indians. I don't think I ever saw a wilder, more desolate place even in the Sierras. An unbroken wilderness, without settlement or living being beyond wild animals, is doubly lonesome when a few hardy pioneers make it their home. So it was with Duluth. You've a magnificent city, now; you will have a great and powerful city ten years hence."

"It was just about a year ago when I was last at Duluth; what a wonderful change has taken place since then. Why, I hardly knew the city, even after I had gotten here." These complimentary remarks were from Hon. W. W. Braden, auditor of state, of Minnesota, who was stopping in Duluth yesterday on his way to Tower and Ely. "I am going up to the Vermilion to look after state land interests and will return here Saturday. You have some magnificent buildings here. There's no better criterion than heavy, massive buildings of the permanency and stability of a city. Your blocks are almost as solid as the rocks which form your foundations. There was a mistake made, though, in building The Spalding. The elevator well should have run to a tower on the roof. I imagine the view must be grand there beyond description; it certainly is in the diningroom."

Gen. G. C. Ginty, of Chippewa Falls, who was Governor Hoard's chief opponent for gubernatorial nomination a year ago, shook his shoulders and thought he had reached a hotel where there was room to breathe. He said "I am only dazed at Duluth. But one thing you lack. In all Duluth you have only one brewery. It makes good beer, I've tried it, but only one brewery. I'm astonished. We all hoped we could see more of Duluth, you have so much of interest and importance to the whole Northwest that we should see."

Horace Taylor, the lately appointed member of the United States railway commission, and Hon. Thomas Hassard, chief engineer of the commission, are prominent personages in Duluth. They are making an inspection of Duluth and Northwestern roads possessing government grants. "I am sorry to say I have never been here before," Mr. Hassard told a Herald man. "No man but who has heard of the town. It's better known in the East than almost any Western town. There is double here what I expected to find. There's nothing unusual connected with our visit here. The United States sends out annually its railway commissioners and engineers to inspect roads built on government grants."

THE GROCERYMAN.

His Usual Friday Talk for the Benefit of Duluth Housewives.

"Darn the rain, anyhow," remarked the groceryman, as the reporter stepped into his store this morning." I'd made all my arrangements to go up to Spirit Lake on a picnic Wednesday night. I left the store early and went home to fix things for a good old time. My wife, she'd baked a lot of stuff and I carted a big basket of fruit up to the house. Then I bought a fish pole and a bait box and one thing and another—cost me $4.95—and went out and dug bait for an hour or so. Got every thing ready: set the alarm at 5:30, laid out my old clothes, put a box of cigars and a bottle of ginger where 'twould be handy, ordered a dray to take the truck down to the boat and woke up to find it raining, with no signs of letting up. There's one thing: I had the ginger and cigars and they've comforted me some. But let me tell you, my son: I'm going on that picnic if I bust. When you get the old man riled he's liable to do most any thing.

"Well, I suppose I've got to give you that list, but I warn you it'll be short and sweet. I guess, anyhow, I'd better read you the retail list as it's printed here. All ready? The fruit and vegetable market shows but few changes over last week's quotations, although there is a natural downward tendency in all figures. Today's quotations are as follows: Red and black raspberries and black berries, 20 cents per quart; blueberries, 15 cents quart; California peaches, 50 cents dozen; Eastern peaches, 40 cents dozen; old apples, $1 bushel; new apples, 50 cents peck; apricots, 20 cents dozen; oranges, 50 cents dozen; lemons, 40 cents dozen; bananas, 35 cents dozen; red and white currants and goosberries, 12 cents quart; water melons, 40 to 45 cents each; musk melons, 20 cents each; plums, 12 cents a box; pears, 40 cents dozen; new potatoes, 60 cents a bushel; lettuce, carrots and onions, 5 cents two bunches; mint, 5 cents per bunch; squash, 5 and 10 cents a piece; beets, $1.25 per bushel; asparagus, 10 cents per bunch; cauliflower and cabbage, 10 cents a head; spinach, 25 cents per peck; cucumbers, 5 cents apiece; peas and string beans, 10 cents per quart; wax beans, 12 cents per quart; tomatoes, 10 cents per pound; old onions, 40 cents per peck; green corn, 25 cents per dozen; new turnips, 30 cents per peck; rutabagas, 40 cents per peck; celery, 50 cents per dozen; egg plant, 15 cents apiece. Good morning."

The Cable Road.

Word comes from Chicago that a manufacturer of steel and iron rails and street railway supplies of that city has been for some time figuring with the Duluth Street Railway company for the supplies needed for the proposed cable road. It is again stated that the road will use Seventh avenue west, as was announced some weeks ago in The Herald.

The Roof Next Week.

By a week from tonight the roof will be on the new Masonic Opera. Work has been pushed with rapidity since June 20, which was about the first day the bricklayers and carpenters on the superstructure could get at work. After the roof is on bad weather will not interfere with interior work. Scenic artists are at work on the curtains, flys and stage pieces and all but two or three contracts for interior work are let and under wfy.

THE DAY IN THE CITY.

The opening of the hotel at Lester Park which was to have occurred yesterday, but owing to some unfinished details the opening has been postponed till tomorrow or Monday. It has eight sleeping rooms and is a pleasant house. It will be filled with people from the city.

Fourth street east from Fourteenth avenue east is one of the pleasantest drives in Duluth.

The following literary gem appeared for a moment tacked up in the postoffice today before Stamp Clerk Gruesor's gaze fell upon it and it was removed: "For Sail. A Cave of Heavy Mueis and Horses at ——'s Livery Stable." The author could have secured a ready sale for his stock if he had invested a dollar or two in printer's ink.

THEY BUILD BUILDINGS.

Masons Lay a Corner Stone---Pythians Make Final Decision.

General News of the Various Secret Societies of Duluth.

The laying of the corner stone of the new Masonic building will be an important event. The ceremony will take place the latter part of August or early in September. It is expected that from 700 to 1000 members of outside lodges will be present on the occasion. Officers of the Grand Lodge A. F. & A. M. will officiate at the ceremonies. The corner stone will be laid by Grand Master Judge J. A. Keisler, of Blue Earth City. Grand Orator Rev. Samuel G. Smith, of the Peoples church, St. Paul, will deliver the oration, which will be unusually fine. Mr. Smith has almost a national reputation as an orator, and is one of the most fluent and eloquent speakers in the state. It is expected the whole city will do honor to the visitors, and that Duluth will maintain the reputation for hospitality she has hitherto enjoyed. A large delegation of Knights Templar from the Twin cities will be present in full uniform, to take part in the exercises. The Uniform Rank Knights of Pythias have offered their services as escort on the occasion.

A meeting of the directors of the Pythian Castle association was held last night at Knights of Pythias hall. The opinion of an attorney on the abstract of lot 33 and the west half of 35, First street, First division, the site selected, was satisfactory, the deal was closed and the lots purchased, the consideration being $225 a front foot, amounting to $16,875. The association has filed bonds with the secretary and treasurer, a good big block of stock has been subscribed, and work on the building will proceed at once. Capt. Dewitt, of Company K, was present at the meeting and expressed himself as much pleased with the designs for the armory, shown by the pencil sketches presented. A meeting of the stockholders and directors of the association will be held next Thursday, at which time all preliminaries will be settled. The association is a solid one. There are no stool pigeons or dead heads amongst its members, and all its affairs are to be conducted on strictly business principles.

Uniform Rank Knights of Pythias will visit old Superior next Monday. This is in response to numerous courtesies received at the hands of the Superiorites, who have alway turned out in force every time there has been a public meeting or any unusual gathering of the Uniform Rank in this city.

At the Wednesday night meeting of Gate City lodge the following were admitted to full membership: John Bowes, Wm. Curtis, C. F. Howe.

Members of the boat club who will take part in the Minnetouka regatta, leave for the scene of the contest tomorrow. A member of the club furnishes a few tips on the result which are as follows: The senior double will be captured by the Winnipegers. Duluth's chances for the junior single are considered good. The senior four-oar lies between the Lurlines of Minneapolis, and Winnipeg, with the chances slightly in favor of the latter. The club has just purchased two fine working boats. They are a fine boat for experts' use.

Company K after having had a taste of real war is to have a little of the sham article, it being understood that the Second regiment will be invited to participate in the sham battle, now an annual feature of the state fair.

The A. O. U. W. at its meeting Tuesday night, elected Dr. C. W. McFadden secretary, in place of W. H. Johnson, resigned.

The installation of officers of the Duluth Odd Fellows lodge took place last Monday night, after repeated adjournments. The occasion was a very pleasant one.

The new West End lodge, Zenith Lodge No. 160, organized a couple of weeks ago, is progressing finely. Seven new members were proposed for membership at the last meeting. A splendid outfit of regalia and lodge paraphernalia, costing $500, is on the way.

The committee appointed to look up ways and means for the new hall project for William A. Gorman post, G. A. R., have not yet reported, but it is understood they have the matter well in hand, and will be prepared to make a favorable report in a few days. Tuesday evening the post, assisted by the ladies of the Relief Corps, will give a midsummer ice cream sociable.

At the regular meeting of Clan Stewart, held last night, there were two applications for membership and two new members were duly initiated.

A special meeting of Royal Adelphia lodge is called for August 6. At this meeting the question of representation in the supreme conclave will come up and some action will be taken on this head. It is understood that some resolutions relative to the matter will be introduced.

President Harrison's Double.

President Harrison, it is said, has a double residing in New York. This presidential counterfeit, it is said, would be taken for the chief magistrate anywhere, and has already been the innocent cause of numerous blunders. It is not at all strange, however, because it is said that nature creates everything in pairs, and that every man has his double somewhere. The Saint Paul and Duluth railroad, however, has no double. It stands alone as the best, shortest and most thoroughly equipped route to and from St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth, West Superior and other points North and Northwest. Circulars furnished cheerfully by A. B. Plough, General Passenger Agent, St. Paul, Minn.

The Excursion Line.

Since its advent into the Northwestern field about three years ago, "The Burlington" has come to the front as the favorite line for large excursion parties. In June 1888, this line carried the Northwestern delegates to the National democratic convention at St. Louis by special train, to their entire satisfaction. In the same month "The Burlington" was the people's line to the National republican convention at Chicago, carrying in four days over 4000 delegates and visitors to that gathering. The Knights of Pythias also selected it as their line to the supreme lodge meeting at Cincinnati. This year the teachers of Minnesota and the Northwest selected "The Burlington" as the official route to their great meeting at Nashville. The reason is that this is the superior route for all large parties. For tickets and rates, address W. J. C. Kenyon, general passenger agent, Chicago, Burlington and Northern railroad, St. Paul, Minn., or call on your local agent.

First a Pigmy---Anon a Giant.

We are too apt to regard a small ailment much as we would some pigmy, unpleasant of aspect and prankish indeed, but incapable of serious mischief. We ignore the fact that it grows prodigiously, strengthens in proportion and begets evil progeny. A fit of indigestion, a slight bilious attack, sensations of unrest and languor when the system should have been braced by recent sleep, unaccountable nervousness, inactivity of the kidneys or bladder—what are these but the precursors of obstinate and serious bodily disturbance? In either of the above emergencies, common sense and experience unite in indicating Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as the best preventive. Particularly should its use be prompt when the languor, yawning, chilliness down the back, and feverishness that precede a malarial attack, manifest themselves. Incipient rheumatism grows apace. Don't neglect it. So with constipation and debility.

BIG ELEVATOR DEAL.

An English Syndicate Buys Seventy-eight Van Dusen Elevators.

Today's Wheat Market Here and at New York and Chicago.

CHICAGO, July 26.—Mr. Douglas M. MacRae, editor of The London Financial Times, is in the city en route for home after a trip through the Northwest. Mr. MacRae, while in this country, has been acting as the agent of the British syndicate, which has been making extensive purchases of American grain elevators. The number which he has purchased is much larger than it was generally supposed the syndicate had yet acquired.

"As agent of a syndicate," said Mr. MacRae, "I have purchased seventy-eight elevators in the Van Dusen system in the Northwest."

"You have been negotiating for the purchase of some Minneapolis flour mills have you not?"

"Yes, I have been carrying on some negotiations in that direction, but no arrangements have yet been made for their purchase."

As Mr. MacRae is now on his way home, it is presumable that the negotiations are off, as the dispatches from Minneapolis have indicated.

Today's Wheat Market.

The wheat market today has ruled weak and dull, at ⅛ to 1c per bu lower than yesterday's close, on the "new crop futures," with the old wheats utterly neglected, and the feeling very general that prices for the old and new wheats must soon work closer together, with the chances that the new wheat will (by reason of its superior quality) soon be selling at a premium over the old.

Closing quotations: No. 1 Hard, very dull, sold 1 car at 99, closed weak and lower to sell. No. 1 Northern, dull, no sales, nominal at 1c lower at 92. No. 2 Northern, not mentioned, dull and lower to sell. In the absence of transactions, it is impossible to give fair quotations for the lower grades, they are all weak and lower to sell. July wheat, dull and neglected, with sellers at 90 and in shape to break 5c@10c per bu on any effort to sell any considerable quantity. August wheat, dull, with sellers at 86, no transactions reported. September wheat, opened ½c below yesterday, with sales of 10,000 bu at 82½, ruled weak and closed with sellers at 82. October wheat, weak, and lower to sell nominal, at 82½. December wheat, dull and lower to sell, closed nominally at 83. August corn, dull and lower, nominal at 35¼.

New York Money.

NEW YORK, July 26.—Money is easy at 2@3 per cent. The stock market developed no new feature after 11 o'clock, but remained dull and flam to strong, with Missouri, Pacific and Atchison showing most strength, though their advances were measured by insignificant fractions. C. C. C. and St. Louis went back a small fraction to 68, but the preferred reached slightly higher figures. At noon the market was still quiet and firm, at about the best prices of the morning.

It is needless to say that the article, a can of Unrivaled Baking Powder, was procured and turned out to be the purest, most wholesome, full weight powder in the market, and cost but one-half the price of other good powders. THE IRON WORKS.

Report of the Secretary of the Iron and Steel Company on Past Work.

The annual meeting of the Duluth Iron and Steel company was held in the office of the company yesterday, stockholders being present in person or by proxy. Secretary W. H. H. Stowell read a report which was replete with details and from which we are permitted to excerpt the following:

"The company was organized Jan. 28, 1888, and was the outgrowth of a desire of gentlemen connected with the West Duluth Land company, not only to improve their landed properties at West Duluth by the establishment of manufacturing institutions, but by the wish to be the pioneers in iron industries at the head of Lake Superior. This faith in Duluth as the best point for the cheap manufacture of iron was confirmed by the report of Mr. John Birkinbine, one of the leading, if not the leading, iron expert in the country, who made a thorough examination of the subject. Mr. Birkinbine was chosen as the engineer of the company to make the plans. Work was commenced in June and contracts were made for material needed for the buildings, all with Duluth parties who have been as low in prices as anybody when they had the facilities to do the work. Last fall it was determined that the best course would be to finish work already contracted for, and to leave fire brick work which could not be done as well in winter as in summer, and which was costly, until spring.

The following materials have been used in the buildings: 48,468 cubic feet of stone, 1341 barrels cement, 470 barrels lime, 800,000 common brick, 225,000 fire brick 400,000 to 500,000 fire brick for hot blast stoves. Also a pair of 12x20 hoisting engines, charging car, furnace fixtures, etc. The furnace stack is 23 feet in diameter, outside lined with over 200,000 fire brick to 16 feet diameter inside, and 75 feet high and is 85 feet high. The three hot blast stoves are lined with 500,000 fire brick, 16 feet in diameter, 60 feet high, with draught stack 40 feet more. The furnace stack has about 100 tons of iron in it and was made in Duluth. Sixteen boilers 36 feet long, 48x42 inches in diameter. Two Duplex pumps, capacity, 1,500,000 gallons each. One blowing engine, capacity, 15,000 cubic feet of air per minute, weighing over 100 tons. The draught stack is the largest in the Northwest, 135 feet high, 14 feet square at base, over 200,000 brick in it. An estimate makes the total cost approximate $175,000.

There was paid out up to July 1st $86,099. Practically every thing is contracted for and under way and the plant can be finished this year. It will be necessary to raise $75,000 within the next sixty days.

The secretary's report was accompanied by a statement from Mr. Birkinbine, as to supplies of fuel, flux and ore required and the methods of opening. The company decide to make an additional assessment of 20 per cent on the stockholders to provide the funds necessary for completing the plant, and it was resolved, that it is the sense of the stockholders that the directors should push the blast furnace plant to completion at the earliest practical moment, with the view of putting the same in blast during present season.

The annual election was then held and the following managers were elected: R. S. Munger, O. P. Stearns, M. J. Forbes, J. R. Myers, A. J. Whiteman, W. H. H. Stowell, J. D. Ensign. The directors held a meeting and elected R. S. Munger president, W. H. H. Stowell, secretary.

The Italia was launched at Morley's marine city yard Wednesday. She is a large wooden vessel, length 308 feet, beam 42 feet, capacity 2800 tons. The Chicago Times calls her the largest wooden steamer on the lakes. The Aurora has that distinction. The Italia is owned by James Corrigan. She will be commanded by Capt. The Ontario with a big crowd of Canadian passengers will be here tomorrow and the Peerless with a large number from Chicago and Milwaukee will be here Sunday.

Coal receipts of this week at the head of the lake will probably be a high water mark for the season.

Buffalo Express: The big steamer America left last night with her fourth coal cargo, clearing 2700 tons. She again overran on her corn cargo, five bushels, delivering 104,293 bushels. She took out considerably less fuel than usual, and expects to return with her ull complement of 105,000.

THE DAY IN THE CITY.

The Duluth Boat club crew has entered for both senior and junior four-oar races at Minnetonka

The street commissioner is at work on Michigan street today. He has done a great deal of good work on streets and roads this year.

The Baker will give her usual pleasant excursions to Spirit Lake Saturday and Sunday. The fishing is said to be at its best just now and fine catches are being made.

One of the circuits of the Duluth Electric company, lighting the entire central part of the city, was out of order last night, and there was no light for a good part of the night.

Ford Roofing company, of Chicago, has just established a branch house here. It has branches at Omaha, Kansas City and St. Louis.

Both elevators in the Duluth National bank building are now running.

Forepaugh's advertising car is at the Union depot.

A private party of nine went down on the Eastern yesterday to attend the races.

Joaquin Miller's Duluth letters to The New York Independent will deal but slightly with the material prosperity of the city, but more in regard to the beauties of the scenery.

The Williams & Upham dredging contracts on the north shore at Grand Marais will be finished in about three weeks. The work on the south shore will probably be completed by September 10. Their tug F. L. Danforth is again at work. She was repaired at Marquette. The first work of the new Williams & Upham boxes will be to lift the City of Fremont to allow the replacing of her old wheel by a new one.

Henley, an employment agent of Minneapolis, brought a party of workmen for the Northwestern Fuel company this morning.

The Gas and Water company received ten car loads of water pipe this morning.

Among the entertainments for the near future is a concert excursion to be given on the harbor under the auspices of Hoare's ochestra.

The report that the police at West Superior had a ruction with strikers on the Conners Point bridge is a canard.

The Eastern Minnesota will build a depot between Sixth and Seventh avenues west, below Michigan street. The structure will be 50x90 feet in size, two stories high. John Ennis has been let the contract for putting the building up.

A day or two ago a tourist was shown through our Board of Trade building and was heard to remark, "How very dirty it is—the steps—halls and windows look as if they were cleaned semi-annually, in other respects it is an ornament to your town." Here's a straight tip for the Board of Trade building janitor, and the owners as well.

The board of equalization held a meeting this afternoon and are still deliberating over the assessment rolls. As yet no action has been taken upon complaints of unequal assessment, nor are the complaints so far received very numerous.

Chas. A. Gustafson took out a license this morning to marry Mary E. Larson.

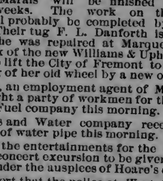

The excursion of the Episcopal Sunday school, which was to have taken place yesterday, has been postponed till next Tuesday.

On account of the continued absence of F. Paine, one of the park commission, no action was taken today in the matter of condemnation of lands for park purposes. Mr. Paine's signature is needed before the order can be made.

A report published this morning that matters connected with the establishment of a stove foundry at West Duluth had been settled, is totally without foundation.

The day has been one of the warmest and most uncomfortable of the season.

EARL OF FIFE'S ROYAL WIFE

How the Daughter of the Prince Of Wales Was Wed Today.

Strange Return of the Bridegroom to Legitimate Royalty.

LONDON, July 27.—[Special.]—The marriage of the Princess Louise of Wales, third child of the Prince of Wales and future King of England, and the Earl of Fife was solemnized today in the royal private chapel attached to Buckingham palace. Owing to the limited space in the edifice, less than fifty spectators were in attendance on the ceremony. These included her majesty, the Queen, the Shah of Persia, the Prince and Princess of Wales, the Princes Albert Victor and George, Princess Alexandria and Maud, the Duke and Duchess of Edinburgh, the Duke of Cambridge, Princess Beatrice and Lord Salisbury.

The bride was attired in a magnificent white silk costume, en train and decollette, with elaborate garniture of valenciennes lace and the traditional orange blossoms. A costly necklace of diamond solitares encircled her throat (the gift of the groom) while a minature fan of sapphires and rubies glistened in her hair. Mr. Horace Farquhar officiated as best man and the bridesmaids were the Princesses Maud and Alexandria of Wales, Princess Alix of Hesse and the Princess of Albany.

The bride was given away by her father, the Queen in accordance with ancient usuage formally signifying her assent.

The Archbishop of Canterbury, assisted by the Bishop of London, Rev. Dr. Worthington, chaplain in ordinary to the Queen, and two other divines performed the ceremony. There was an immense crowd outside the palace, but a detachment of the royal artillery and horse guards kept the populace outside a radius of two thousand yards.

The wedding breakfast was given at Marlborough house, where the wedding presents were displayed. These included a flexible tiara of diamonds from the Prince and Princess of Wales, a diamond bracelet from the Shah of Persia, a diamond necklace from the wives of peers, a half hoop bracelet composed of eleven large diamonds from the cabinet ministers, a diamond comb from the household of the Prince of Wales, and three diamond stars from the ladies of the Queen's household. The present from her majesty was not displayed. This afternoon the happy couple will leave London for Shean house and after a short honeymoon will go to Scotland.

The bride of today is the second member of the royal family to tempt fate by marrying a commoner, or a subject of the realm. The new Duchess of Fife is approaching her 23rd year. She is short in stature and very plainlooking, with a phlegmatic cast of countenance.

The Earl of Fife is a sort of cousin to the Queen, but on the wrong side of the blanket. His grandmother was a daughter of Mrs. Jordon, the actress who was the mistress of the Duke of Clarence, afterwards King William IV, and was left by that large-hearted,Sailor King of England to die in poverty at St. Cloud. They had lived together for twenty years, when the Duke of Clarence became virtuous and got another mistress. At this time there were ten children. The eldest, who would have been King of England had the union been a legal one, was made Earl of Minister. The Earl of Fife is within a few months of his 40th year, and a liberal unionist in politics. He is terribly in earnest in his opposition to the Irish policy of Mr. Gladstone, and not long ago in a public speech said that the Gladstonians should be treated as traitors. For five years he was a member of the house of commons, and in 1882 was sent on a special mission to the King of Saxony. He is very wealthy, owns vast estates and a bank, is free from vices and sporting proclivites, and altogether is looked upon as an exemplary and model man.

The New York Printers.

NEW YORK, July 27.—There is a good deal of suppressed excitement in printers' circles regarding the outcome of the meeting of the Typographical union tomorrow, when the dispute with some of the leading morning papers regarding the scale of prices relating to cuts and standing matter will be taken up for action. It is reported today that some of the papers have been hustling around the country for non-union men with the intention of showing a bold front to the union and resisting its demands. It is given out that the new scale is as good as rejected, and that the executive board will insist upon the one already in existence being adhered to.

TWO HARBORS.

TWO HARBORS, Minn., June 27.—[Special.]—The village council awarded the contract to erect water works to Fairbanks, Morse & Co., of St. Paul. Contract price, $19,000. Flicatrault & St. Jacques were given the contract on excavation.

Kenyon & Smith, builders, are erecting a neat dwelling for Albert Headley.

The office of coroner is vacant and should be filled at the earliest date.

The Board of Health has ordered all rubbish and dust cleaned up and taken outside the village limits.

The County board has decided to deposit county funds with Selwood, Burke & Co., the village bank. Mr. Burke reports business as good.

W. B. Woodward, of Fargo, North Dakota, is in the village, a guest of Foreman Griffen Mr. Woodward is a successful business man and may conclude to locate.

DASTARDLY MURDER.

A Prominent Cincinnati Man Murdered for His Money.

CINCINNATI, July 27.—The body of Col. A. E. Jones was found this morning in a manhole not far from his residence, murdered and robbed.

Col. Jones left his house about 3:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon, wearing no coat, his feet in slippers, and went in the direction of his stable. That was the last seen of him alive. The family did not become alarmed until after night, and then prosecuted its search quietly until yesterday, when notice was given to the police. During the day yesterday, a trail of blood was discovered opposite the doctor's stable on Cemetery street, and being followed was traced to Park avenue, thence south two or three squares to the junction of Cypress street and Francis lane, where on the grass was quite a pool of blood. It was here in a manhole of the sewer that the body was found this morning. The police are already making arrests, among them being Chas. Bligh, the colored hostler, who had been with Col. Jones about two months.

MARINE MATTERS.

Demurrage Claims to be Made—News of a Day in the Port.

Thos. Marks, of Port Arthur, has closed a contract for the transportation of Pennsylvania coke from Lake Erie ports to Algoma Mills, to be thence transported via Canadian Pacific to Sudbury.

The organization of a body to be known as the Great Lakes Commerce association is suggested by the Superior chamber of commerce and action is asked at the convention next week. The object suggested is a general oversight of the navigation interests of the great lakes by calling conventions, holding regular or special meetings to discuss the commercial of the West and Northwest, and such matters as it may be determined should enter into its purposes.

Twenty-three coal laden and one merchandise vessels have been delayed at this port and West Superior during the last week, through the strike of the coal heavers and dock laborers. The detention ranges from half a day to five days, and will run in amounts from $30 to $350. The vessel men are not disposed to endure this sort of delay and will individually present claims for the various amounts, and if necessary will bring suit to enforce payment.

THE MEDES AND PERSIANS

Were Nothing to the State Commission When Duluth is Concerned.

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 27.—[Special.]—Railroad and Warehouse commission prepared an important letter directed to General Freight Agent Moore of the Northern Pacific in reply to a communication asking for a waiving of inspection of foreign wheat at Duluth. The company desires, having extended its road into Manitoba so that it can compete with the Canadian Pacific in handling wheat destined to Ontario and Montreal and for export, to do so without hindrance. If expense is increased by inspection at Duluth it will have the effect of diverting more of the wheat to the Canadian Pacific.

Gen. Becker, in his reply, quotes section five of the act regarding inspection and says:

"Commissioners have no authority to change or waive provisions of the law, and to do so in this case would throw everything into a confusion which would make the system entirely worthless. We are compelled therefore to deny the application," They suggest that the difficulty may be remedied at the next legislature when provision may be made for passing foreign wheat in bond through a public elevator and they will gladly make suitable recommendation in relation thereto. Meanwhile they call attention to the fact that this expense is not enough to make it a burden to the grain, even where it is not desired, as the cost of inspection and weighing amounts to less than one cent per bushel.

THE INSPECTOR TALKS.

Chief Grain Inspector Clausen Figures Duluth's Share of the Crop.

A. C. Clausen, recently made chief state inspector, was in Duluth a few days this week looking up wheat matters. He believes there will be a crop of wheat in the Northwest of between 70,000,000 and 75,000,000 bushels, estimating from the various reports sent him. "It is hard," said he, "to figure exactly, but that is my belief. Of that Duluth will get not less that 15,000,000 bushels. I don't think you will get more than that here, though you may get as high as 18,000,000. Minneapolis will need a great quantity and will make sure to get it.

"I understand there is a good deal of regret among grain men here that Mr. Shely is to be moved to Minneapolis, and he certainly does not want to go. But the interests there are so diverse, the system is so different from that employed here, that we needed the very best man we could find, and Mr. Shely fills the bill. He's stubborn as a bulldog, too, and that is needed."

Other authorities than Mr. Clausen estimate 80,000,000 bushels, this opinion being based upon voluminous advices and coinciding with the view of disinterested men of conservative judgment. Minnesota may get 47,000,000 and for both Dakota, 35,000,000 more, a total of 80,000,000. The last crop was more than 70,000,000 bushels of all sorts of stuff, good and bad. It is quite generally conceded that the promise is for some 10,000,000 bushels more than a year ago.

Artistic Personals.

Galignani's Messenger, the English paper in Paris, speaks as follows of a couple of paintings by Gilbert Munger, an artist well known in Duluth, not only from residence here but by reason of several of his finest land and water scapes on view in private galleries in the city:

The two landscapes which Mr. Gilbert Munger, the well known American artist, had destined for the Universal exposition, were acquired by H. R. H. the Duke of Saxe-Meiningen for the museum at Meiningen, last April. A few days ago Mr. Munger received from the duke the cross of merit for art and science.

It will please Mr. Munger's many Duluth friends to recollect that he has already been decorated by the insignia of three orders of rank in Europe, which artists do most covet, being the gift of rulers particularly capable of judging merit in art. Nearly all his paintings are sold in England where Mr. Munger is looked upon as one of the few really great living painters.

Mrs. John B. Weston, who is now starting classes in practical designing and water color painting, has a reputation which will doubtless stand her in good stead. She was a pupil of Louis C. Tiffany and Wm. Hart, and has for several years designed for the Tiffanys in New York, some of their finest work in memorial windows, etc., being from her design. She has also designed silk patterns, artistic wall papers, of the new styles, and other articles and is a neat practical designer. Mrs. Weston is a very marked addition to artistic circles in Duluth.

Joaquin Miller, the "Poet of the Sierra," left today for St. Paul, his work of a series of letters of the Northwest being completed. To use his own language, Mr. Miller's letters only touch the points of sharpest interest, and those first noticed by a visitor. The fourth letter in his series has just been published in The New York Independent, and as the Duluth letter is the fourteenth, it will appear in little more than two months. He is an enthusiastic landscape gardener, and a drive for two miles up Chester brook and along the terrace boulevard yesterday afternoon made him an enthusiast on Duluth's park possibilities. "I have written The Independent people that Duluth will be some day as large as Chicago, and when it is as large, it will the next day be larger," said he.

TO AID IN WORSHIP.

Beautiful House to be Built by Duluth Presbyterians.

An Elegant Addition to Church Architecture of the West.

The plans for the new Presbyterian church have been completed by Architect Traphagen and the contract for the building will be let within ten days. The structure will be one of the most unique and beautiful in the Northwest and while the cost has been put at $50,000, it will probably exceed that sum. Its interior measurments are 107 by 76 feet and above the northwest corner rises a tower 130 feet. The designn is Romanesque, massively graceful in outline, with the two fronts carved intricately. The material will be of brown stone, and on the main entrance elaborate stone work will be done. The general shape is crusiform. The tower space will be used possibly for chimes, the first in Duluth.

The most beautiful ornamentation will be two rose windows, each 13 feet in diameter. The interior of the church is of peculiar design. The auditorium is 65 feet square and a vaulted dome reaches a height of 50 feet. In the southeast corner is the pulpit, a platform 8 feet deep and 25 feet wide. Over and back of it is the choir loft. At the west side is a transept that will seat 100 people. The auditorium is entered from three vestibules, fifteen feet square, on each side of the three street angles, the pulpit space forming the other angle. A vestibule stairway leads to the gallery, that seats 350 people, making the total seating capacity about 1000. The seats are arranged on a curve, the pulpit platform being the center. The floor is raised so that the view will be unobstructed. On the main floor is a committee room, 18 by 30 feet, entered from the auditorium and the southwest vestibule. The main entrance to the church is made under an arch 14 feet wide and 16 high. On both sides are stairways leading to the auditorium vestibules.

From the northeast vestibule a stairway descends to the Sunday school and classrooms in the basement. The schoolroom has a seating capacity of 600. The seats here are also arranged in a semi-circle. The platform corner is directly beneath the pulpit. To the back of the schoolrooms are the classrooms, radiating from the pulpit, and capable, by a sliding arrangement of the doors, of being made into one room. The Sunday school room is entered on the grade of the southwest vestibule. Off the room is a parlor and diningroom, kitchen and library.

Back of the pulpit on the main floor is the pastor's study. This is fitted with fireplace and bookcases. The auditorium is to be lighted with electricity. The interior will be fitted in natural woods. The most admirable arrangement is in the ventilation. This is as perfect as ingenuity can devise. Between the floors is reserved a large space, into which warm, fresh air will be forced by pipe systems from furnaces and brought up from the floors through little registers which open at the end of every row of seats. In the ceiling and sides ducts will carry off the foul air. The heating will be by steam.

The church will be located on the east corner of Second street and Third avenue east, and considerable work has already been done on the foundation.

RACES AT HAMLINE.

Fourth Day's Sport of the Twin Cities Events.

MINNEAPOLIS, July 27.—The fourth day's racing at Hamline was exceedingly good, considering the condition of the track, which the rain of Thursday had soaked. Taking everything into consideration the racing was good.

An additional feature was the hurdle race, introduced for the first time during the meeting. As it was a pretty contest, with no accidents, it proved decidedly popular. For the first time since the opening day the bookmakers managed to win, but not largely. Nearly every race except the last found from two to four favorites, and considerable money was placed on each.

In the first race Bon Air and Alphonso were backed down from 5 to 2 to 3 to 2, and Gracie D, carrying quite a number of small bets, beat both out. In the second race Charlotte J was a hot favorite, but was beaten in by a length by Blantyre, who had comparatively few backers. In the third Miss Belle, the favorite, won, but the book-makers found themselves about even after paying off, Blarney Stone, Jr., Lulie B and Alarm Bell being well backed to win. Abilene was a favorite for a place horse at 4 to 5. In the fourth Kedar Kahn was a favorite to win, with Vivian for a place, with bets considerably scattered on St. Leger, Castilian and Enterprise. St. Leger won. In the fifth Dad was made a favorite at first, but Bridgelight came up before they got away from the post. Winning Ways was a strong choice for place money. Bridgelight came in first. In the last, Linguist was a strong favorite at one to four, and the field found but few takers. Linguist took this race easily.

Tips for today: First race—Gov. Ross and Alta; second race—Cora Fisher and Lotion; third race—Miss Belle and Willie M; fourth race—Bridgelight and Mabel; fifth race—Sallie Hagan and Nevada.

Japan is developing more and more rapidly as the years go by, and the new Japan gains impetus. Recent explorations have brought to light the fact that the country will become independent of other countries as regards its coal supply, vast coal fields having been recently discovered.

It is now authoritatively announced that as a result of the recent visit to Winnipeg and the Canadian Northwest of Northern Pacific officials that road has secured control of the Manitoba and the Northwestern, the expected purchase of which was noted in The Herald two weeks ago. This road is 205 miles long and has twenty-six miles of branches. It extends in a northwesterly direction from Portage la Prairie, sixty miles west of Winnipeg, and taps a magnificent agricultural country. The objective point is Prince Albert, at the forks of the two Saskatchewan rivers. It is a most important key to the vast Saskatchewan country, and has long been coveted by the Canadian Pacific. As the Northern Pacific has a line between Winnipeg and Portage la Prairie, the new acquisition will prove a most important feeder.

In an interview published elsewhere the chief inspector estimates that of a total wheat crop of seventy million bushels in the Northwest, Duluth will get about fifteen million. The Herald would differ from the gentleman quoted to the extent at least of five milllion. Conditions are changed from last year. Then the crops in western Wisconsin, Iowa and southern Minnesota were such failures that the millers of those sections bought largely in Minneapolis for shipment to their mills, thus taking fifteen million bushels through Minneapolis. This year they have bumper crops of their own and wil buy little or no wheat in this section. Then Minneapolis millers were flushed with bull ideas and bought all the wheat they could get. Since then they have lost their trade and have been sweating greenbacks at every pore. This year a different policy will be pursued. They will buy what they need and seek to regain their lost flour trade by buying wheat and selling flour at low prices. Duluth wheat stocks are very low in the East. All these causes and the establishment of a legitimate market ought to add very largely to our grain business. There will also be a return to old times in speculative business on the board this fall and winter.

It was the death of a great man, when Charlemagne Tower breathed his last a few days ago. For surely a man who brought to successful development a new industry, whose money, invested a few years ago, has caused the employment of thousands of men today, may be called great. He was born in Oneida county, New York, and in 1830 graduated from Harvard. He was a lawyer and many large undertakings in Pennsylvania were carried out by him. He was a director in the Northern Pacific. But by far the greatest undertaking of his life, was the development of Duluth's tributary iron range. In 1875, after Mr. Tower had learned from George C. Stone of the deposits to the north of us, he sent out an expert, and the report was so favorable that he determined to invest and build a railroad to bring the ore to market. He purchased 20,000 acres of mineral land, and in 1883 the railroad was begun. The mines were opened and a force of men set at work digging ore. Millions were expended. July 31, 1884, the first train load of ore passed to Lake Superior, whence it was shipped East. This year the output will be 800,000. On June 5, 1887, in Chicago, Mr. Tower handed over to a new syndicate the stock and bonds of the Duluth and Iron Range railroad and deeds to some 20,000 acres of land and received in return certified checks for over $6,000,000. Perhaps Mr. Tower leaves no man yet on the stage of action whose life has been of more practical benefit to the Northwest, than his own.

The work of arranging for the taking of the census next year is being pushed with vigor by Superintendent Porter. He has selected most of his chief assistants already. For the collection of statistics relating to the cattle industry and agricultural interests, Western men will be placed in charge, while Eastern experts will be given control of the manufacturing statistics. The statistics in regard to manufactures will deal with the number of establishments, their output, employes and facts of a similar character. H. K. Carroll, of The New York Independent, will have charge of religious statistics, and the inquiries by the bureau will embrace the number of church buildings, seating capacity, value of church property, and church membership. An inquiry that will be of great value is that relating to wealth, indebtedness, and taxation. Connected with this inquiry is a matter that is rather perplexing, as it involves the collection of the recorded indebtedness of the country. Messrs. John S. Lord of Illinois, Fred W. Krouse of New York and George K. Holmes of Massachusetts have been authorized to make in their respective sections tests in order to determine upon the best method of ascertaining the amount of indebtedness. The plan adopted for collecting mortality statistics is unique. The cities will be divided into blocks instead of following the present municipal division of wards. In this way the tenement house sections, for example, can be brought into one group, and the statistics will throw some light upon the death rate which prevails among that class of population as compared with those who are better housed. David T. Day is in charge of the mining and engineering statistics. He will have as assistants such experts as the editor of The Engineering and Mining Journal of New York. J. W. Collins and C. W. Smiley, of the United States fish commission will have charge of the fisheries statistics, and A. E. Schulan, who was the author of vol. 4 of the last census, will arrange the railroad statistics.

LEO WHEAT, MUSICIAN.

The concert at the Congregational church last evening was an event demanding, for several reasons, special consideration and generous treatment. It may justly be said that it was an epoch-making event, considered as a musical and as a Duluth event. We shall not, therefore, treat it simply as an entertainment nor entirely from an artistic standpoint. A very notable and noticeable feature was the singing of Mrs. Nicholls. She appeared in a Recamier gown of white silk and cashmere, with a mass of roses at her breast, and was beautiful to look upon as well as enchanting to listen to. She was happier in her selections and in her execution than at her own benefit concert a week earlier, at which time several causes had combined to make her extremely nervous, and therefore unable to do full justice to herself and her recent training. Last night there was no trace of nervousness, and Duluth's soprano gave her numbers with the spirit, the finish, the sympathy and the interpretation of the true artist with voice and power to give expression to her conception. There was not a flaw in her performance, from the first note of Gastalon's "Musica Proibita" to the last cadence of Wheat's "Lullaby, Oh! Baby Dear." Between these numbers she sang in Gilbert's duet, "On Mossy Banks," with Mr. Hodge, Dessauer's "A Sevigilia," Godard's "Arabi Song." This latter was in response to an enthusiastic encore, and the last verse of the duet was repeated. The reception given Mrs. Nicholls must have been highly gratifying to her, and was as creditable to the audience, which was, by the way, one of the most critical and discriminating ever gathered in Duluth.

Mr. Wheat appeared in every number on the program, including the encores, either as principal or as accompanist. On the organ he gave an anthem of his own composition, "Trust in the Lord;" "March of the Priests," by Bolldieu; overture to "Dame Blanche," by Rossini, and as an encore a medley which included his own arrangement of "The Last Rose of Summer," Meudelssohn's "Swedish Wedding March" and selections from "Martha;" march and chorus from "Tannhauser," Wagner. On the piano, (a magnificent Steinway baby grand, loaned by Mr. W. C. Sargent) he gave an "Impromptu" and "Valse Brilliante" by Chopin; "Valse Lente" and "Pizzicatti," by Delibes; fantasie on Gounod's "Faust," of his own arrangement; a summer idyl of his own composition, which he calls "What the River Said." This piece was written in response to a suggestion of the author's daughter that the Shenandoah river, upon whose banks is Mr. Wheat's home, was singing to her, and it is a genuine musical inspiration, enough in itself to entitle Mr. Wheat to a high place among living composers. Previous to giving this piece, Mr. Wheat feelingly and gracefully expressed the pleasure and gratitude he felt at his cordial reception in this city.

Since Mr. Wheat has been in Duluth he has been heard by every person competent to form a just opinion as to his merits as an artist. There are opinions that deny him the high position accorded by the great majority, and that has been awarded him by great musical authorities for years past; but their strictures are based upon premises which do not touch his artistic qualities, and are not entitled to consideration. It would be as just, and as truly a proof of the critical acumen of the commentator, to cry Dickens down as a novelist because of the style of his pen as to assume that Leo Wheat is not a great musical artist because of his mannerisms and methods. Music is music, whether the preformer stands on his feet or on his head, and the critic who assumes to cry "charlatanism," "ludicrous," etc., simply advertises his own lack of power to discriminate between form and essence—between the husk and the heart of the fruit within. The opinion of the whole of musical Duluth is that Mr. Wheat is an artist of wonderful genius. Capable musicians note his faults—that he lacks what smaller musicians attain by careful practice and that devotion to detail which is impossible to genius. But when he touches the keys of piano or organ the soul of music awakens within listeners and they are possessed with it. His critics forget, or do not know, that his method was derived from the greatest masters. His interpretation of Chopin, for example, has received the approval of the Paris conservatoire, and is a very close imitation of Chopin's own. Mr. Wheat's performance is not perfect in technique, nor does he always make it strictly follow the author's notes. But it never misses the inspired motif, nor fails in its interpretation of that motif. He has the true artist's scorn for trammelling detail, and could not tie himself to a particular method if he considered that music would be the gainer if convention were ignored. To his musical genius Mr. Wheat adds a disposition as sweet as his music, and a broad and varied culture. He has met and knows all the living musicians worth knowing, and counts among his friends scores of the statesmen and men eminent in public life and business who congregate about the nation's capital. Columns of private letters and critical newspaper notices might be given to show the appreciation of his wonderful genius; but it is not necessary. Duluth has heard him and joins in the verdict that his genius is wonderful.

SEEN AND HEARD.

"In my letter to The New York Independent I tell the editors that in a few years Duluth will be as large as Chicago," said Joaquin Miller, as he sat in The Spalding lobby, resting after several hours' hard rustle with the pencil. "Then I go on to tell them that Duluth will not stop there, but will go on growing until she leaves Chicago in the lurch. Up here in this country somewhere there's going to be a big, nice clean city, with refined inhabitants, thoroughly American in all its environments. New York will never be that. She's so near the Europe that she receives the offscourings of the continent. Boston is like her; in fact, all Eastern cities are undesirable in this respect. Yes, the West will be the greatest, the most prosperous and the most cultured part of the world sometime. It isn't now.

* * *

"When I look at Chicago's restricted territory and look at her present greatness and her proud position in the commercial world, and think of the millions of inhabitants in her legitimate country she will sometime do business for, I wonder where it will all end. Then I turn to Duluth and compare her possibilities with the present Western metropolis. There will come a time when Chicago will be hemmed in by a hundred cities; Duluth is the last of the inland water cities. No town can dispute her supremacy, no city can ever rival her. Chicago has tens of miles; Duluth has hundreds. The center of population will sometime be to the west of Duluth and to the north of Colorado. When that time comes Duluth will be the greatest inland city of the world."

* * *

"I wish we could have hired your police last week, during our strike," said a resident of West Superior. "If Captain McLaughlin and a dozen of those big fellows had been over when the strike began there would have been no necessity to send for the militia. Duluth I consider the best protected city at the head of the lake, and as long as your police maintain their present efficiency, you need have no fear of strikes or any other disturbers of the public peace. I understand your business men presented the police with a purse of over $3000. That was a wise as well as generous step. It was without doubt money well spent."

How Washington Can Accommodate a Great Crowd Of Visitors,

And How Its Noted Bartenders Concoct Summer Drinks.*

WASHINGTON, July 23.—[Special Correspondence.]—With all the talk about the great all American exposition to be held in either Washington or New York in 1892, attention is naturally directed to the capacity of the hotels of the capital city. I think the presentation of the facts with regard to Washington will surprise a good many. We heard a great deal about the jammed inconvenience of inauguration, but thousands more, if they had come here, would have been well enough provided for on that memorable occasion. A local writer has been at some pains to investigate this hotel matter and finds the following to be the facts: Washington has eighty-five hotels and over three hundred registered boarding houses. Of these hotels the fifteen principal ones, the Arlington, Arno, Normandie, Wormleys, Welckers, Riggs, Willard, Abbitt, Solari, Randall, Maltby, Metropolitan, National, St. James, and the American, give their full capacity at 8500, or an average of 566. Of the remaining seventy small hotels their capacity runs from 25 to 150. Assuming the average to be 100, their total capacity including the larger one, would by 15,000. Add to this twenty for the average of the 300 boarding-houses, and we have the sum of 21,500.

Besides this there are from one to ten rooms to let without board in 3000 or 4000 private houses; so that Washington can safely claim to be able at the present time to provide shelter and food for at least 60,000 to 70,000 strangers. Most of the hotel proprietors expressed their determination to construct temporary hotel quarters other than those they now have on vacant ground convenient to the exposition grounds. The capital is here and the ability to use it, and in the three years before the exposition opens (July, 1892), there will doubtless be the most ample accommodation provided in this city. But it is argued in addition by those who are most strenuous in their advocacy of Washington for the Exposition city, that even if there should be a shortage, we have the beautiful city of Baltimore, only forty-five minutes distant by rail from the exposition grounds, nearer, in fact, than the New York hotels would be to any point where the exposition could be placed were it held in that city. The hotel accommodations of Baltimore are at least equal to that of this city, and are a legitimate factor in our hotel facilities.

Besides it should be borne in mind that many thousands of visitors from distant points will come here in chartered sleeping coaches and will sleep in these cars on side tracks during their stay. To sum up, it is no exaggeration to say, that with our present facilities, including Baltimore, we can take care of 250,000 visitors daily, or a million and a half in a week. Does anyone expect a bigger crowd than that? the most enthusiastic ask.

The hotel men here are organizing to take this matter in hand and have a dozen new hotels either already projected or under process of construction. I should not wonder myself, if this hotel association, when in full working order, will see that everybody who may visit Washington City during the exposition period should be well sheltered and well fed.

In this hot weather the Washington hotel barkeeper tries over and over again the problem of concocting new drinks. It may be said that there is nothing new behind the bar, just as there is nothing new under the sun. But if the question is ancient, there is a new generation of drinkers every ten years, if there is not every five years, so that none of the well-intentioned efforts may properly be said to be fruitless.

Now Barkeeper James Humphreys prepared what he called the "Mayflower" for a friend of mine the other day. First he took a long, thin glass and filled it to the top with chopped ice. Then into a large mixing tumbler he dropped an egg and added to that a bar spoonful of sugar. On this he poured an ounce of Old Tom gin, a few drops of Maraschira and a dash of creme de vanille, and then placing a shaker over the glass he shook it until the mixture was thoroughly frozen. It was then strained into another glass, and the "Mayflower" was ready for the drinker. Another drink which Humphrey has introduced he calls the "calla lily," because he seems to have a turn for horticulture. This he makes with the yolk of an egg and a spoonful of sugar, and equal proportions of shaved ice, brandy and Jamaica rum. To the foregoing he adds a pony of cream and a few drops of creme de rose cordial. The drink is then frozen, and when strained into a glass is further embelished by the addition of the white of the egg, well beaten into a creamy foam. A man who has taken this is said to forget that there is such a thing as weather.

At the Arlington this season they have invented what they call the "business bracer." It is popular. It is made with half a pint of champagne, a pint of brandy, three dashes of Angostora bitters, and a small glass of appolinaris. An other popular drink is "Rickey," named after the redoubtable Joe of St. Louis, New York and other places. He first had it mixed at Shoemaker's, one of the saloons here on "Rum Row," so called. Joe Rickey had it mixed there once for him and its popularity spread everywhere. The mixture is simple. It consists of one half lime, whisky, ice and soda. When properly and carefully mixed it is said to come nearer to supplying what a drinker wants in hot weather than anything else yet discovered.

Down at the Metropolitan they mix a Bennett smash, the Manning punch and other fancy drinks to suit the taste of customers who know the business of the barkeeper better than he does himself. O'Connell, the veteran at the National hotel, has a new morning drink which he calls the "mountain oyster." He maintains that it beats the world for bracing the weak stomach, but refuses to divulge what it is made of. He does admit, however, that it contains no intoxicating liquors.

You may have heard of the Harvard student, who during vacation used to be clerk and at the same time barkeeper at a hotel in the White Mountains. A customer called for a drink that "his nibs" had never heard of. Did he dispair? Never. He put into that drink everything that he could think of. The customer smacked his lips and said it was immense. He said he had never seen his favorite tipple made so skilfully. You have met William, perhaps, the loquacious but very engaging bartender who used to tend at the foot of the bridge in New York and serve out his coffee punches with eleven ingredients, and his "maiden's breathe" with twenty-one, to scores of admiring customers.

These are notable cases. The most notable case of the season in Washington perhaps has been a drink named after the postmaster-general. The other evening a postoffice clerk went into a saloon on the avenue with a crowd of his friends and leaned up over the railing where the dirty towels hang. The proprietor inqured what the clerk wanted. He surprised the listeners by saying:

"Give me a Wanamaker."

When the clerk explained that that was ginger ale, the whole gang, on the word of the barkeeper, came near dying of laughter, but the word was passed around and it is the fad among the postoffice clerks now to drink the drink called after their favorite John.

The Harrison julep, made somewhat after the model of the regular mint julep, is not quite so popular as the Wanamaker. Nobody can discover its exact composition.

HOW IS THIS?

Pointers for the State Board of Equalization—A Queer Disparity.

Comparisons are generally odious, to the other fellow, but a perusal of the following, taken from the assessment rolls of Duluth and St. Paul, will show that in this case they are curious as well, if nothing more. To begin with, there is a corporation in Duluth which is assessed on personal property twice as much as any corporation in St. Paul outside of banks. The corporation is the Lake Superior Elevator company, which pays taxes on personal property to the amount of $403,500. The American Loan and Trust company of this city is assessed at $210,000. The St. Paul Trust company on $175,000. The Northwestern Fuel company, presumably a St. Paul institution, is assessed there on $27,000, while at Duluth the same concern is assessed at $30,000. The St. Paul Gas Light company is assessed at $197,500; the Duluth Gas and Water company at $140,550—only $50,000 between Duluth and St. Paul. The two Duluth Electric Light companies pay taxes on $82,500 worth of personal property, and the Edison Electric Light company only $25,000. Nichols & Dean, one of the heaviest wholesale hardware houses of St. Paul are assessed at $8,500; while the Wells-Chapin company, a Duluth hardware firm pays on $50,770. Then there is the Ryan Drug company, of St. Paul, considered one of the largest wholesale houses in the state, assessed at $27,500. Compare this with Stone & Ordean of Duluth, who pay $40,000. Marshall, Field & Co.'s branch house at St. Paul, only $30,000. The Wells-Stone Mercantile of Duluth, $35,425. And so the list might be continued indefinitely, but enough has been shown for examples.

It would seem from the above that either the St. Paul assessors do not know their business, that St. Paul houses carry small stocks, or that the merchants of that place, forced by their geographical location to pay more freight than the merchants at the head of the lakes, are allowed the difference to enable them to keep up with the procession, thus giving them an advantage over other portions of the state in this regard, and causing the burden of taxation to fall upon the shoulders of the poorer classes. Verily, the scriptural injunction, "To him that hath shall be given and to him that hath not shall be taken away, even that which he hath," has a literal interpretation in this case. There is food for reflection in the foregoing figures. Can the disparity be explained?

First a Pigmy---Anon a Giant.

We are too apt to regard a small ailment much as we would some pigmy, unpleasant of aspect and prankish indeed, but incapable of serious mischief. We ignore the fact that it grows prodigiously, strengthens in proportion and begets evil progeny. A fit of indigestion, a slight bilious attack, sensations of unrest and languor when the system should have been braced by recent sleep, unaccountable nervousness, inactivity of the kidneys or bladder—what are these but the precursors of obstinate and serious bodily disturbance? In either of the above emergencies, common sense and experience unite in indicating Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as the best preventive. Particularly should its use be prompt when the languor, yawning, chilliness down the back, and feverishness that precede a malarial attack, manifest themselves. Incipient rheumatism grows apace. Don't neglect it. So with constipation and debility.

NUMBER 1'S NEW HOUSE.

The Quarters of a Division of Duluth's Protectors From Fire,

How the Horses are Hitched in When an Alarm Sounds.

Duluth Engine company No. 1 is now fairly installed in its new quarters, corner of Third street and First avenue east, and elegant quarters they are. The building is of pressed brick with carved brownstone trimmings, constructed with a view to architectural effect as well as extreme solidity, which are both features. On the first floor is the apparatus room, which contains one Silsby engine, a chemical engine, hook and ladder truck with the necessary appliances, the hose carts, and requisite apparatus, extra hose, etc. Directly in the rear are situated the stables, which contain nine stalls. The stables are without doubt the handsomest in the city, fitted up with every convenience, well lighted and commodious. At present six horses are kept. Ingeniously-contrived tubes supply the various kinds of feed from the feed room on the upper floor.

Upstairs on one side is a large room, containing the beds of engine and hose men, and the other side is arranged in a similar manner for the chemical men. At the north end of the engine company's room a lavatory is fitted up in the most elaborate manner with bath, sinks and all necessary conveniences. At the rear of the west room is the battery room. To the uninitiated in technological matters this room is simply a maze of magnetic jars, wires and other mysterious looking electrical machinery. The alarms are conducted on the Gamble system, which is considered one of the most effective in use. On one side of each of the sleeping rooms are round apertures through the floor, three or four feet in circumference, through which pass brass sliding poles. This is the way a fireman comes down stairs, and when he has occasion to descend he simply throws one arm around the pole and comes down like a flash. The premises are plumbed for gas and water throughout in the most thorough manner, and fitted up with steam-heating apparatus in every part. Chief Hafey's room is an elegant apartment, luxuriously carpeted, and hung with fine pictures, conspicuous among which is a handsome crayon drawing of the chief himself.

Taken altogether Engine House No. 1 is a credit to the city and a pride to the department. It is said to be without any exception the finest engine house in the State. The total cost of the structure will not fall short of $30,000. Chief Hafey may congratulate himself upon having a corps of assistants whose efficiency is fully in keeping with their equipment. Capt. J. A. Pyke has charge of the Silsby engine and Capt. Johnson runs the chemical.

Well Worth Seeing.

It is a pretty sight, and is as well inspiring, to see the way horses are hitched to Duluth fire engines and hose carts when an alarm of fire is turned in. An electric button is touched; the stable doors fly open, the horses at the sound of the bell come rushing out and gallop to their places, where the harnesses are suspended above them, ready to drop at the touch of the same fluid, and in less than six seconds from the sound of the alarm they are ready for business. When the harnesses are unbuckled each horse remains in place till his name is called by the stableman, he then wheels and trots swiftly back to his stall, each remaining perfectly still till the other is in place and his name called. A practice of this kind is had every evening at 8 o'clock, and is well worth a visit.

A Blaze of Light.

The electric lights in the new Masonic lodge room will be arranged in the shape of the Masonic emblem. In the theater there will be four immense electroliers, each containing eighteen lights. In addition to these there will be innumerable lights, which will be arranged in rows, stars and clusters. The work of lighting will be done by the Duluth Electric Light and Power company, and wiring clamps alone cost several thousand dollars.

THE DAY IN THE CITY.

The repairs to the fire department steamer are now complete and Chief Hafey is looking for an engineer to run it. The test yesterday at Dacey's Boiler works, where the repairs were made, was perfectly satisfactory.

The Episcopal Sunday school picnic has been postponed to next Tuesday on account of rain.

A number of Duluth's young society people attended the Trades carnival at West Superior last night, given by the Methodist church of that place.

The Bethel ice cream sociable will be postponed till Friday evening next. An attractive musical program is to be prepared for the occasion.

There will be a mass temperance meeting this evening in Odd Fellows hall under the auspices of the Father Mathew Total Abstinence society. All are cordially invited.

GALA CIRCUS DAY.

Coming of the Forepaugh Show and the Wild West Combined.

There are really only two large shows in America. The first is Adam Forepaugh's, which will visit Duluth Friday, August 9, with its triple ring circus, double menagerie combined with the national wild west. It will be the only big tented exhibition that will visit Duluth this season, and this combined with the fame of Forepaugh, will insure a profitable engagement. The press is unanimous in its praise of the "Great and only original Wild West," which in conjunction with the circus, grand central stage, dual menagerie and hippodrome racing will be given August 9. It must always be a source of satisfaction when an audience gets an equivalent for its money; but when the performance gets out of the established rut of the average circus, and develops into a series of novelties an audience must become enthusiastic. This seems to be the effect wherever the Forepaugh show has been this season.

It be would impossible to particularize all the features of this show, but a few are: The three Eugenes, famous Parisian gymnasts, whose wonderful act in mid-air has never been equalled; M'lle Tournaire, whose balancing act on the trapeze, compels admiration; Orrin Hollis, the English somersault bareback rider; Julia Lowande, equestrine, and a hundred other arenic stars. Adam Forepaugh, Jr.'s act of driving thirty horses at headlong speed along the race track; this young trainer's grandest achievement, "Eclipse," the trapeze-leaping pony; "Blondin," the rope-walking horse; the herd of dancing, fighting and pyramid elephants, and the picturesque exhibition of the "Wild West" by Indians, scouts and cowboys. The marvellous shooting of Dr. Carver, the world's champion rifle shot, is alone a feature.

NOW IS THE TIME

For a Person of Moderate Means to Lay the Foundation of a Fortune

Or secure, at a Very Small Expense, a HOME for himself and family by taking advantage of the Remarkably Low Prices of Lots in CROSLEY PARK.

In a few years this will all be high-priced residence property, and the great advance in values will be but the repetition of the rise in prices of suburban property of all our large cities. No honest, industrious man is too poor to buy a lot. For a few days longer we can sell lots at from $50 to $250 each on the Easy Payment Plan. As there is no interest or deferred payments, and no taxes to pay till May, 1891, the advance in value will be clean profit. These lots are a Great Speculation, and are as good for the heavy buyers as for the poor.

WITH THE HARVESTERS.

A Resume of the Situation in the Golden Wheat Fields.

Market and Stock Notes and News of a Dull Saturday.

MINNEAPOLIS, July 27.—The wheat crop is being harvested. Under the favorable weather conditions that have prevailed during the past ten days the grain has ripened more rapidly than was anticipated, but at the same time it suffered none in the ripening. In the central and northerly portion of Minnesota cutting wheat began early in the week and will be general before the end of next week. In the corresponding section of south Manitoba there has also been some grain cut. In the more northern countries and in the Red River valley harvest has not begun, but in the valley, especially around Grand Forks, grain is nearly ready for the sickle and harvesting will begin Monday. In southern Minnesota and South Dakota harvest is general and in some sections is nearly over.

With a portion of the grain in the shock reports from out all parts of the Northwest are fully as favorable as a week ago, and from sections where the wheat was supposed to have been nearly destroyed, there are now reports of a yield. The weather has been all that could be desired for wheat growth and in the northern fields where wheat is still in the dough this has been of benefit to. Estimates of two-thirds of a crop for North Dakota, a good half crop for South Dakota and an average crop for Minnesota are apparently not far out of the way. South Dakota may go better than this estimate, for reports from several sections show the yield is better than was anticipated. The predictions are made with the promise that the present favorable conditions will prevail until the grain is harvested and out of harm's way. Extreme heat or an early frost would hurt the grain that is still in the dough.

Local Market.

Old wheat broke off four cents today, while new stuff has been steady. Owners of July are getting down to business. Trading was principally in September at yesterday's closing quotations. For the Military Band.

The suggestion in The Herald last night that something practical be done for Walker's band, has borne quick fruit. The article was clipped fron The Herald and made the heading of a paper, with these words added:

We, the undersigned, agree to pay monthly the amount set opposite our names towards the development and support of the above named organization, "Walker's Military Band," provided, the membership of said band is kept at an efficient standard, and a public concert given at least once a week.

This paper may be found at the office of Osbourne & Frazer, 207 West Superior street, and ought to receive the signatures of business men generally.

An Electrical Shower.

Commencing at 4:30 this morning Duluth and vicinity was visited by one of the heaviest electrical and rain storms of the year. The rain fell in torrents and just before 6 o'clock the thunder and lightning was incessant. Several houses in different parts of the city were struck, a chimney in a new house on Seventh avenue west between Second and Third streets being demolished. The old Merchants pier was struck about 100 feet from the lake shore, and several other minor mishaps are reported. But little damage was done by the rain, which fell at a tremendous rate.

Men Still Out.

There appears to be no change in the situation at the coal docks. The men do not show any disposition to yield and the coal companies are equally firm not to grant the wages demanded. It is expected, however, some solution of the difficulty will be arrived at before Monday morning. It had been decided to draw off the police today, as the men are perfectly peaceable, but those at work were extremely solicitous that police protection be still given them. Hence police are at their quarters as heretofore.

RAILWAY OFFICIALS HERE

Chairman Harris, of Northern Pacific, in Duluth Today,

And Other Railway Men Came Also---Their Views on the West.

Robert Harris, chairman of the board of the Northern Pacific road, and John C. Bullitt, director of the company, both of New York city, arrived in Duluth this morning from the East. Mr. Harris holds the most important official position in the Northern Pacific company and represents, through it, millions of dollars, besides being extremely wealthy himself. "I am here that I may speak intelligently in future conferences with our people regarding our movements here," said Mr. Harris to a Herald reporter; and from the pregnant meaning of that sentence can be evolved some idea of the position that Duluth occupies in the minds of the directors and officers of the great coast line. The gentlemen have two private cars. Mr. Bullitt is on his way to the coast, where he will embark for a trip to Alaska, returning next month. He left this afternoon by special for Tacoma and Seattle.

"You have the beginning for a great city," said Mr. Bullitt, as he stood on Railroad street near the Duluth boat house and surveyed the busy harbor and docks and looked to the northeast where many massive piles of brick showed their broad heights. "You have all of Chicago's former possibilities, with none of her present disadvantages. Away to the west stretches miles and miles of virgin territory, just in the childhood of development. When this country is settled Duluth's greatness will have only one parallel, New York."

Duluth is becoming such a factor in Northern Pacific business that Mr. Harris' visit here is in a sense obligatory. "I could not speak," said he "or act intelligently in certain important matters that will come up for discussion at our meetings, unless I had a personal knowledge of Duluth and its surroundings; therefore I am here. Yes, this city has a remarkably healthy look in a business way, and in a sanitary sense too, for that matter. I cannot tell you what we may do here in the way of improvement. That is something that will come up at the New York meetings on my return.

"That big hill, there, enhances, rather than detracts from the value of the place; it certainly makes a picturesque view not to be equalled in any city. All you need is cable lines to make that property some of the most valuable in the city, but you will have them. They will be a necessity in a short time more, if your phenomenal growth continues."

Here the reportorial questioning closed, and for the next half hour the newspaper man was kept busy answering questions regarding the growth, business and wealth, etc., of the city. "I told you when you first met us that we'd get more information out of you than you would out of us," laughed Mr. Harris, as he boarded his car for West Superior. He will return to Duluth this evening and remain until tomorrow night.

JOHN B. Hawley, general attorney of the Fremont, Elkhorn & Missouri Valley road, part of the Northwestern system, is in the city today with his family.

Notice will probably be received here soon of a change in Duluth, South Shore and Atlantic freight rates to meet a reduction in through rates.
